NOTICE !

A few words of kindness, and a warning to parents of children in Mt. Lake Park, who maliciously destroyed several gardens on Sunday morning.

I regret calling this vandalism to your attention, but it seems to me that parents are, in some measure, to blame. Children, with their parents should be at Sunday School and church on Sunday morning. Don't just send them, go with them. Children who attend Sunday School, are seldom found in court.

Citizens say that they no longer can leave their property and not feel that when they return it will not be defaced in some manner. The burden is on the parents of these malicious children, and unless this vandalism is curbed, they will surely find themselves in court with their offspring.

Churches and their pastors always welcome people to their services and Sunday Schools; and there is no excuse why parents with their children should not attend. Make your house a home for your children not a den for thieves.

Recently a bulldozer doing some work for the town was tampered with and some of the parts removed.

It is the sincere intention of the Mayor and Town Council to deal severely with these hoodlums and their parents. This indifference to the property rights of others must be stopped, if we are to make Mt. Lake Park a decent and respectable place to live.

The Mayor and Town Council of Mt Lake Park plead for your earnest cooperation.

C. C. MASON, Mayor

Capital Comment

By JOHN R. FOLEY
Congressman, 6th District

On Tuesday, August 4th, the House was scheduled to debate the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1959. Efforts are being made to establish a procedure to debate only the Elliott Committee bill, and the Griffin and Perkins substitute bills. Under the planned procedure, no amendment would be permitted to any bill. Votes would be taken on accepting or rejecting the individual bills. Last year the Kennedy-Ives proposal failed to pass in the House. In adopting internal union management legislation, the Federal government will be moving into a new field. Until now, the problem of rooting out corruption and racketeering influences that have weakened and destroyed unions has been a matter for the unions and the state courts to solve.

Fair and effective Federal law will help union members eliminate all persons who would use union membership as a license to steal. Congressional hearings have been focusing on this problem for the past five years.

Since you and your family will, in the future, be directly affected by the results of the Potomac River Survey now being made by the Corps of Engineers up-to-date information is in order. The Corps' surveyors reached Brunswick the first week of July. The next year will be spent in the area between Washington and Harper's Ferry. For Fiscal Year 1959, there were $400,000 in Federal appropriations for this project. The appropriations to date, total cost, and balance remaining are as follows:

Appropriations F. Y. 1958 $140,-030.50. F. Y. 1959 $260,000.50. F. Y. 1960 $400,000.00

Total Estimated Cost $1,457,900.00

Total Appropriations to Date $540,000.00.

Balance Needed for Future Years $710,030.99

On April 28, 1958 Col. George P. Sumner, District Engineer, testified that "we will not finish the study in 1961."

On August 12th I am scheduled to appear before the General Education Sub-committee of the House Committee on Education and Labor to testify against H. R. 7441, which would limit and reduce Federal aid to schools in Federally-affected areas. I am strongly opposed to this legislation because it would be a severe blow to Montgomery, Frederick and Washington County schools.

Our C & O Canal National Historical Park Bill has been reported favorable by the House Interior Committee. The Committee Report (No. 682) was printed on July 16th. Chairman Aspinall has requested a hearing from the House Rules Committee.

In addition the club has improved the boy scout camp on Deep Creek Lake, spending $3,-234.57 on materials and supplies. Additional money will be spent there.

The Lions club receives its funds to operate through its annual show, its broom and fruit cake sales. The club also supports other drives including polio, clothing, heart, Little League, and others.

The late L. W. Hardesty reunion will be held August 9 at the Community Building, Aurora, W. Va.

Emergency March of Dimes Appeal Made

The necessity of an emergency March of Dimes appeal was announced this week by Mrs. William Harman, chairman of the Garrett county chapter of the National Foundation. Mrs. Harman said the local chapter had exhausted its funds while aiding three paralytic polio victims and said that "unless additional funds are forthcoming, polio patients in this county may be stranded without hospitalization, physical therapy and equipment necessary for their recovery." In addition she said the money allocated to the County Health department for the Salk vaccine shots would have to be curtailed.

She announced the emergency appeal in the county from the middle of August to the middle of September, dates to be definitely announced soon. Contributions to the emergency appeal are to be sent to Charles L. Briner, campaign director, at Oakland.

An accounting of the funds of the county chapter since August 23, 1958, showed the following: Monongahela General hospital, Morgantown, for Sharon Turney, $356.20; ambulance service to children's hospital for Sharon treatment, $115, due on repair work for braces for Danny Friend, $12; special transportation to Children's hospital for Carolyn Uphold, $20; expenses in polio drive, $4.58; children's hospital for Carolyn Uphold, $80, $541.86, $523.80, $261.90, crutches for Uphold $2.50, total, $1,957.84.

Mr. Briner said the chapter had kept $267.71 from the March of Dimes drive in January; there was paid $585.95 to county health department for Salk Vaccine shots. He said that at present the chapter owed $276.90 to the Children's hospital, Baltimore, and $400 to the health department for use of the vaccine in 1959, and braces totaling $2, for the total of $678.90. Cash on hand amounted to $116.29, leaving a balance owing of $562.61.

All monies received in the emergency drive will stay in the county, Mr. Briner estimated the county chapter would need about $1,500 before next January.

One of the patients, Carolyn Uphold, shown in the picture, will be 14 years old this month. Her mother is widowed, having lost her husband and two sons when they were drowned in Cherry Creek inlet of Deep Creek Lake in 1915. The girl is much improved over a year ago.

Water Supply - - - - -

Oakland received relief from the water shortage during the week—but it is only temporary. Thanks are duly expressed to the Mt. Lake Water company for sharing its surplus with the county seat.

The fact that it is possible for such a thing to be done is a cause for some optimism among a number of the townspeople and also some residents of Mt. Lake Park.

Oakland at the present time is suffering from a lack of water. Its distribution system is fine—but there is not enough water available to put through the lines. The city council of Oakland has been contemplating piping water from the Youghiogheny river through a filtration plant, and thence into the water mains. This would necessitate considerable treatment. The waters of Snowy creek empty into the Yough above where Oakland would tap this source. All the water from Hopemont sanitarium empties into this creek, and although it goes through a filtration plant of its own before flowing into the river, the thought is not pleasant.

The City Council is making plans to spend $500,000 for this new water supply. We are inclined to agree, along with a number of Oakland citizens, that we should exhaust every possible source of pure mountain water before heading for the river.

There is the possibility of obtaining surplus water from Mt. Lake Park. The water system at the Park suffers from the lack of adequate distribution. The mains carrying the water from the Landon dam are apparently not large enough to carry all the water there is to Mt. Lake Park customers. Consequently the pressure is not too strong. Not too much water seems to be flowing through the temporary hook-up with the Oakland system, although several thousand gallons have been obtained in this manner. With a larger main line, it might be possible to obtain a booster supply for Oakland.

But Mt. Lake Park water company officials feel there is not enough basic supply there to make this a permanent arrangement. However, there is the Broadford stream, and the stream in the vicinity of the Wonderly farm, near Loch Lynn. The lake at Mt. Lake Park has excellent possibilities. Surely there are other places where mountain water could be tapped. A whole lot less than $500,000 would lay a lot of pipe to some mountain source and make a minimum of filtration expense.

There would be no comparison in taste between mountain spring or well water and water coming from the Youghiogheny river. We know how unpalatable river water is that supplies other towns, even though it may be free of germs.

To us, good, clean, cool mountain water is as valuable an asset to the mountain top as our clean, cool air.

The Baltimore and Ohio doesn't depend on Baltimore for the water it uses on its trains. It obtains a supply daily from the Deer Park Boiling Spring.

Maybe a huge open reservoir to catch the supply from

Southern Hi Ready For Start of Term

Satisfactory progress toward the opening of school for the fall term was reported today by Kenneth Johns, principal.

He reported that except for a few minor painting projects, the custodians had placed the school in "A-number one condition." Mr. Johns praised Frank Mulliken, head custodian, and the cleaning women who had assisted earlier in the summer.

New textbooks and supplies are arriving every day, Mr. Johns indicated. As reported several weeks ago, over $3000 worth of textbooks for use in the high school here were ordered. Included in this sum are 250 English books, 170 history books and 275 mathematics books. An additional thousand dollars is being spent for library books.

All teaching positions are not yet filled. Norman Smith, industrial arts teacher, recently resigned to accept a position in Montgomery County. Mr. Johns reported that Mr. Smith would receive $1600 increase in salary.

Schools will re-open Sept. 2nd.

Plans Complete For Rotenoning Project At Lake

Will Take Place In Three Coves Of Lake Early In September

Plans for the rotenoning of Hoop Pole cove in Deep Creek Lake have been completed it was announced by fish management officials. It is scheduled to take place on Wednesday, September 9. Approximately 60 acres of this arm of Deep Creek Lake will be treated, using powered derris root at the rate of 1.35 pounds per acre-foot.

Purpose of the project is to determine whether the management program instituted in 1956 has had any effect on the population of fishes, and further understanding of the ecology of the lake.

As a check on results two other areas will be rotenoned at about the same time. These are Poland Run, an area between North Glade and Green Glade, an area more shallow than Hoop Pole, cove, and Red Run, a deeper area.

When Hoop Pole cove was rotenoned in 1955, 5,000 pounds of fish were collected.

This is a cooperative project involving the Department of Game and Inland Fish, the Department of Research and Education, and the organizations around Deep Creek Lake. Directing the project will be Edwin M. Barry, Harold J. Elser, Helmuth Heise and Ray Keener.

Mr. Elser, of the Department of Research and Education, said that some forty volunteers would be needed, some with boats and some without boats. People interested are to contact Mr. Heise.

All workers and officials are to meet at Thayer's Barn for a final briefing session on Tuesday, September 8, at 7 p. m.

The schedule for the group includes rotenoning of Hoop Pole early September 9, rotenoning of Red Run September 10, and rotenoning of Poland Run September 11. Mr. Elser said the schedule on the 9th and 10th would be followed regardless of weather conditions.

Early in 1960 there is to be a meeting of biologists and management men to decide whether Deep Creek management is to continue along present lines.

The stocking records since 1956 show the following: in 1956 there were stocked 1,151 chain pickerel averaging 18" 357 walleyes, 660 pounds) 6 or 8 northern pike, 809 striped bass, 20,000 brook trout. fingerlings; 3,000 rainbow trout.

In 1957 2,221 striped bass, 723 chain pickerel, 256 walleyes, 50,000 rainbow trout.

In 1958, 346 chain pickerel, 910 walleyes, 968 striped bass, 350 northern pike, 810,000 northern pike eggs.

In 1959, 275 chain pickerel, 300 northern pike, 600,000 northern pike eggs, 300,000 walleye, and 20,000 brook trout.

Elser said that it had been discovered that chain pickerel reproduce successfully in Deep Creek Lake, and that northern pike eggs will survive and grow.

He was picked up recently at Cumberland and is being held for action of the September term grand jury.

A preliminary hearing was held for Charles Baker on a bad check charge, and he was being held under $1,000 bond for his appearance before the Circuit court. The charge was brought by the Garrett National Bank, for a check written last November.

Walter Schade, of Irwin, Pa., was also fined $25 and costs during the week on a charge of operating a motor boat at night without lights. Fifteen dollars of the fine was suspended by Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney.

Bids Being Sought On Flood Program

Bids are being sought for construction of an eastern dam one mile east of Deer Park, on the Little Youghiogheny river. An advertisement to this effect appeared in The Republican last week.

Bids are to be opened Wednesday, August 26, at 10 a. m., by the Soil Conservation district. The project is the first of eight impoundments designed to provide flood protection for Oakland.

Major items of work will consist of clearing 12 acres of land and clearing and grubbing of another 18 acres. There will be 1,508 cubic yards of excavation for flood water detention structure and 427 cubic yards of draining ditch excavation. The project will require 112,250 cubic yards of earth fill, 576 cubic yards of filter material, 73 cubic yards of three types of concrete. Some 4,765 pounds of steel reinforcement will be necessary in addition to corrugated metal pipe, and other material.

The site may be inspected next Tuesday or Wednesday, August 18 and 19. The work must be completed in 350 days, but will not be done from December 1 through May 14.

Accountancy Expert To Address Rotary

Willard J. Graham, professor of accountancy, and director of the executive program School of Business Administration at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, will be the speaker at the regular meeting of the Oakland Rotary club on Friday evening.

Mr. Graham has been director of the program since 1952 and prior to that held the same dual position at the University of Chicago. He has been editor of Accountancy Series of Richard D. Irwin, Inc., of Chicago since 1935, and was president of the American Accountancy association in 1955. He has written several books and numerous articles on accountancy and related business subjects.

A full page article appearing in the Journal Sentinel, a Sunday publication at Winston-Salem, N. C., concerned the speaker on the subject "Why Top Executives Go Back to School."

The Rotary program is in charge of Paul B. Naylor, who is program chairman for the month.

Elected To All-Stars

Cynthia Nace and Tom Magruder, two Garrett county 4-H'ers, were among those selected to become 4-H All-Stars, at a consecration ceremony at College Park last week during 4-H club week.

Both have been active in 4-H club work over the past several years. The former is a resident of Oakland, while the latter resides near Barton.

Lions Arrange Dinner

Lions club committees are at work arranging for the chicken barbecue dinner being served at the County Fair today and Saturday.

Lewis R. Jones is chairman of the serving committee and he has a list of fourteen members for each day. James McHenry is chairman of the committee setting up the area for the barbecue and serving, while H. R. Gibson heads the barbecue committee. In charge of the barbecue pit is Delbert Gnegy. Dinners are being served for $1.50.

Receipts are to be used by the club for sight conservation for the county's needy children.

Firemen Take Steps To Maintain Safety

The Oakland Fire department has taken steps to maintain adequate fire protection despite the prolonged water shortage, according to Harold Schell, chief.

In a statement this week he pointed out some of the emergency measures adopted.

Schell said, through the cooperation of the town officials and employes, water reserves had been created at a number of strategic locations, including the damming of Wilson Run at Fourth street and a temporary pool near the Garrett National Bank.

Paul Riley, local petroleum products dealer, has given the company a 1600 gallon capacity tank, Schell said, which has been mounted on a truck chassis secured from Ralph Pritts, and is kept filled in event of fire.

Other recent purchases include a portable pump to be used to secure water from ponds and streams, and much additional hose should a source of water be located some distance from a fire.

Schell pointed out that it was the intent of the department to avoid using the town's regular supply in case of emergency, and to make the organization as self-sufficient as possible so far as water supply was concerned.

He commented on the absence of fires this summer and urged the citizens to continue to exercise caution during the dry period.

Decries Destruction Of Highway Signs

Attention was directed this week by the County Roads department to the great amount of destruction and damage to the County's road markers being done by vandals

Darrell Wotring, county roads supervisor, said he would like to make taxpayers conscious of the thousands of dollars of expense each year because of the thoughtlessness of a number of individuals.

Signs are being shot full of holes, bent and twisted out of shape until they are no longer fit for use, and some are even being stolen outright, Wotring said.

He pointed out that most of the warning signs, stop signs, notice of curves, etc., all 24 by 24 inches, cost about $12.50 to replace He said some 200 or 300 had been replaced within the past two years and that several hundred still are along the roads that need replacing.

He cited that any person convicted of malicious destruction of property was subject to a year in prison and $500 fine. He hoped that when people realized the great expense involved in replacement that there would be some improvement in the situation.

Wotring observed that recently the County Commissioners had approved the placing of a number of road signs throughout the county indicating the name of the road and the number, so that visitors would be able to find their way to their destination. He said the Deep Creek center particularly had been wanting this identification for tourists and for police protection. Wotring felt it would be unwise to spend much money for road signs until people were educated as to the need and conscious of the loss when the laws against destruction of property were disobeyed so flagrantly

Will Induct Four

Four persons will be inducted into the armed forces on Tuesday, August 18, it was announced by the local Selective Service board. The four will go to the induction station at Fairmont, W. Va.

The four listed for induction are Richard Eugene Leighton, Oakland; Darrell Wayne Baker, Oakland; Edward Eli Sollars III, Deer Park, and Warren Eugene Bittner, Deer Park.

3rd Annual Fair Now Underway

Miss Joyce Haenftling, Accident, Named Farm Queen; Big Parade Tonight

The third annual Garrett County Fair was in full swing this week with exhibits and activities apparently far ahead of last year.

H. G. Gortner, president, said there were 472 exhibitors and that there were at least 2,000 exhibits. More display space was in use than last year, and Gortner said the quality appeared to be better. He said the Fair officials considered the exhibits as outstanding.

Exhibitors last year totaled 342 as compared with 245 for the first year.

Named Farm Queen

Miss Joyce Haenftling, Accident, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Haenftling, was selected as Garrett County Farm Queen on Tuesday evening in a contest conducted by the Associated Women of the Garrett County Farm Bureau. She was crowned by Donald Newman, of Grantsville, and Alice Vitez served as crown-bearer. Florence Emory, of Bittinger, was runner-up.

Miss Haenftling is a junior student at Northern High school and is a member of the North Star 4-H club. She will compete for state honors later this month. Miss Sue Hershberger, last year's county farm queen who went on to become the State Farm queen, was present for Tuesday night's event which was witnessed by a large number of people.

Wednesday was Children's Day. There was judging of indoor exhibits, senior dairy, 4-H and FFA dairy products. A pet show was held in the afternoon and ponies were judged in the evening. The first of two fireworks displays was shown. A greased pig catch was scheduled at 8 o'clock.

Parade Tonight

Today is Farm and City day. Judging of all entries will be completed including 4-H and FFA senior beef, sheep, swine, horses and baby beef.

The farmers parade will be held at 6:30 this evening. Stoney Roberts and his All-American daredevils will present their show.

A tractor contest is scheduled for Friday afternoon from 1 to 2 o'clock, plus Joe Smiley's Illusion act in the evening. The second fireworks display will be on that evening also.

A horse pulling contest is scheduled for Saturday afternoon in addition to a baby beef sale at 8 p. m.

The Eddie Benedict show featuring range riders and the Kendall Sisters will be presented on Saturday only.

During the week there will be a free act by Capt. MacDonald, and Frankie's Amusements are on the grounds for the entire week.

Hears From Vice-President

Mike Naylor, editor of The Oakland Post, a 6 by 8-inch newspaper published weekly, recently had a letter from Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

It appears that one of Naylor's subscriptions goes to the advertising firm of Bozell and Jacobs in Chicago. The firm does work for Mr. Nixon and when he was in the office one day he happened to spy the Oakland Post on the manager's desk. It contained an editorial which boosted Mr. Nixon for the Republican nomination for president. In due course of time came a letter of thanks from the vice president. Mike is about ten years old.

Lutheran Churches Of Mt. Top Area Ready For Mission

A concerted effort will be made to fill the Lutheran churches of the Mountain Top area at special services scheduled every day, August 23 to 28. This evangelism mission will be similar to the one conducted two years ago, and thirteen Lutheran pastors from a five state area will come to the Mt. Top that week as special missioners for the thirteen Lutheran churches that will participate in the evangelistic effort.

Two services are designed to bring the entire group together. An opening rally will be held in St. John's church at Davis, W. Va., on Sunday evening, August 23, at which time the Rev. Frederick P. Eckhardt, pastor of St. John's church, New York city, will speak. The Rev. James R. Stephenson, pastor of St. Mark's church, Clarksburg, W. Va., will be the liturgist.

An area choir will sing two anthems, "Lord, Thee I Love With All My Heart," by Bach and "Give Ear Unto My Prayer," by Arcadelt. Members of the area choir held a practice session Tuesday evening at the Red House church and will return there next Tuesday for their final rehearsal. Rally organist is Miss Ethel Gail Kesner, Accident, with the Rev. John W. Kline, Bittinger, as choir director.

A closing rally is set for Northern High school gymnasium on Friday evening, August 28, at which the Rev. Dr. Lawrence G. Himmelman, president of the Pittsburgh Synod, United Lutheran Church in America, will speak. Liturgist will be the Rev. David E. Fetter, Salisbury, Pa.

The area choir will sing two an-

Temporary Relief Is Obtained On Supply Of Water

Gets Needed Boost From Mt. Lake Water Company

Oakland has received a temporary boost in the water supply—thanks to the Mt. Lake Water company, but water users were being cautioned this week not to grow careless.

Oakland municipal officials conferred with the owners of the Mt. Lake Water company last week and reached an agreement for temporary assistance. Workmen placed several hundred feet of line between the Dennett Road school, outpost of the Oakland water mains, and the Mt. Lake water line near the home of Emile Germain, most eastern outpost of that corporation, and turned mountain water into the Oakland water mains.

An immediate improvement was noted, according to Henry W. McComas, chairman of the water committee. Thus far the additional water from the Mt. Lake Park supply has not endangered the supply for that town, and it has given Oakland a boost in the water pressure that has given every citizen of the town an adequate amount for personal use.

The ban still remains on using water for sprinkling lawns or washing automobiles or for any other unnecessary purpose, or for furnishing any industrial users with an additional amount.

In the meantime John Brenneman moved his well drilling rig to the Bradley farm, just west of Oakland, where drilling operations began this week, in an effort to obtain some permanent improvement in the water supply. The town's wells continued to supply a daily amount below what is normally used by the citizens.

Mr. McComas, in seeking assistance on the proper course to take, received a letter from Joseph T. Singewald, head of the Department of Mines and Water Resources which indicated the best place to drill for water was at the west edge of the town. Singewald regarded the Jennings formation, which lies to the east of town, as

Tim Coss Winner Of Men's Singles

Tim Coss, of Washington, seeded No. 1, used his usual steady game Saturday to beat Fred McNair, of Chevy Chase 6-2, 6-4, for the men's title in the Western Maryland Tennis championships held on the Mt. Lake Park courts It was Coss' first year in the tournament.

He has held top spot in the Middle Atlantic area for the past two years. McNair, outstanding volley man, has been a winner at Mt. Lake Park on previous occasions. He was ranked second in the tournament.

The usual three out of five sets for championship had to be changed on account of the weather, to the best two out of three, and other matches scheduled for Saturday afternoon were postponed until Sunday because of rain.

Sunday afternoon Charlotte Decker, Washington, won the women's singles title by defeating Martha Reeves, of Wheeling, 6-2, 6-2. Earl Brown and Fred McNair, Washington, won the men's doubles events over Jack Eaton and Joe Short of Pittsburgh. The scores were 4-6, 9-7, 6-4 Sosie Hublitz, last year's women's singles winner, who was prevented from playing in the championship because of an infected ear, entered the doubles events and teaming up with Mrs. Don Flovd, won over Dottie Smith and Marge Mautz, of Washington, 6-2, 6-3.

Reluctant Debutante Is Next Week's Play

"The Reluctant Debutante", by William Douglas Home, is the play to be offered next week at the Garrett County Playhouse. It will be the seventh play of the series and will be presented Tuesday through Saturday, August 18 to 22.

A similar play enjoyed successful runs in New York and London and made a movie starring Rex Harrison and Ray Kendall, John Saxon and Sandra Dee.

The balance of this week "Arsenic and Old Lace" is being presented, which is described as a Victorian-flavored potpourri of murder, mishap and mayhem. Attendance this week has been good.

Review of The Play

This is it—this is the well written melodrama that provides the best evening's entertainment you or anyone else can find at a summer theatre. This is one of those shows that was destined to be good. None the less it pays to be careful when the Brewster sisters pass the elderberry wine during the course of the saga of the fruitcake which is being presented this week at the playhouse. Actually this is a rather facetious reference to "Arsenic and Old Lace", the story of the various Brewsters. A wackier collection of assorted fruits and nuts cannot be found elsewhere than in a piece of holiday sweetmeat.

The comedy melodrama "Arsenic and Old Lace" is one of the all time great New York hits, having had a run of over a thousand performances. In addition it has been successfully transferred to the motion picture screen as well as a TV showing.

It was Miss Dorothy Stickney, the wife of Howard Liudsay, who brought the manuscript of the play to the attention of her husband. This is the same Miss Stickuey who will appear at the playhouse the week of August 31.

To those who are not acquainted with "Arsenic and Old Lace"—suffice to tell you it is concerned with two lovely Victorian spinsters who have a penchant for assisting elderly males out of their somewhat mundane existence. This by means of administration of homemade elderberry wine rather stiffly laced with lethal alkaloids. They are assisted in this endeavor by a nephew who fancies himself Teddy Roosevelt. Mortimer, another nephew accidentally discovers the peculiarly macabre activities of these sisters Brewster. In the meanwhile Jonathan, the third nephew who resembles "you guess who", arrives on the scene with another stiff. The remainder of the play deals with the manner in which the bodys of these lamented persons are disposed of. Not to mention certain of the slightly unusual Brewsters heretofore referred.

This week it is somewnat difficult to single out any person to bestow individual accolades. Indeed we have a cast working well together and giving a well knit interpretation.

One must give credit where it is due, as follows:

As the two kindly disposed Brewster sisters we have Sai Springwell and Rebecca Singer. These charming ladies become delightfully pixilated and make Amy and Martha almost believable.

The three more important characters, and I do mean characters, are Cris Curran as Jonathan, Aza Stanton as Terry, and Burt Heyman as Dr. Einstein. All of these turned in better than average performances. Cris as Jonathan is quite sinister and malevolent. His make-up is must effective and his interpretation as the heavy of the piece could leave nothing more to be desired. Aza actually looks more like Teddy Roosevelt than did the illustrations of the President himself. At the risk of using a cliche, one must say he was a natural for the part. Never has San Juan Hill been charged with more fervor or determination. Burt Heyman manages to make Dr. Einstein a worthy associate of Jonathan.

The romantic interest is provided by Neil Flanagan and E. J. Peaker, and both contribute worthwhile characterizations as the more normal members of the assemblage.

In lesser important, though equally well studied roles, are Shelby Walthall, Gene Falcetta, Ray Caton, Sandy Holloway, George Spelvin and Ken Johns. All in all a good cast, on their toes, contributing equally well to the performance of an established American standard you are bound to enjoy.

We feel that Gene Yell and his group have not been receiving the support this summer that is due them from our permanent residents. Many nights there have not been as many filled chairs as there should be.

Unfortunately there seems to exist the somewhat strange idea Gene is making a substantial profit from the venture. This could not be more incorrect. Actually the operation of the playhouse is a labor of love on the part of the Yells. They could just as easily have a quiet vacation, but instead they feel, as does everyone else associated with the endeavor, that they are contributing something to the culture and the general betterment of the community and the county. Our local group can be stacked up against any similar summer theatre in the Eastern part of the United States. I have found no place where I can get as much for my money in the way of entertainment as can be obtained at The Garrett County Playhouse.

We have after this week two more shows and then Dorothy Stickney. Let Gene Yell know that Garrett County and its people appreciate what he is doing.

Again, be careful when the elderberry wine is passed.

thems, "Jesus, Priceless Treasure," by Bach; and "We Adore Thee," by Palestrina.

A pageant, "Look at Those Doors" by members of the area Luther League, will be presented prior to the Vesper service at Davis, at the first rally.

On Sunday morning, August 23, and on succeeding evenings, Monday through Thursday, there will be services in all area churches with the various missioners in charge.

These services are being offered as a concentrated effort on the part of the church to revitalize interest of its members in the need and importance of evangelism and to attract the unchurched. The entire program is designed to deepen the spiritual life of the area Lutherans. In most areas a pre-mission visitation to Lutheran homes has been underway this week and will continue through next week.

The missioners for the week include the following: The Rev. Manfred K. Bahmann, Grafton, for Accident; the Rev. Harold L. Hamm, Fairmont, for Cove; the Rev. Charles L. Lady, Kenmarock, Va., for Friendsville; the Rev. J. Malcolm MacDonald, Shenandoah, Pa., for Bittinger; the Rev. David Fetter, Salisbury, for Meadow Mountain; the Rev. Glenn A. Extent Of Rumors . . .

The extent to which rumors will spread became evident this week when it was reported around Terra Alta, W. Va., that Herrington Manor was not operating because of rattlesnakes. Nothing could be further from the truth.

Several weeks ago word was released from the Department of Forests and Parks that rattlesnakes were numerous in the county this year. This brought a rebuttal from E. W. Edams, member of the Oakland City Council, declaring snakes were not seen as a menace to tourists.

However, the story must have grown and grown, until this week when the closing deal was reported. We repeat—this is false. Herrington Manor is going full blast and no rattlers have been reported in that vicinity.

Gridders To Report For Practice Friday

Football practice at Southern High School is to get underway at 9.00 A. M., Friday, athletic director, Richard Travis announced today.

As announced last week, plans were made to give physical examinations on Thursday. However Mr. Travis indicated tht boys who were unable to be present at that time could still report Friday. Dr. Arthur Jones, county health physician, was to give the physical examinations.

Earl "Whitey" Adolfson, former coach of the Wirt County High School, at Elizabeth, W. Va., will assume head football coaching duties at the local school this year. Mr. Adolfson arrived in Oakland early this week and began setting up practice session plans.

He indicated pleasure at the large number of boys who indicated an interest in football last spring when a brief meeting was held during one of his visits to the school. He said that he hoped that all the boys who were present at that meeting would be reporting for practice. He also said that if there were any new students planning to attend Southern this year, they should also report for practice.

Southern will play a nine game schedule this year. Their opening game, usually played with Petersburg, the first week of school has been shifted to November 6. The administration and coaching staffs of both schools felt that the opening date of September 4 or 5 was entirely too early.

Southern will open its season with a home game against the Moorefield Yellow Jackets on Friday September 11 at 1:30 P. M. This will be one of two games to be played on school time this year.

Mr. Adolfson hopes to bring his wife and two children to Oakland the latter part of the month. They will reside on High Street just beyond the armory.

Gets Safety Award

David M. Marple, who has been employed by the C. and A. Gas company for the past fourteen years, was one of several company employes who received a safety award last week. He received an engraved ball point desk set, presented by Robert J. Boyd, area supervisor.

A safety record matching anything in the natural gas industry was recently set by employes in the gas measurement department. They completed ten years of work without a disabling injury of any kind. The mark involved over one million manhours without a lost-time accident. The employes drove over seven million miles, 14,000 per year per man, in setting the record. The department operates and maintains 4,000 meters at measuring stations in five states.

Temporary Relief

the poorest prospect, with the Hampshire formation on the west as the best. The abandoned gas well on the Hamill property east of town, was found not suitable and another gas well which had been abandoned on the Mussard property because of too much water, was tested last week-end but the output was not sufficient to make it worthwhile to place a pump in position.

Singewald said the best well in the northeast section of town was that dug originally by the town, but last year turned over to the hospital. The hospital now has adequate water for all purposes.

He said the town wells lying in the area west of the city limits are in the Pocono formation which have had large yields upon occasion but which are subject to large fluctuations in water levels due to low storage capacity and a large range in the rate of recharge.

Under disensssion has been the possibility of the town of Mt Lake Park and Oakland joining forces to achieve an adequate suppiy for both places. Mt. Lake Park is pictured as having plenty of water but with a restricted distribution system. Oakland has the distribution system but an inadequate supply of water. Some people are pointing out that it would be far less expensive to pay for new distribution lines in Mt Lake Park, making it possible for Oakland to get some of the surplus supply, than it would be to make a filtration system and lay a pipe line from the Youghiogheny river, two miles west of town, to augment the town's supply.

The use of the Youghiogheny river has been advocated by the Chester Engineers, Pittsburgh concern which made a survey of the Oakland watershed area this year. Mayor Russell Smith is said to favor the Youghiogheny river suggestion while members of the council feel every other possibility ought to be explored by the town before going to the river for its water supply. River water they say, ends up with a medicinal taste and is usually unpalatable.

As a result of the action of the Mt. Lake Water Co. in supplying water to the Town of Oakland, Theodore Stockslager, president of the company, announced this week that restrictions had been placed on users in the Park, requesting them to retrain from washing cars, sprinkling lawns or otherwise using water to excess until the current emergency period is over and Oakland's supply returns to normal.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT

Frequency May Mean Prostatic Enlargement

- Heredity vs. Heart Attacks
- Kidney Trouble

Q. Please discuss the trouble older men have with frequent trips to the bathroom. Is this caused by the prostate and if it continues will it damage the kidneys?—R.

A. Frequency in older men is often due to benign (non-cancerous) enlargement of the prostate with interference of bladder action. As the condition progresses, more and more urine remains in the bladder after voiding until finally there is more or less continued fullness. This favors infection of the bladder (cystitis) and the kidneys may become involved. Medical treatment is sometimes successful in the early stages of benign prostatic enlargement but the condition may progress to a point where surgery is necessary.

Q. Several members of my family have had heart attacks. Is this inherited or could it be due to improper diet?

A. The reader probably refers to a heart condition brought on by changes (atherosclerosis) in the arteries that feed the heart. The tendency to develop atherosclerosis (and thus have a "heart attack") seems to depend on an interplay between hereditary and environmental factors. If we inherit the tendency to develop atherosclerosis, the process might be checked by living a carefully regulated, stress-free existence. On the other hand, fat, rich foods and constant tension might, in some people, lead to atherosclerosis, even though the tendency to develop the condition had not been inherited.

Q. My mother's heart condition seems to get worse during summer months. Would air conditioning her room help?

A. Probably. Doctors at Tulane University School of Medicine, and Charity Hospital of Louisiana, New Orleans, La., ran tests on heart patients maintained under different conditions. It seems that the heart works harder during hot, humid weather; "rests" better when patients are kept in rooms where the temperature is cool and comfortable.

Receives Promotion

Lawrence A. Junkins, Jr., of the United States Marine Corps, has recently received a promotion to the rank of Gunnery Sergeant (E-7). At the present time Sgt. Junkins is stationed at Norristown, Pa., where he is the noncommissioned officer of the Marine Corps Recruiting Sub-Station. He resides in that area with his wife, the former Marie R. Shope from Baltimore. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Junkins, of near Red House.

Sgt. Junkins entered the Marine Corps in 1943 and was released from active duty in 1946. Remaining a member of the Reserve, while he was employed in the Oakland area, he was recalled to active duty in 1950 and has remained with the Marine Corps since that time. He has been assigned to various Marine Corps bases in the United States as well as having seen service in the Pacific during the Second World War and was in Korea during the 1956-58 period.

The rate Sgt. Junkins now has is the equivalent to the senior enlisted rate available in the service prior to 1959. However, with a revision of the rating system that was effective the first of January, it is now possible for an enlisted man to advance two additional rates to E-9. All advancements are made on a competitive basis according to the individual's abilities in leadership, technical knowledge and conduct and performance of his assigned duties.

Immediately prior to his assignment to recruiting duty, Sgt. Junkins was an instructor with the Engineer School Batallion at Camp LeJeune, N. C., where he was an instructor in various phases of plumbing and electrical installations and building construction.

Gortner Farm Has Good Soil Practices

H. G. "Gus" Gortner, Route 2, Oakland, president of the Garrett County Fair Association, is a charter enrollee of the Farming For Better Living program in Garrett County. Farming For Better Living is this year celebrating its twentieth anniversary even though it has been in effect for only twelve years in Garrett County. When Farming For Better Living was started twenty years ago, Gus Gortner was a meat cutter. He bought his farm in 1947, started a dairy, then switched to beef cattle, and now has a herd of quality Angus beef cattle.

His farm is a good example of how soil conservation practices can be carried out with farm ponds, tree planting, and fertilizing and liming. Farming For Better Living, Gortner says, has been an incentive to better farming in Garrett County. The recommendations for better farming have been proven, he points out, by the people attending the annual Farming For Better Living banquet. "If you recall from attending past county banquets," he recently told County Agent James A. McHenry, "you'll notice that each year the farmers look more prosperous and, if you can look back to the first banquet twelve years ago, you'd have difficulty recognizing many of them as the same people."

Handicap Hasn't Stopped Player

The mighty bat of Denver Sisler, former Crellin youth, was the subject of an article that appeared recently in a newspaper in Dearborn, Mich., along with a picture of the athlete who is one of the leading batters in a softball league in that city.

Sisler is a Dearborn postal employe. He is currently batting .348.

The writer, George Whitehead, tells how his hitting stems back to his childhood and tells of his handicap. Sisler has full use of only his left arm. The right arm was injured when he was three years old. The handicap was the result of a broken arm. Because the arm did not heal properly dry gangrene set in. The arm, along with being retarded in use, became much shorter than the left.

Sisler uses the handicapped arm only to steady the bat in preparation for the pitch. While the ball approaches the plate Sisler drops the right hand to his side and swings the bat only with his left. His fielding is also classified with the best in the league. Much of the time Sisler plays right field without a fielder's glove. But when playing against heavy hitters he uses the glove on his left hand. On catching the ball he quickly sheds the glove and fires the ball with his left hand into the infield.

Sisler played baseball, soccer and basketball for Oakland High school several years ago.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Wings for a journey...

Vacation time—a trip; magic words, excitement! We study a map, read travel books, and listen eagerly to others who have taken the same journey. We anticipate seeing new places, new people, and unusual things. The routine of everyday will be forgotten.

But sometimes a trip is impossible, and we must accept the hurry and anxiety of everyday living.

Then it is that we need to plan a journey of mind and spirit—one that can lift us out of the ordinary into peace and communion with our God—one that refreshes and strengthens.

For this journey we do not need an airplane. Instead, we use the powerful wings of prayer, of praise and trust.

Come to Church and find these wings of the spirit, not for a brief journey—but for all eternity.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Bible Material: Lamentations.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 30:1-5.

Steadfast Love

Lesson for August 16, 1959

WHY IS IT (some have asked) that we hear so much about the love of God in the New Testament, but in the Old Testament find his love seldom mentioned? The answer is, that it is all through the Old Testament too, occurring not less than 215 times. In the Hebrew original, that is. For centuries this fact was concealed from the English-speaking reader by translations which turned the Hebrew word into "mercy" or "kindness" or other words. It is now realized that the best way to translate that common word is "steadfast love," and it is so translated throughout the Revised Standard Version. It means something stronger than simply "love;" it expresses the enduring, persistent, patient and steadfast quality of God's love to man.

Dr. Foreman

Love Among the Ruins

People ask sometimes, What does the Bible tell us about God that other religions do not? Are not all religions worshipping the same God by different names? Of course the one greatest truth about God, which we find in the Bible and nowhere else, is that he is the God and Father of Jesus Christ. But long before Jesus was born, the Hebrews knew that God is a God of steadfast love. Other religions did not know this. That God is to be honored, worshipped, obeyed and feared, yes all religions knew that. But only the Hebrews knew the God who is Love.

It may be a surprise, but it is very like the whole Bible, that we should run across the same little word ("chesed" in Hebrew), in a very unpromising place, the book of Lamentations. This little "book" (8 pages long) lives up to its name; it is the most mournful book in the Bible. Well it may be; for it was written about the dreadful time after the downfall of Jerusalem, in the cruel hardships of defeat. Yet even here the "steadfast love" of God is felt and praised. Even among the ruins of a once fair city, the inspired poet does not give up his faith in the God of love.

New Every Morning

There is a wonderful thing about the love of God, which all those who know the true God realize, even when they do not understand it. That is, his love never grows stale. It is never, so to speak, a habit, it is always a surprise. Just at the moment of deepest discouragement, just at the very brink of fatal temptation, the inner Voice speaks, and joy and strength return again. God's love is the most surprising thing in the world. It is, as this poet of the Lamentations said, new every morning. We do not deserve it, we may give up counting on it—but there it is.

All God's saints, that is, those who have felt most deeply this divinely persistent and pervasive love, have discovered at some time or other, usually at some crisis, some time of trouble or of grief, that it is not on the sunniest days that God is most likely to make himself known.

No Heavenly Grandfather

The writer of Lamentations leaves with us a needed warning. It is easy to get a little too enthusiastic about the love of God. Many persons have felt so sure of it—and sure of God—that they felt now they had a license, so to speak, to do whatever they like. They think of God's love as something so sure and certain, so guaranteed, that nothing they do makes any difference to God. He is no longer a heavenly Father, in their sight, he becomes a heavenly grandfather. He is up there always ready with something specially nice for his favorite little ones. But the poet of the Lamentations knew better than that. In the downfall of his beloved city he sees the hand of God, a God who had endured the carelessness, disobedience and pride of his people till (to use Isaiah's word) he was tired of it. A father or mother, if they really love a child, will discipline the child when he needs it. A father who would never punish his son, no matter what, does not actually love him. It is because of God's love, not in spite of it, that he punishes us.

RABIES

The rabies problem in Garrett County is becoming more serious each week with additional positive cases being found. It is imperative that each and every individual be alert to the serious condition which exists and cooperate in a voluntary control. We ask that the following measures be observed:

1. Report any suspicious acting livestock, dogs or wild animals to authorities. If you have reason to believe that any animal has been exposed, report same to the County Commissioners' Office, Maryland Livestock Sanitary Service Laboratory or the Sheriff's Office IMMEDIATELY.
2. Control movement of dogs by license and leash. Eliminate strays.
3. Vaccinate dogs against Rabies. (Present vaccines are effective and safe.)
4. Control wild animals, especially foxes, as they are a reservoir for rabies.

HOME FIRST AID FOR ANIMAL BITES

As soon as possble, the bite wounds should be washed in soapy water. (Strong laundry soap or tincture of green soap are best.) Wash and soak the wound in this warm soapy water for as much as 20 minutes. It is important to remember that this is only a good home remedy, and the person bitten should contact his physician or health department as soon as possible.

HANDLING OF ANIMALS SUSPECTED OF HAVING RABIES

A dog, or other animal, suspected of having rabies (when no known exposures have occurred) should be impounded for observation for at least 24 hours.

With known exposure to people or animals, the animal should be impounded for 10 days. If no symptoms develop in that time the exposed person or animals need not take prophylactic treatment.

No dog having clinical symotoms of rabies should be killed unless there are positively no known exposures and it is imoossible to impound the dog without undue hazard to the person making the attempt to impound.

"Nine Tenths of Wisdom Consists Of Being Wise In Time"
— Author's Name Below —

Wisdom is the ability to judge the facts and do the right thing at the proper time. When you are sick, wisdom dictates that the time a cure can be more easily accomplished is at the very first sign of trouble. To delay gives an attacking germ or virus the opportunity to multiply and ravage your body.

At the very first sign of any illness, be wise. Consult your physician. Let him diagnose the cause and prescribe the proper medicines he judges will help you most. You will save much sickness-time and add years to your life.

Pictures Out Of The Past

Persons In Picture Still Unidentified

No one has come up with positive identification of the persons depicted in last week's old photograph, but a number were able to establish the date, the event and the locale.

The picture, showing what appears to be the beginning of a parade, was taken in 1920 in front of Henry Lauer's bakery on Second street in Oakland. The occasion was the first Labor Day parade in connection with the picnics subsequently sponsored by Garrett Lodge No. 143, Knights of Pythias. The automobile in the center is a Dodge, of unknown ownership.

This week's picture shows a group of youngsters at the Oakland railroad station awaiting the arrival of some particular train. Judging from the foliage, the season would be winter or very early spring. In the original photograph can be seen a sign on what is now the Rudy building, proclaiming, it is assumed, "Coffott's Big Store."

Who remembers the occasion or the date?

Weather Continues Favorable to Fishing

The weather has continued favorable for fishing in Deep Creek Lake and many anglers are taking advantage of the opportunity. Cecil C. Edwards, fish culturist assistant, said many fishermen have had and are continuing to have one of the most successful seasons of fishing on the lake in several years.

Many of the larger fish are being taken on "ABU" spinners and he said sales of this spinner have skyrocketed. He said also that many fish were being caught on "jitterbug" plugs as well as nightcrawlers, minnows and crayfish.

Mark Saltzer, McHenry, caught his first trout on a nightcrawler, a brown trout weighing four and one-half pounds and measuring 24 inches. It was caught in McHenry lake. Charles N. Taylor, Mercersburg, caught a 20-inch smallmouth bass of three pounds in Red Run cove.

Crayfish proved good bait for R. W. Schisler, Latrobe, and Delbert Nicholson. Each caught 17½ inch smallmouth near Holy Cross and Glendale bridge, still fishing from a boat on crayfish. Ray Strickler creeled a 13½ inch rainbow and two smallmouth bass measuring 19½ and 13 inches on minnows in Red Run area. R. W. Gruhbs, Pittsburgh, caught a 17-inch largemouth near Holy Cross; Clifford Popp, Belle Vernon, landed a 21-inch largemouth of about five pounds near Harvey's peninsula; T. R. Johnson, Morgantown, got 3 chain pickerel measuring 22½, 17 and 18 inches, in Hoop Pole cove, on live minnows.

Largest bass this week was caught in Shingle Camp cove by Curtis Matlick, Keyser, with jitterbug. It was 22 inches long and tipped the scales at 6½ pounds.

A 21-inch pike was caught near Johnny's Bait house by H. R. Brown, Cumberland and Linn Phillips, Pittsburgh, caught a 20½ inch pike near Deep Creek bridge Both were trolling with "ABU" spinners.

H. Bane, New Eagle, Pa., and Carl Holtschneider, Deer Park, also pulled in an 18½ inch walleye and 24 inch pickerel, a 16 inch walleye and a 14 inch smallmouth bass. Joan Kronse, Baltimore, landed a 17½ inch walleye near Red Run with a lure, and Harold Trickett, Oakland, got a 16-inch, two pound largemouth near the yacht club.

Edwards said most of these were checked at the Bait House or by the creel census survey man and were probably only a small part of the catches being made. He said some fish tags were being turned in and that several hundred more were tagged last Tuesday night by fish management personnel.

Tractors Feel Drought Effect

Unusually dusty working conditions, such as those that prevailed during the dry spell can seriously affect tractor and other farm power units. Dust can get into bearings, to wear them and score piston walls.

To avoid possible trouble, clean the oil filter, air cleaner and carburetor sediment bowl often. Guy W. Glenger, Extension Specialist Agricultural Engineering Department at the University of Maryland, points out that thousands of cubic feet of air are drawn through an engine and carburetor every day. Air cleaners must be kept clean and in good condition so that only clean air enters the cylinders.

The crankcase breathers pipe filter is important in keeping dust out of the oiling system, and if the engine has a separate oil line filter, this must also be checked more often when machines are used on dusty jobs.

Dust and grit are the biggest factors in engine wear. Frequent servicing of filters and air cleaners insures longer tractor life.

Machinery Upkeep Cheaper Than Fixing

It takes a lot less money and less time to keep machinery in good working condition by constant maintenance, oiling and adjustment than to make expensive repairs following break down.

Breakdowns at critical crop harvest time may cost more in crop and time loses than the most complete overhaul, observes Guy W. Gienger, Extension Specialist, Agricultural Engineering Department at the University of Maryland. Careful checking may disclose the beginning of a break in frame or casting before serious damage occurs and while repairs are still easily made.

Keeping the cutting edge of tools sharpened reduces fuel costs and speeds good work.

Take time to replace power take-off shields, the specialist urges. It may save you hospital bills or someone's life.

Keep bearings adjusted, belt tensions right, and friction points lubricated for efficient operation.

Use your operator's manual as a care and maintenance guide.

No. 4954 Equity in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree declaring absolute ownership of Military Lot No. 1756 to be vested in the complainants and that the heirs, devisees and personal representatives of Robert W. Raisin and Jacob Jeffers be enjoined from asserting any claim to said Military Lot. The Bill states:

That the complainants are in constructive and peaceable possession under color of title of Military Lot No. 1756 situate, lying and being in Election District No. 6, Garrett County, Maryland, which was conveyed to the said Charles A. Garrett by deed from Stuart F. Hamill dated September 8, 1927, and recorded in Liber R.L.D. No. 95, folio 534, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, certified copy of said deed being filed herewith marked "Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 1" and prayed to be taken as a part hereof; that the complainants have endeavored to convey said land but prospective purchasers therefor have denied and disputed the title of said complainants, that said Military Lot No. 1756 was originally distributed by the State of Maryland to one Pvt. Jacob Jeffers, a soldier in the Revolutionary War from Maryland. By deed dated September 11, 1865, and recorded in Liber 23, folio 326, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, one Joseph Jeffers and Ann Elizabeth Jeffers, his wife, purported to convey to Robert W. Raison said Military Lot No. 1756. That your orators have no knowledge if all the heirs of the said Jacob Jeffers joined in said deed; that neither the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, nor Garrett County, Maryland, disclose what disposition was made, if any, by said Robert W. Raisin, his heirs, devisees or personal representatives; that on October 16, 1958, a patent was issued by the State of Maryland for said Military Lot to Wright Thayer, he having made application to the Land Office of Maryland for said patent alleging that the owners thereof had died without heirs and that same escheated to the State of Maryland; that there is no action at law nor any proceeding in Equity pending to enforce or test the validity of the title to said Military Lot; that the contentions of prospective buyers of said Military Lot are without merit and constitute a cloud upon the title of your orators.

It is thereupon ORDERED this 12th day of August, 1959, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, that the plaintiffs by having a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 4th day of September, 1959, giving notice to the unknown heirs, devisees and personal representatives of Robert W. Raisin and the unknown heirs, devisees and personal representatives of Jacob Jeffers, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint and warning them to be and appear in this Court either in person or by a solicitor on or before the 19th day of September, 1959, to show cause, if any they may have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

West Virginia Couple Marries

Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Knotts, of Rowlesburg, have announced the marriage of their only daughter, Mary Franklin, to John George Van Meter, son of Attorney and Mrs. K. C. Van Meter, Jr., of Petersburg, W. Va.

The ceremony was solemnized August 4 at 4 p. m., by the Rev. Allen Parrish, in Christ Methodist church, Rowlesburg. Mrs. Donald Eliason, organist, of Terra Alta, W. Va., played the traditional wedding marches and presented a program of nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white lace over beige taffeta afternoon dress designed by Lee Claire, of New York, featuring a basque bodice, cap sleeves, scooped neckline and a bell skirt with the overlay of lace forming a scalloped hemline. She wore a small beige beehive veil with velvet trim and matching shoes and carried a white orchid with streamers knotted with stephanotis. The new Mrs. Van Meter also carried her grandmother's wedding invitation and bridal bouquet ribbons of fifty-two years ago. Mrs. Van Meter's grandmother was the late Mrs. Mary Mitchell Franklin of Oakland.

Mr. Van Meter served his son as best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Knotts wore a toast silk shantung sheath with matching jacket and matching accessories. She also wore a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

Mother of the groom chose a light blue Italian-mesh sheath with white accessories and wore a corsage of pink rosebuds.

A reception was held in the bride's home. The reception table was decorated by Mrs. Elbert Thompson, Rowlesburg. The wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. Prentiss R. Watson, Sr., of Terra Alta. Mrs. Allen Parrish, Rowlesburg, served the punch.

For the wedding trip the bride wore an olive-green silk shantung costume suit with straw accessories.

Upon their return the couple will reside at 18 Jones avenue, Morgantown, W. Va., where Mr. Van Meter will resume his second year of studies at the West Virginia College of Law. The new Mrs. Van Meter has accepted a teaching position in Monongalia county.

Top Quality - - - - -

For the third straight year the Garrett county Fair has shown improvement in quality, quantity, and know-how and has given civic minded people a lot of satisfaction. This annual event truly was an expression of the people of the county and that is what makes it so valuable.

It is just one more example of what cooperation can accomplish. The best part of it is too, that everything is voluntary. There is no paid staff. Farmers and business men made the plans and carried them out.

Here are some gratifying statistics: more than 100 exhibitors, more than 2000 entries, both substantial increases over the previous year. More than $4,000 in prize money distributed, an increase over last year. Competition was keen and the quality of the exhibits was better than the previous year. These things are just as they should be to make it a more vital part of the community.

The range of exhibitors included children as well as adults. Ninety percent of those who exhibited received some recognition. The results should spur the ten percent to greater effort, and give the 90 percent added incentive to do as good or better next year. Looking forward to the fairs of the future could turn work into a hobby and add zest to activity during the other seasons of the year.

This was truly an agriculture fair, and many people consider it one of the best in the state. In many counties the commercial interests overshadow the agriculture. Certainly in this county such was not the case. Commercial interests are needed and add to the fair, but in the final analysis they are not the important thing and so many fairs tend to stress the commercial aspects.

The parade was truly a farm parade and was effective for that very reason. The weather was ideal and the fair was a success financially which made the directors happy, we feel sure.

All in all the Fair is doing what those in charge wanted it to do—create interest in agriculture and pride in one's products.

Roger Beitzel Wins 4-H Tractor Contest

Roger Beitzel of the Bittinger Boy's 4-H Club was county winner in the annual Tractor Operators' Contest conducted on last Friday at the County Fair. He will represent the county in the state contest to be held on September 4th at Timonium.

Roger has been an active club member for five years with dairy as a main project. This past winter he took an active part in the tractor workshops conducted in the county under the leadership of Paul Stull, Russell Teets, and Dale Glotfelty.

The other eight participants and their placing in order were Sam Glotfelty, 2nd; Wayne Beckman, 3rd; Simon Opel, 4th; David Custer, 5th; Dwight Glotfelty, 6th; Robert Opel, 7th; Ken Sanders, 8th; Tom Magruder, 9th.

Larry Wagner, Green Mountain 4-H Club, was the top boy in the Junior Tractor Operators' Contest; Robert Beitzel, second; and Larry Tichnell placed third. The Junior Contest was opened to boys between the ages of 10-13.

Four parts make up the tractor operators' contest: (1) written and practical examination, (2) tractor safety, (3) operation of tractor, (4) hooking to implement. The contest is designed to be a practical demonstration, and an attempt is made to simulate actual farm operating conditions. The points-off system is used with the winner having the lowest total score.

Guy Gienger, Extension Agricultural Engineer, assisted with the contest along with E. Rankin Lusby, Barry Carr, Assistant County Agents, and Richard Bishoff, Southern Vo-Ag Instructor. Tractor dealers cooperating included: Miller Bros., Springs, Pa.; Garrett Truck & Implement Co. Oakland; B. & G. Sales Co., Oakland; Oakland Equipment Co., Oakland; and Shaffer Ford Sales Inc., Oakland.

Premium Winners Listed For Fair

Prize Money Totals Some $4,000; Distributed To Many Participants

Prize money totaling some $4,000 was distributed to more than 400 individuals who exhibited at the third annual Garrett County Fair last week. This was a big increase over the previous year when some 312 individuals received around $2,500.

It was a case of almost everybody winning some recognition for their exhibits. There were less than fifty who did not win some blue, red or white ribbon.

Fair officials announced that there were 483 participants as compared to 316 last year and 245 for the first year. The exhibitors placed over 2,000 exhibits in the various classes.

Top premium winner for the second year was John Wildesen, of Germania, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wildesen, who came away from the fair with $87.00. Guy Stanton was next, same as the previous year with premium awards totaling $76.50. Gerald Glotfelty had $67 and Stewart Stanton $65 with the balance of the others getting lesser amounts down to 50 cents. Judy Buckel was top 4-H'er with premiums totaling $31.

Various statistics were being gathered by fair officials but all of them were pointing once again to the fact that the fair was most successful in attracting a large number of people and that it would be more of a success financially than was the case last

Water Conditions Remain Critical

The water situation in Oakland remained critical this week with a number of residents without any supply at various times throughout the day. The additional sopply from Mt. Lake Park was cut off yesterday, temporarily at least.

The Water committee of the Town Council was investigating the possibility of turning in the supply of water from Landon's dam, which was not in use at present. This supply also is owned by Mt. Lake Park.

John Brenneman, who was drilling the additional well on the former Bradley farm west of town, got into difficulty this week. He struck water at 30 feet and continued drilling through a rock formation, at which time he lost his bit. This necessitated moving the drill to another location and he was scheduled to begin operations again today.

In the meantime there was some negotiating with the Soil Conservation service about possibility of enlarging the dam on Broadford, this is to be constructed for flood prevention. A meeting with officials is scheduled for sometime next week. This would affect the long range program but offers no present relief.

There was a generous rain on Monday night and Tuesday morning with the balance of the week being mostly hot and humid.

Elk Garden Man Admits Setting Fire

An Elk Garden man has admitted to West Virginia State Police that he deliberately started a fire Saturday afternoon that destroyed his home.

Trooper Charles C. Oliver said Paul Bennear, 35, told him he set the fire following an argument with his wife.

Bennear told Trooper Oliver that he went to a service station, bought five gallons of gasoline, sprinkled it through the house and then set it afire.

The four-room, one-story concrete block house was virtually destroyed by the blaze.

Volunteer firemen from Keyser, McCoole, Kitzmiller and Deer Park fought the blaze which endangered two homes nearby. The house was owned by Bennear's father, Bruce Bennear. Charges were placed against the man by state police.

Two Animals Rabid

A report from state veterinarian this week revealed that a fox and cat, killed in this county, were both rabid. The heads were sent away for examination about ten days ago.

No persons had been bitten by either animals.

Emergency Drive For Polio Funds Begins

The emergency drive to augment the funds to fight polio in Garrett county has begun, it was announced by Charles L. Briner, campaign director.

Briner said March of Dimes containers had been placed by Oakland boy scouts in the business places in Oakland, but that from the small amount received they were not being recognized.

He urged generous contributions so that various bills now owing can be paid. He said it would be necessary to curtail the vaccine program in the county for needy children if funds were not made available.

In other areas of the county Briner asked that contributions be sent to the following: Mrs. Ruth Hershberger, Grantsville; Mrs. William Harmau, Accident, Mrs. E. C. Clatterbuck, Deer Park; Mrs. Mary Harvey, Swanton; Mrs. Ivan Hamberson, Friendsville.

It was announced that the route 219 Drive-In theatre would run a trailer on the March of Dimes next week and that collections would be made by members of the Oakland Boy Scout troop for the March of Dimes, each night, Sunday through Saturday.

Twenty Boys Report For Grid Practice

Twenty boys have reported for football at Southern High School, Whitey Adolfson, new coach announced today. While Mr. Adolfson said he was not too pleased with the small number of boys who had reported, he did say that the interest and enthusiasm of those boys who did report was high.

He also said that several boys had spoken to him about reporting for practice when school begins. Some of the boys are presently working either at home or at other summer jobs and cannot report until that time.

Coach Adolfson stated that the door was still open to any boy who wanted to report. He reminded all prospects that for the first time, insurance and football shoes would be furnished without any cost to the player. "This will apply only to the first thirty-three boys at the present time," he said. "So if there are any boys who are interested in playing either now or after school begins, they should see me as soon as possible."

Mr. Adolfson also said that if there were any ninth grade boys interested in working out with the varsity they could report at this time. "Unless they show exceptional promise and are physically capable of playing varsity football, they will move back to the Junior High team when school begins," he concluded.

Cited To Appear

Four persons have been summoned to appear before Trial Magistrate John W. Holman in Friendsville on August 22 and 25 to answer charges that they have violated section 191 of article 56 relating to the necessity to obtain licenses for their dogs.

Students who will be attending Southern High School for the first time this coming year are asked to register Tuesday, August 25, Kenneth Johns, principal, said today.

While this early registration is not absolutely necessary, Mr. Johns pointed out that it would save considerable time on the opening day of school. A student who registers early will have his class schedule prepared in advance and will need to report to the office only briefly on the opening day of school.

New students were encouraged to bring their parents with them. They will be taken on a tour of the school and the facilities and educational opportunities offered will be explained.

Mr. Johns also pointed out that it would be helpful to grade placement if new students brought their last report cards with them when reporting for registration. Board Approves School Addition At Bloomington

The construction of an addition to the present school plant at Bloomington was authorized by the Board of Education at a regular meeting of that group on Tuesday.

The addition will consist of three classrooms with a full basement all-purpose room. The estimated cost of the project is $72,000.

Approval was given inasmuch as board members said it appeared likely that houses would continue to be built in the area for some time to come.

Money for financing the addition will come from the State School Construction fund, according to Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools. It would be paid back by the county over a fifteen-year period. Hawkins said the County Commissioners had given their approval of the project. The superintendent was instructed to employ Altman and Altman, architects, to draw plans for the addition. Bids would be requested by December 1, with probably award of contract in January in order to be ready for early spring construction. Addition would be completed by the time school opens in September of 1960, if present plans are carried out.

Teachers Resign

At the board meeting Tuesday resignations of three teachers were accepted: Miss Sharon Young, girls' physical education teacher at Southern, resigned to join the Navy; Norman Smith, industrial arts at Southern, resigned to accept a teaching position in Montgomery county; Daniel Sharnless, junior high teacher for Kitzmiller, resigned due to a draft call.

Hawkins said a serious effort had been made to fill the vacancies but no qualified teachers were available as of the present time.

Award Insurance Contract

Insurance bids for school bus and board of education cars and trucks were opened. The contract was awarded to Nationwide, the low bidder. On school buses the bid was $2,089.20 and on the fleet policy for cars and truck the bid was $379.93. For an additional $49 the board voted to increase the coverage on school buses from $10,000 $250,000 25,000 to $10,000 $300,000 $40,000.

Bus Routes Changed

Two changes in bus routes were approved: the Henry Deal bus on Butler road as soon as road was improved; and Durst bus to cross route 40 and run Posie row route to Springs, Pa., and Grantsville, with high school pupils transferring at junction of route 40 and Posie row road to Wiley's bus.

Hawkins said other extensions were considered pending improvement of road conditions. He indicated the Board would accept requests for consideration of bus extensions until September 15.

Regarding school bus shelters the board adopted a specific policy. It agreed to provide bus shelters where there are groups of several children in need of them, as

Lake Bulletin Tells Of Fishing Success

The weekly bulletin about fishing conditions in Deep Creek Lake furnished by Delores J. Vetter of the information center while Cecil C. Edwards, assistant park engineer, is on vacation, tells of some nice catches.

Most elated fisherman of the week was said to be Lee Line Phillips III, aged 12, of Mt. Lebanon, who caught a 21½ inch smallmouth bass weighing four pounds while casting with a shyster spinner, at the information center.

Two fishermen at breast of the dam caught rainbow trout, one an 18-inch, another a 16-inch. Both were fishing from a boat. They were Clarence Conrad III, Johnstown, and Earl Emert, also Pennsylvania. William Jordan, New Stanton, Pa., got a 23½ inch walleye, using artificial lure, in Beckman peninsula. Mrs. Harry Widney, Frank W. Va., got a 24-inch northern pike of 2½ pounds around Glendale bridge. Mrs. Marilyn Trotle, Silver Spring, got three chain pickerel, 24, 23 and 21, and a 12½ inch smallmouth bass while trolling near Will O the Wisp. She used the "Abu" spinner.

Victor Frosini got a 22 inch smallmouth and a 22 inch northern pike using a minnow near Deep Creek bridge. William Jordan caught a 20 inch smallmouth, using a rubber nightcrawler, around Beckman peninsula.

P. F. Trotle and son Paul, Silver Spring, got two fish, an 18½ inch smallmouth of 4½ pounds and a 19 inch chain pickerel near Will O the Wisp. Many yellow perch were taken by children fishing in the area of the park.

The Best Advice

Maryon Zylstra, the inquiring Camera Girl for the Chicago Tribune, asked five Chicago Drive-In shoppers the question, "What is the best advice anyone ever gave you?" Here is the gist of their answers. "Don't ever let treuble get you down." "Don't be afraid to go into debt." "Don't get into things too hastily. If it is a serious thing, give it proper consideration." "Don't be afraid to change your mind because only fools never make mistakes." Now we may be able to argue with some of this advice but surely we cannot argue with the advice that every person ought to get right with God and do so immediately. Since we are subject to death without a moment's notice; since we must one day stand in judgment before God, it would behoove us to be prepared for that meeting. Any person who has but a simple understanding of what the Bible teaches knows that none of us are naturally prepared for, "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God." How can we face God with 1000, 5000, or 10,000 sins charged against us and be acquitted? That same Bible tells us of the Grace of God that promises forgiveness to those who will repent and place their trust in Jesus Christ.

The Crypto-Socialists

With considerable clatter, a diverse group of persons in this country continues to glorify the so-called "socialist" revolution" spawned by the New Deal and Fair Deal. These people do not call themselves socialists and for the most part they do not belong to the Socialist Party. Though not true liberals, it is always in the name of liberalism that they speak and act. But that these pseudo-liberals are socialists, or more accurately crypto-socialists, since they mask their socialism under another guise, is plainly revealed by certain basic assumptions which they fervidly profess and which have their origins in socialism.

Among these assumptions are: Government is a cure-all and to be expanded; business is evil and to be regimented; labor unions are infallible; employers are wicked; the Federal Government should increasingly supplant the States; public ownership is better than private enterprise; private enterprise is selfish and corrupt; wages are good, profits are sinful; public welfare measures should replace private charity; the executive branch of the Federal Government, and in particular its regulatory agencies should be given more power and wider discretion; the Congress and the court should be subordinated and curtailed.

From these basic and related suppositions flow many corollaries which manifest themselves in all areas of economic, social, and political action—race, religion, foreign affairs, disloyalty and subversion, civil liberties, industrial relations, public education, social welfare and so on. In each case, the crypto-socialist adopts attitudes and courses of action which, it must be stressed, are designed not to effect a sound and equitable solution but to promote differences and antagonisms to render our traditional institutions unworkable, thereby making it easier to replace them with the centralized dreams of a socialist state.

From good motives, or had, the crypto-socialist seeks to subvert the American system of limited government, free enterprise, and democratic society and to replace it with a system hostile and alien to our traditions as a Nation. Because the socialist liberals operate under the camouflage of respectability, they may fairly be deemed a danger to the national interest—but I say we should not again be cover they provide for communist Deal.

1960 Soil Bank Sign Up to Begin Aug. 24

The ASC Office in Oakland will begin accepting for rental rates for Soil Bank- Conservation Reserve Contracts to begin in 1960 on August 24, it was announced by Curtis Savage, ASC Committee Chairman. The sign-up period will continue through September 10. Persons applying will be notified of their established rental rate by mail and will then be given an opportunity to apply for a contract.

According to Mr. Savage the Soil Bank Program is about the same as it was last year. However, one important change is a new regulation which prevents land purchased since 1956 from being entered.

For 1960 rental rates will again be established on individual farm basis and will be based upon productivity and land value, disregarding physical improvements and location. The rental rate for average cropland in this county has again been established at $13.50 per acre per year. When all eligible land on a farm is entered for 5 or more years 10% is added to the rate. Above average farms will receive higher rates and below average farms will receive lower rates.

In general, all land that was tilled or in regular crop rotation in 1959 and land from which a crop of tame hay was harvested in three of the last four years is eligible to be placed in the soil bank. Permanent pasture and woodland are not eligible.

Land may be entered for a period of 3 to 10 years. The land cannot be grazed, nor can a crop of any kind be harvested from it for the duration of the contract. A good cover must be maintained on the land and the spread of noxious weeds must be controlled.

At the present time about 3500 acres of land on 93 farms is in the soil bank in Garrett County, Mr. Savage said.

Board Approves

readily as time of maintenance men and available funds permit, but where there was an area serving only one or two children, the board felt parents must provide the shelters.

Repair and maintenance of shelters is left up to parents and the Board agreed where bus shelters were destroyed by vandalism that no replacements would be made by it.

Reports to the board members by the superintendent showed that black-top areas had been completed at Crellin, Accident and Friendsville and that one scheduled for Loch Lynn would be completed this week; that new units at Center street, Yoder and Loch Lynn were about complete and would be ready when school opened September 2; that the maintenance and custodial staff had made improvements to many buildings this summer.

Plaques are to purchased for each new unit completed and there will be "open houses" for the public to inspect the buildings in the near future.

The board approved purchase of coal from Kray coal company as soon as it had the opportunity to do so.

Mr. Hawkins presented a report to the board concerning the improvement of conditions of schools in the county, teacher replacements, curriculum improvements, etc., and dealt with the need for a more competitive salary schedule. After a study of the report the board complimented the superintendent upon the general progress apparent and authorized distribution of the report to all interested parents.

Upon adjournment the members visited schools where improvements to buildings and grounds had been made.

"Gigi" Is Eighth Play of Season

"Gigi" is the eighth and final play of the 1959 season of the Garrett County Playhouse. It will be presented at the theatre from Henry Tuesday through Saturday, August 25 through 29 beginning at 8:30.

Gigi is a young French girl brought up by her mother, grandmother and aunt, to be a society cocotte. The man they picked for her is a roue who frequently visits Gigi's home as a friend. He is captivated by her boyish enthusiasm. But Gigi is now 15 and the time is ripe for her to put away childish things and think of becoming the roue's mistress. But Gigi doesn't like such an arrangement. So in her own way and much to the surprise of everyone she maneuvers the roue into a proposal of marriage.

The playhouse adds a new member to the company, Judith Burke, for the final play. A senior at the University of New Mexico, she has worked in summer workshop of Rodey Theatre in Albuquerque. She has played leads in "Kind Lady," "The Corn Is Green," "Diary of Anne Frank," and "Night Must Fall."

The cast will include E. J. Peaker, Miss Burke, Sai Springwell, Neil Flanagan, Cris Curran, Rebecca Singer and Lirase Tibbetts.

The balance of this week the playhouse is presenting the "Reluctant Debutante."

An additional attraction is being offered this year which is in addition to the regular subscription. Miss Dorothy Stickney will be presented in "A Lovely Light," the week of September 1 through 5, a dramatization of the poems of Edna St. Vincent Millay. She is being directed by her husband, Playwright Howard Lindsay.

Observe Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Stemple observed their golden wedding anniversary with an open house arranged by their children, on Sunday afternoon, August 16, from 2 to 4 o'clock, in the Methodist church assembly room. A large number of friends gathered to offer their congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Stemple were married at the residence of the Rev. R. B. Ward, a district superintendent of the Methodist church at the time, on August 18, 1909. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. L. Jones, pastor of the Methodist church of Elkins. The plan was to keep the wedding a secret but this plan went awry the following morning, Mr. Stemple relates.

The anniversary reception was given by the family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Stemple, Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stemple, Arlington, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stemple, Oakland; and William B. Stemple, of Arlington, Va. The room was decorated with yellow roses, gladioli and mums, all of which were among the nine received by the couple. During the two-hour period more than 200 guests arrived.

Two members of the immediate family were not able to attend, Miss Jeri Nordeck, a granddaughter, and Fred Stemple, grandson, who is a member of the U. S. Navy band and is located in Boston.

Grantsville Loses But Remains In Fourth Place

Hyndman sewed up the runner-up spot in the Pen Mar Baseball league Sunday by defeating Grantsville's Sluggers at Grantsville by the score of 7-3, but the battle for third and fourth place remained unsettled, with two more games to play before the regular season ends August 30.

Teams involved in the battle for third and fourth place are Salisbury, Grantsville, Centerville and Mt. Savage. Grantsville has remaining games with Salisbury and Flintstone.

Robert See pitched Hyndman to victory, granting the Sluggers only five hits. Dave Richards, who was supplanted by Johnny Keister in the 7th, was the loser. He lauued seven and issued eight bases on balls.

Gus Brickner Swims Yough Lake

Gus Brickner, steelworker from Charleroi, Pa., swam down the Youghiogheny river from Connellsville to the Confluence dam in Pennsylvania last Friday.

Known as "polar bear" because of his annual New Year's day dip in the Monongahela river, dived into the river at 7:30 a. m. He arrived at the dam nine hours later.

The 47-year-old distance swimmer said the event was a tune-up for an attempt later this year to cross the English channel. He failed in an earlier channel attempt because of a leg cramp.

Brickner was accompanied by attendants in a boat, and other boats of newspapermen, photographers and members of sponsoring Moose organizations.

Brickner swam from Green Glade to the end of the Mellenry inlet, Deep Creek Lake, a year ago.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT

Better Health Through Knowledge

Blood Sugar Most Important in Diabetes

- Football
- Smallpox Vaccination
- Heart Size

Q. Can sugar be in the urine without being in the blood? If so, is there danger of it eventually leading to diabetes?—J. D.

A. As you probably know, the blood normally contains sugar whereas the urine does not. In true diabetes there is an increase in blood sugar above normal and some of the excess spills over into the urine. There are other situations in which the urine may show sugar or sugar-like substances. For example, in renal diabetes the kidneys allow sugar to seep out but there is no elevation in blood sugar as in true diabetes. From a health standpoint, sugar in the urine is the least important thing about diabetes. However, the urine test does offer a convenient means of detecting possible trouble and is used to keep tab on patients who are being treated for diabetes. Doctors can diagnose diabetes more certainly and detect it in milder form by determining the amount of sugar in the blood than by testing the urine for sugar.

Q. Do you think a 14-year-old boy should be allowed to play football?

A. The question as to whether a 14-year-old boy, presumably a ninth-grader, should play tackle football involves a good many issues. Certainly, the players should be carefully matched as to age, height and weight. Even so, the hazards of contact sports for children are obvious. Although there is some element of danger, many feel that supervised football as it is played at school is safer than the sandlot activities in which the interested youngster may participate if he is excluded from sports at school.

Q. Is it necessary to get a large smallpox "take" to be protected from the disease?

A. No. In general, the size of the local reaction reflects the need for protection. Small reactions usually indicate high immunity or resistance to the disease. Doctors refer to this as an "immune" reaction. The usual "take" with the large reaction is evidence of high susceptibility. Failure to react at all to smallpox vaccine is not necessarily an indication of immunity. Revaccination is advisable in such cases.

Q. How large is a person's heart?

A. In the normal person the outline of the fist pretty closely matches the silhouette of the heart.

Arrival of Train Is Picture of Week

Last week's old picture, showing a group of youngsters awaiting the arrival of a train at the Oakland station, has been variously identified as the approach of a circus train, a train bearing troops to the Mexican border war in 1914, and the arrival of Chief Two Gun White Calf, the prototype of the figure on the Indian Head nickel, who made a stop early in the 1920's.

Judging from the trees, it wasn't the circus season. The train which bore the Big Chief has been identified by a photograph in The Republican office as a wood burning locomotive, so that claim is discounted. Which leaves the Mexican border theory—until a better one is advanced.

This week's picture is considerably older, and is from the fabulous collection of Emory W. Adams, who has consented to make a number of his photographs available to The Republican for reproduction.

The occasion is in doubt, and it is not probable that anyone living today would remember it. However, the setting is familiar. It is Second street in Oakland, and judging from the absence of buildings and rubble to the right was shortly after the big Oakland fire at the turn of the century which destroyed most of the block on the west of Second street.

Visible to the left is the Oakland Pharmacy, since remodeled, and next to it The Republican office with its sign reading "Job printing." The room below the printing office was at this time apparently occupied by Offutt's store, according to the sign in front. This latter firm shortly after the picture was taken erected the building across the street which is now occupied by Rudy's Department store.

Not in existence at this time was the First National Bank or the Manhattan Hotel, the latter since razed. The building to the extreme upper right, now Ward's Restaurant, was then the store of Lewis Gortner.

The picture was obviously taken in the winter time, since there is snow on the ground—but who are the men and what is the significance of the animal?

TOP ALFALFA STAND—One of the nicest stands of alfalfa in Garrett county is on the farm of Alvin Beachy. Here Beachy shows Garrett County Agent James McHenry through the field. Regular applications of fertilizer and good seed is Beachy's formula for the alfalfa field. In fact, Beachy says that one of the most important farm management programs is feeding the ground. "You've got to feed the land," he says, "if you expect the ground to feed you." Beachy who has been regularly enrolled in the Garrett County Farming for Better Living program, has a 165 acre farm near Grantsville and is in the turkey and dairy business. Since he started farming he has been able to realize enough living on the land to quit his coal mining job. The use of land management, he says, has enabled him to raise more on the same amount of land.

"Thanks for calling"

How often people use those words at the end of a telephone call!

Perhaps they mean "thanks for the good news." Or "thanks for this useful information." Or "thanks for the order."

Sometimes they mean "thanks for thinking of me. Thanks for cheering me up."

Whatever the meaning may be, people do appreciate your calls and you appreciate theirs.

"Thanks for calling" is a constant reminder of how much usefulness and value and friendship your telephone gives you. It's one of life's biggest bargains.

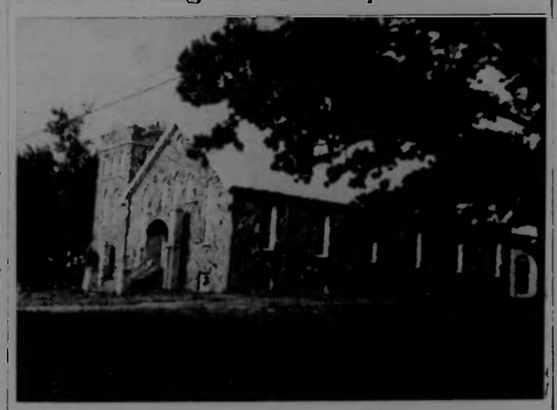
Homecoming at New Baptist Church



Members of the Deep Creek Baptist church will observe their annual homecoming day this year in their new church. It will be held on Sunday, August 23.

The exterior stone work of the church has been completed and grading and landscaping are under way under direction of Earl K. Harvey, chairman of the building committee.

The basement which has been completed since January, has a large assembly room and classrooms for the Sunday School. A large modern church kitchen is also planned for the basement area.

The sanctuary, unfinished at present, will have a baptismal pool, choir lolts and a balcony. Some stained glass windows have been given as memorials to present and former members. A nursery, other class rooms and dressing rooms also will he on the main floor.

Dr. C. P. Anderson pastor of the church, pointed out that the building program started during the pastorate of the late Dr. Paul S. Parker, at which time an unnamed donor gave $10,000 providing the church would match the amount within a given time. Since July 1 of last year between eleven and twelve thousand dollars were raised. Visitors to the lake and friends in Oakland have helped with the project. The chairman of the building committee has given much time and other members have helped with woodworking and painting.

New Farm Service Is Being Offered

A new farm service that brings a complete feed processing plant right into customers' farmyards has been started in this area by Mountain Mobile Milling, of Oakland, Md.

In annonneing the new operation, M. S. Brookhart, owner, said that the new "mill on wheels' is expected to be a godsend to local farmers and feeders who want to utilize their own grains and roughages for feeding livestock and poultry. One of the main advantages of the new service, he said, is that it brings the mill to the farmer instead of the farmer having to take his grist to the mill.

The mobile unit, first of its type in this area, is built by the Daffin Manufacturing Company of Lancaster, Pa. It consists of a complete feed mill that grinds all farm grown grains and roughages according to the farmer's specifications, mixes the ground material with feed concentrates, and blends in fresh liquid molasses to produce any desired formula. The truck-borne mill is powered by its own Diesel engine and is driven from farm to farm on a regular route schedule.

The local feed service reports that farmers all across the country have found that it is far more convenient and economical to have their feed formulas processed right on their farms. In the past it was necessary to load their grains, truck them to the feed mill, unload them, wait until the feed was prepared, load it again, take it back to the farm, and unload it into feed bins.

Consequently, by eliminating all that feed handling, the new mobile farm service saves feeders a tremendous amount of time, labor, and money, according to the equipment's owners. Increased emphasis is also placed on better nutrition, enabling farmers to get high production and greater profit from their meat, milk, and eggs.

4-H'ers Named to "All Star"

Additional information was obtained this week concerning the two Garrett county 4-H'ers who were received into the All-Stars at a consecration service at College Park a few days ago. Forty-two were received from counties throughout the state.

The two who won recognition for their 4-H activities were Cynthia Nace, Oakland, daughter of Mr and Mrs. William W Nace; and Thomas A. Magruder III, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Albert Magruder, route 1, Westernport.

Cynthia is junior leader of the Monte Vista 4-H club and has served as secretary and president. She has attended Girls' camp for two years, serving as cabin leader one year. This was her third year at 4-H club week at College Park where she has been Page and this year head Page. She was winner of the Danforth Foundation "I Dare You" award last year and has attained honors in achievement for two years. She was county champion in the 1958 dress revue and county champion for 1957-58 in clothing demonstrations. Miss Nace is a sophomore at Radford college, (women's division of Virginia Polytechnic Institute), at Radford, Va., where she is majoring in mathematics.

Magruder is president of the Garrett County 4-H council, serving his second term, and junior leader of the Chickasaw 4-H club where he holds the office of reporter. He has been secretary and president. This was his second year at club week where he participated in the state Public Speaking contest and the Pageant. Last year he won the Danforth Foundation "I Dare You" award as well as medals for gardening, forestry and electricity. In 1958 he was county champion in electrical demonstrations and won second place in the state with his turkey production project. Magruder is an academic senior at Bruce High school, Westernport, and plans to study public school music after graduation. He is a member of the school band and orchestra and the Cumberland Symphony orchestra.

The honorary organization of All Stars has "service" as its motto and "Achievement" as its project goal. It has been in existence in Maryland since 1921.

Commissioners Seek More Control Over School Budget Levy

County Commissioners from the four Western Maryland counties, met last Thursday at Deep Creek Lodge at Mellerny, and decided that they lacked control over the school budgets in their respective counties.

The four-county group voted to hold its next session in Frederick in November.

A feeling was expressed at the meeting that new legislation may be needed to give the commissioners stronger say in what is done by the county school boards.

The Garrett county commissioners said they use 80 cents out of each tax dollar for schools. Frederick commissioners report they had cut the last school budget a flat five percent and told the Board of Education to decide where to make the cuts.

Figures in the annual levy list adopted by the Allegany County commissioners showed that $1,-2064 or 54.3 percent of each $2.22 in county taxes collected goes for schools.

State Senator B. I. Gonder, a special guest at the meeting, outlined the upper Potomac plan which involves construction of three proposed dams in the county. One is to be located four miles west of Bloomington, covering 1,-030 acres. Another on Stony river will cover 110 acres. The third will be on Savage River, above the present dam. This will cover 330 acres. Senator Gonder said that a complete survey of the Potomac River from its source to Harpers Ferry is under way.

A legislative committee on waterways has scheduled a meeting at the William-James hotel in Oakland Wednesday, August 26, at 6 p. m., to discuss the Potomac River and Savage river proposals.

At the morning session last Thursday Edward McDonongh, chief highway design engineer, Baltimore county, discussed federal aid for secondary roads and the requirements which the counties must meet to get funds. Also discussed was the matter of weight limits on county roads. Garrett and Allegany counties outlined their troubles and damage done by heavy trucks. The county's attorney has ruled that the county has authority to set limits on its roads.

At the conclusion of the business session the group had a boat tour of Deep Creek Lake before going to the county fair.

Twelve of the 14 commissioners from the four counties attended including the three from this county, Carl Schell, president, Fred Glotfelty and Elra Garletts. Others attending from the county were Mrs. Virginia Fizer, clerk to the commissioners; Darrell Wotring, roads supervisor; Paul DeWitt assistant roads supervisor.

Scientists Ready For Lake Invasion Early Next Month

One hundred scientists, wildlife experts, and volunteers are planning a seven-day invasion of Deep Creek Lake early in September to find out exactly why fishing there is so much better this year than in the recent past.

The amphibious force of investigators will descend September 9 on Hoop Pole Cove. They will man a fleet of 30 to 40 boats and distribute 1100 pounds of rotenone, a fish-suffocating agent. At least two thousand spectators are expected to witness the fish census-taking.

"Fleet Admiral" will be Harold J. Elser, fishery biologist of the Maryland Department of Research and Education, the state's scientific fact-fishing agency on living natural resources. Elser's department, the Department of Game and Inland Fish, and Deep Creek improvement associations are jointly sponsoring the investigation.

The glowing reports on this year's catches are backed up to some extent by preliminary scientific spot checks, Elser confirmed.

"As a matter of fact, we have evidence that fishing may be even better in 1960," he said.

By comparison, the preceding eight years' fishing experience has rated the lake one of the poorest in the state. "We rotenoned Hoop Pole Cove in 1955 and discovered what we think was the major reason," the scientist continued. "We took 5000 pounds of fish, of which 70 percent by weight was yellow perch, or 55,000 in number. Most were stunted, showing they were overcrowded and underfed."

A fish stocking and management operation was begun in 1956. Predatory fish, chain pickerel, northern pike, walleyes, and striped bass, were introduced the same year in hopes they would cut down on the yellow perch population.

Spot checks in 1959 showed the perch to be averaging an inch longer than 1955, indicating a reduction in population. Credit for this improvement is tentatively granted the stocking program, but Elser feels that only the large-scale check in September will provide the final answer. More important, the investigation will indicate what program should be adopted to make fishing better.

Teams of specialists are scheduled to begin spreading the rotenone powder in the cove at 6:30 a. m. on the ninth. Half an hour later pick-up floating fish will begin. Aqualung divers will submerge at 2 p. m. to collect fish on the bottom.

Major effort will be spent on Hoop Pole water, but detachments will be sent out on similar projects in the much smaller coves, Red Run and Poland Run

The collected fish will be weighed and measured, and stomach contents examined for feeding information.

Rotenoning in the coves will have very little effect on fishing elsewhere in the lake, Elser declared

A report on investigation findings will be made by Research and Education in late fall. Decisions on future management policy will be made in early winter by state officials and Deep Creek representatives.

Enlist In Navy

Ralph and Richard Landon, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G Landon, of Mt. Lake Park, have enlisted in the United States Navy for four years each. Both are graduates of Southern High school, class of 1959. They volunteered through the Navy recruiting station at Cumberland and have begun their nine weeks of recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

To Show In Slides Life In New Zealand

"Life in New Zealand" will be presented in a slide program by Rodney John Dodd of Militai, Dargaville, New Zealand, an International Farm Youth Exchange, on Friday, August 21 to 8:00 p. m. in the St. Paul's Methodist Church social room. The public is invited to attend to hear this first-hand report on New Zealand

An "open house" type program will give all those attending an opportunity to meet and talk with Mr. Dodd. He has been in the United States since April 6 visiting farm families in California and now in Maryland. At the present time he is living on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Crowe near Oakland. Mr. Dodd will have completely circled the globe by the time he gets home as he leaves the United States on October 21 for England and the return to his native land.

The International Farm Youth Exchange program grew from the desire of 4-H young people after W. W. II to make sure such destruction would never happen again. I. F. Y. E. began on the premise that to have peace there must first be understanding between people of the world.

It was decided that there was no better way to do this than through the daily sharing by rural people of another rural way of life. Mr. Dodd is a farmer by occupation working with dairy, breeding swine and sheep. By living in another land the IFYE participant learns not only to understand that way of life but also increases his understanding of himself and his own country.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

Approaching the Precipice

One short month from now, the most powerful Communist in the world, a clever, astute and cocky dictator, who believes in Lenin as most Americans believe in the Bible, will visit the United States. Nikita Khrushchev is the commander of the most powerful army, the largest air force and the biggest submarine fleet in the world. He is the modern czar of the earth's second strongest nation which he believes to be the strongest. Keeping these facts in mind, what can be the effect of such a visit upon such a man?

Can it be argued that a dinner in the White House will cause him to forget that we have missile bases stationed in a tight cordon around the Soviet Union? Will a tour of an automobile factory lead him to "forgive" the Congress for recently passing a resolution endorsing a Captive Nation's week and, since suggesting A Captive Nations' Year? Will he accept what is told and shown him about America's strength, solidarity and determination? Or will Comrade Nikita, trained and circumscribed by Communist theology for fifty years, believe what he wants to believe, see what he wants to see, conclude what he wants to conclude? Has there ever been a leader of a revolutionary movement who was persuaded to change his views through talks and trips through a charming countryside? Or rather has that revolutionary not smiled at his opponent and when the other's head was turned, separated it from his shoulders by sword, guillotine or hydrogen bomb?

It would be pleasant to presume that person-to-person diplomacy can lead to a solution of the power impasse between the U. S. S. R. and the U. S., but is has been four short years since the Geneva conference when the President met with this same Soviet leader. Our more sanguine friends, in particular the British, rejoiced after the meeting and proclaimed that peace must surely follow, but what followed instead was Hungary, Formosa and Tibet.

Clearly, President Eisenhower has received information (from Vice President Nixon among others) that has led him to consider that American-Soviet relations might be improved by meeting with Comrade Khrushchev at the summit. Let it be understood that next month's visit will be a summit meeting, for what else is the coming together of the world's leaders? Much can be lost then throught a fatal misjudgment of Soviet objectives. However painful it might be, we must remember that Premier Khrushchev will only be "friends" with communist comrades, and such "friendship" at such a price is unacceptable to America.

Horse Show To Cover Three Days At Festival

The Horse Show at the Preston County Buckwheat festival this year will be held for three days, it was announced by festival officials this week.

The festival is scheduled for Kingwood September 21 23 and 26. The increase in the number of days was said to be due to its increasing popularity and rapid growth. There will be two horse shows on Sunday, September 6

This will be the 18th annual event. Various committees and coworkers have been selected. Alton J. Anderson, county agent, is general chairman. W. K. Hawkins is assistant.

Urge "No" Votes

Farm Bureau members were urging sheep producers to oppose the U. S. Secretary of Agriculture's program of deducting from their check one cent per pound of wool marketed and 5 cents per hundred pounds of unshorn lambs marketed. Producers were expected to receive a ballot giving them an opportunity to vote on the question this week.

Ross Crowe, president, advised that a better approach to promotion of lamb and wool must be found. He said sheep producers would receive more net returns from their wool and lamb marketings provided a "no" vote prevailed. He said this would not change the status of the present wool price support program. He urged an improvement of the situation through a voluntary program and not a compulsory program.

Murphy Reunion Scheduled

The annual Murphy reunion will be held Sunday, September 6, at the New Germany recreation area, according to Wilmer S. Murphy, route 2, Swanton

The recreation building has been reserved for the picnic lunch that will be served. Music and entertainment will be provided. All are invited.

A South Africa newspaper reported prospectors claimed finding a tribe of web-footed people near Zambezi river.

It was his first trip to Washington. He was only six. Everything had to be analyzed by the standards of a first-grader!

Tell him it's the Washington Monument . . . he still thinks of it as "The Pencil." Time for his parents to learn a lesson:

Suppose he had never seen a pencil. What would it have meant to him then? Probably nothing!

A child needs standards by which to measure all he encounters. The standards may be simple—but he uses them. With them he associates the things he wants to remember.

The Church provides your child with simple religious standards. He still needs your help to grasp the truth he must master. But the standards you and he learn at Church are the foundation of his character . . . the inspiration of your own. In his terms: the pencil with which tomorrow is written.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Prayer of Captives

Lesson for August 23, 1959

IT SURPRISES most people when they first look into it, how much the Bible has to say about prisoners. To mention only two examples: The Ten Commandments, copies of which hang on many a church wall, begin with a reference to a "house of bondage," a Hebrew expression for a place where slaves and prisoners are kept under guard. The God who gave these laws is the God who sets prisoners free. Then in the New Testament where Jesus is preaching to his own village friends and relatives, he takes a text from Isaiah describing his own work (Luke 4:18; Isaiah 61:1); one of the first things God gave him to do was to "proclaim liberty to the captives."

Dr. Foreman

Eleven Million Exiles

Furthermore, some hooks of the Bible were written by men who had been in jail or were actually in a jail when writing. The prayer which is the subject of this week's study comes from the Hebrew exiles, for it represents not simply one man's prayer but may be thought of as the desire of many a heart. Exile, we have to remember, is a form of captivity without chains. Living in exile is like a bear in a modern zoo; he sits in no cage, but is free to roam around on the rocks. He does not have bars around him, but there is something just as effective, a deep moat all around his rocky island, too wide and too steep for him to cross. So the exile (Daniel or Nehemiah or Joseph, for instance) may be free enough to build a house or to plant a garden; but all around him is the invisible pit, the impossibility of ever going home again.

Today, it is estimated, there are in the world more than eleven million refugees, "stateless" people, who have left their native land because they had to, driven by the cruelties of war or the subtler cruelties of peace. Vietnamese, Arabs, Jews, north Koreans, Chinese, Hungarians, East Germans, Indians . . . the list is far longer than that. Millions of these exiles are Christians; they know what the prayer of captives means.

What Can They Do?

Many of these modern exiles live under conditions that make a modern jail look like the Hilton Hotel. For every Hungarian (for example) who manages to reach the United States and a new start in life there are thousands who live in barracks, supported by the World Council of Churches, or the United Nations, at poverty level. If it were not for these great organizations millions would have starved and many thousands who have been resettled would still be in ragged tents or barracks without hope or help. The exiles are by no means from the down-and-outs back home. Most of them are professional people, farmers, skilled workmen, persons who could make an independent living if they had a chance. The writer knows of one Hungarian family who at the moment of writing would be very happy to come to the United States, but are barred out because—though the father is an unusually educated and able man—no one here has been found who will sponsor them. They have a number of children, and unless some person or group guarantees their support and education in case the parents die, the U. S. will not admit them. This is only one case among many.

Prisoners Near By

Most people who read this column are free and self-supporting. Concentration camps, detention barracks, the life of exiles, seem far away. But many people who read this can do something about the friendless prisoners of the world. It may be that your church has never undertaken to sponsor a refugee, or to take part in sending help (through Church World Service or otherwise) to the unfortunate victims of wars and/or bad governments in the refugee camps of the world. If so, you might be the person to spark-plug a real Christian effort along this line. But there may be prisoners still nearer. There is a jail or a penitentiary somewhere not far from you.

The American Way

(EDITOR'S NOTE. Willis E. Stone is author of the "Proposed 23rd Amendment" and President of the American Progress Foundation, Los Angeles).

The Texas House of Representatives, on May 5, 1959, approved a resolution to require Congress to submit a "Proposed 23rd Amendment" to the American people for ratification or call a Constitutional Amendment for that purpose. The vote was 80 to 55. The next day, May 6, 1959, the Texas Senate concurred in that Resolution by voice vote. The proposed amendment provides:

"Sec. 1. The Government of the United States shall not engage in any business, professional, commercial, financial or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution.

"Sec. 4. Congress shall not levy taxes on personal incomes, estates and/or gifts."

Thus Texas joined Wyoming in the drive to curb the federal tax and spend policies which have proved so disastrous to private enterprise and to taxpayers alike.

Florida, too, initiated action on this Resolution when the House of Representatives approved it on April 23, 1959, with concurrent action by the Senate anticipated.

The "Proposed 23rd Amendment" is pending in Congress as H. J. Res. 23, introduced by Congressman James T. Utt of California. Hearings on it can be attained by the overwhelming demand of people everywhere, and this demand should be immediately made so that everyone may learn the merit of the proposal.

Fact Sheet has published a great deal of evidence from official records indicating the need for the amendment. One of the most spectacular reports in the series (Vol. 1 No. 1) lists more than 700 federal agencies which are, in one way or another, competing with private enterprise without constitutional authority for doing so. A copy of that report is available free by writing to Fact Sheet, P. O. Box 3948, Los Angeles 28, Calif.

The contention advanced in support of the "Proposed 23rd Amendment" is that the sale of these federal corporate activities back to the American people will liquidate an enormous portion of the national debt and eliminate the losses and hidden costs of these bureaucratic empires, thus cutting the costs of the federal government in half, removing the need for individual income taxes completely.

The experience of federal intervention in the Rubber industry provides a yardstick by which we can appraise the value to be derived from the sale of federal corporate activities—the costs of government which can be removed and the taxes saved.

The Rubber Producing Facilities Disposal Commission report to Congress dated January, 1956, listed the net book value of the rubber plants at the time they were sold at $127,617,000 and the accumulated deficits for the period of government interest free, rent free, tax free operation at $134,693,000, or a total net cost of $262,310,000.

Private enterprise bought the rubber plants for $284,848,000, or as the report asserts: "The disposal program therefore produced a recovery in excess of the total net cost of the entire program of $22,538,000."

Nor is this all. Once these factories paid no rent and escaped a variety of operating costs. Under private enterprise they now pay all the economic costs of operation. Under bureaucratic management they paid no taxes of any kind. They now pay an enormous quantity of taxes at all levels of government—local, county, state and federal.

Under government ownership and operation the rubber plants produced deficits exceeding the book value of the properties. When private enterprise purchased the facilities they absorbed those losses and are now earning substantial profits through the economic administration of the industry in a highly competitive market.

This revival of Americanism indicates the logic of the "Proposed 23rd Amendment" and the rewards in sight as soon as the people in the several States get their Legislatures to adopt the necessary Resolution.

"Do you always read the Want Ads — upside down?"

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen John Marshall Butler

A few years ago, a popular song appeared whose refrain ran, "Friendship, friendship, just a perfect blendship; when other acquaintances are long forgot, ours will still be hot." Marylanders might be pardoned for taking issue with this happy prophecy in regard to their own Friendship Airport. Despite a passenger increase of 36 per cent this July over the same period last year, a soon-to-be-announced agreement between France and the United States for direct jet service between Baltimore and Paris, and the near-perilous congestion of National Airport in Washington, Friendship Airport continues to be ignored by the airlines and the Civil Aeronautics Board. The reluctance of the airlines to shift operations from one terminal to the other is all too understandable. Why bother to provide adequate service at Friendship when every year 75,000 passengers make the 40-mile trek to and from Baltimore to use National? However, apparent lack of interest by the CAB is not so easily explained.

More than three years ago, the Greater Baltimore Committee filed a petition for relief from what it contended was inadequate service at Friendship. A year later, the GBC consolidated its petition with a CAB examination of the adequacy of service at National. In September, 1957, a CAB examiner held preliminary hearings which were followed in November, 1958, by formal hearings by the full CAB. It is now nine months since that hearing and an inquiry at the CAB last week exacted the reply that the Board is "actively working on it," although a more honest answer might have been, "we are actively not working on it."

A CAB decision will not be a cure-all for the problems of Friendship, but an effective solution depends heavily upon the inadequacy of service being corrected by the agency. And time is running out. In late 1961, the wholly federally-financed airport at Chantilly will open for business, and as the Baltimore Sun stated in a recent editorial: "Friendship has a unique opportunity to show how heavily it can draw from the surrounding territory, particularly from Washington and the South by offering a first class service. This will be the time of testing, to see whether the vicious circle of too-few-passengers-too-few-planes can be cracked."

The circle will be split if the CAB breaks its self-imposed silence and orders the airlines to provide service commensurate with the needs of better than three million people who reside within a thirty mile radius of Friendship. Marylanders will then prove that when the service is there, the passengers are too.

Review of The Play

This week at the playhouse we are given the opportunity of seeing and hearing another example of smart English comedy. "The Reluctant Debutante" by William Douglas Home, provides for a most droll evening at the theatre. Pictorially this is the most delightfully staged of all this season's productions. The setting has a freshness that fits in well with the smart fast moving dialogue of the comedy. We are sure you will be captivated with the rather lush candy striped fabrics and the gold metal furniture employed in the decor of the stage. The unnamed designer is to be complimented.

"The Reluctant Debutante" is a somewhat frothy tale of a country society woman who brings her debutante daughter to London in order that she may be properly launched into the hectic swirl of Mayfair life. Mother herself is a somewhat ambitious person quite impressed by the sound of, as well as the desirability of, having a daughter connect with a title. Two young men named David become involved. Daughter is a rather smart young lady. The denouement of the problem presented provides for some very hilarious moments. Sufficient to furnish all fortunate enough to be present with a most satisfactory evening.

The role of Sheila Broadbent, the mother, is taken by Rebecca Singer. This is a rather long and difficult characterization because of the many telephone conversations which Miss Singer is required to carry on during the course of the play. Again this week she comes through with colors flying and gives a well paced interpretation of a somewhat rattle brained, gossipy, mother and wife. She is capably aided and abetted in her endeavor, after a fashion, by Neil Flanagan who provides another well turned performance as the father.

The most delightful portion of the comedy results from the playing of Jane, the daughter, by E. J. Peaker and her would be suitor David, by Cris Curran. Both of these young people could not be any more engaging nor enjoyable than they are. We see young love typified at its best. Cris, this week, manages to transform himself from the malevolant, despicable, character as seen in "Arsenic and Old Lace," to that of a very forthright, modest, likeable young man. E. J. as the girl he falls for, is quite delightful.

As Mabel Crosswaite, the mother of another debutante, Sai Springwell never looked better and fits well into the spirit of the story.

The remaining supporting roles are capably filled by Jennifer Yell and Gene Falcetta. Elrose Tibbetts, a newcomer, makes her debut in a walk-in part.

DIED

ROY W. STARK

Funeral services for Roy W. Stark, native of Bittinger, who died last Wednesday, August 12, at a hospital in Wadsworth, Ohio, were conducted Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Thomas Funeral Home in Salisbury, Pa. Rev. E. Wilson Kelley, pastor of the Methodist church, was the officiating minister and interment was in the IOOF cemetery at Salisbury.

Mr. Stark lived and worked in Wadsworth for a number of years. He retired at age 65 and returned to Salisbury to live. He was visiting his children in Wadsworth when he became ill.

Deceased was a son of the late James and Martha Hetrick Stark and was born November 22, 1891. Surviving are his widow, Catherine Hare Stark, of Salisbury, four sons, Paul R. Stark, Grantsville; Leo E. Stark, Raymond L. Stark, Wadsworth; William W. Hoover's Life Epitomizes America—When we watched former President Herbert Hoover on the TV program marking his 85th birthday, we could not help but thank that here, gathered up in one remarkable but representative man, is much of America. Certainly the Hoover career does epitomize much of the American story—the freedom of farm and frontier, the opportunity for vision and world-ranging enterprise; the strength of "rugged individualism," recognized today as still the key to individual and national progress; and humanitarian work and public service.

The Vain Attempt to Override The President—Our Senate Committee on Banking and Currency decided, 8 to 7, to take to the Senate floor the question of overriding the President's veto of the Omnibus Housing Bill. I voted against the maneuver to try to override the President, as I felt such an attempt would be a waste of time. I believe that it is imperative that we have a good housing bill, and, in my opinion, this was not the best way to go about getting one.

Labor Unions To Clean Out Racketeers—The Senate passed the Kennedy-Ervin labor reform bill some time ago, and we in the Senate will not have another chance to vote on labor legislation until after the House passes a bill and conferees of the Senate and the House iron out differences. My position has always been that we should have legislation, not harmful to the rank and file of labor union members, under which they, the workers, could clean out any dishonest and unfaithful union officials, and the owners of businesses and the general public could be freed of harmful and unfair tactics of labor racketeers. The secondary boycott, the blackmail picketing, the mishandling of union funds, and other abuses would be stopped by the Landrum-Griffin bill, supported by President Eisenhower, but would not be stopped by any of several other bills under consideration in the House. Before I could say whether I would vote "yea" or "nay" on the roll call vote on the measure when it comes to the Senate, I'll have to wait and see what kind of a bill the House passes, and, more particularly, what kind of a bill comes out of Conference.

New Kinds of Defense Preparedness—The Defense Appropriation Bill, passed last week, provides for more than 10,000 research projects—electronics, fuels, propellants, and environment students (preparing man for polar regions, for living under ice caps, and for his journey into outer space.) The projects include medical developments, such as, for instance, the new plastic paste for repairing and reuniting bones. Another product to be perfected is a gas which can totally incapacitate an enemy with no permanent harm.

Graduate Fellowships To Maryland Students—Five graduate students of the University of Maryland and eleven of Johns Hopkins University have been awarded Graduate Fellowships under the terms of the National Defense Education Act, designed to increase the number of available college and university teachers, according to information just released by U. S. Commissioner of Education Derthick. The students selected to attend the graduate schools of the two Maryland universities are from various states; four from Maryland; Frank Lynn Mayer, Westminster, Art; William K. Morrill, Jr., Towson, Political Economy; John P. Corcoran, Jr., Baltimore, Philosophy; Trenton O. Schroyer, Smithburg, Philosophy.

Each Fellow will receive $2,000 in the first year, $2,200 in the second year, and $2,400 in the third year, together with an allowance of $400 a year for each dependent. In addition, the universities will receive up to $2,500 per year per Fellow.

Federal Projects in Maryland—Approval has been given the work plan for Gilbert Run Watershed, comprising about 45 square miles in Charles and Saint Marys Counties. The estimated total cost is $790,000.

Housing Administrator Mason has approved Rockville's program for the elimination of slums and blight. Rockville has 65 units of low-rent public housing under management and has applied for 125 additional units. The city will appoint a relocation committee and staff to assist in rehousing families displaced by governmental action.

The Post Office Department is seeking bids to build and lease to the Department quarters for two new post offices in Maryland, one to be located in Capitol Heights and the other in Oxon Hill.

Invitations to bid have been issued by the General Services Administration to provide for the installation of movable metal partitions in the Old Age and Survivors' Insurance Building in Baltimore County.

Help for Baltimore Firms Who Want GSA Contracts—The General Services Administration has established a business service center in room 337 of the Baltimore Post Office to give expert assistance to Baltimore businessmen who wish to participate in procurement, disposal, construction, and repair programs of GSA. Mr William P. McDonald, experienced GSA field representative in the Baltimore area, will be in charge. Among the new services available will be the listing of bidding opportunities, the maintenance of a complete reference set of Federal specifications and standards, and a 24 hour delivery service of these specifications and standards to area "customers." Expenditures this year on new construction and repair within the Baltimore region are expected to exceed $55,000,000.

We Also Report by Radio—Recently we inaugurated a weekly radio report to the people of Maryland. It is a five-minute program carried as a public service by stations in every section of Maryland. If you think this is a worthwhile effort, we would be glad for you to write and let us know. Its only purpose is to better serve you.

Questionnaire Returns Next Week—We are just about through tabulating the statistics gleaned from your answers to the questionnaire which we sent out last month. In next week's Senate Cloakroom we will give the complete results. You may find a few surprises. I did.

The "Afternoon" Is Here—In the jumble of ever increasing governmental activities and politics and legislation, we are reminded that it is now the "afternoon" of the session, just as it is the "afternoon" of the summer. As mid-August arrives we know that the session has passed its high noon—too late now to start anything new, and high time to finish up the most important chores already started. There is a certain feeling of contentment when, in the "afternoon" of the session, the pieces start falling into place and we can see ahead what has to be done before the session is over.

No. 4954 Equity in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree declaring absolute ownership of Military Lot No. 1756 to be vested in the complainants and that the heirs, devisees and personal representatives of Robert W. Raisin and Jacob Jeffers be enjoined from asserting any claim to said Military Lot. The Bill states:

That the complainants are in constructive and peaceable possession under color of title of Military Lot No. 1756 situate, lying and being in Election District No. 6, Garrett County, Maryland, which was conveyed to the said Charles A. Garrett by deed from Stuart F. Hamill dated September 8, 1927, and recorded in Liber R.L.D. No. 95, folio 534, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, certified copy of said deed being filed herewith marked "Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 1" and prayed to be taken as a part hereof; that the complainants have endeavored to convey said land but prospective purchasers therefor have denied and disputed the title of said complainants; that said Military Lot No. 1756 was originally distributed by the State of Maryland to one Pvt. Jacob Jeffers, a soldier in the Revolutionary War from Maryland. By deed dated September 11, 1855, and recorded in Liber 23, folio 326, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, one Joseph Jeffers and Ann Elizabeth Jeffers, his wife, purported to convey to Robert W. Raison said Military Lot No. 1756. That your orators have no knowledge if all the heirs of the said Jacob Jeffers joined in said deed; that neither the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, nor Garrett County, Maryland, disclose what disposition was made, if any, by said Robert W. Raisin, his heirs, devisees or personal representatives; that on October 16, 1958, a patent was issued by the State of Maryland for said Military Lot to Wright Thayer, he having made application to the Land Office of Maryland for said patent alleging that the owners thereof had died without heirs and that same escheated to the State of Maryland; that there is no action at law nor any proceeding in Equity pending to enforce or test the validity of the title to said Military Lot; that the contentions of prospective buyers of said Military Lot are without merit and constitute a cloud upon the title of your orators.

It is thereupon ORDERED this 12th day of August, 1959, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, that the plaintiffs by having a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 4th day of September, 1959, giving notice to the unknown heirs, devisees and personal representatives of Robert W. Raisin and the unknown heirs, devisees and personal representatives of Jacob Jeffers, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint and warning them to be and appear in this Court either in person or by a solicitor on or before the 19th day of September, 1959, to show cause, if any they may have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Church Women Meet

United Lutheran Church Women of Zion church, Jennings had their foreign mission study on Africa on August 16. Purpose was to acquaint people with the changes occurring on this continent, the need for spiritual comfort and what churches should do to meet the need.

A panel discussion of the book, "The Way in Africa," was led by six members who traced historic roots of the continent, influence of Christian missions and present trends. The study was followed by the quarterly thank offering in charge of Mrs. Susie Yommer. Mrs. Donahl Hetrick presided over a short business meeting.

The local group had previously united with women of the Bittinger Lutheran church for a meeting at the home of Mrs. Kermit Gletfelty on August 7. Mrs. Herbert Buckel introduced the study, "Intelligent Giving." A special duet was sung by Mrs. Lester Smith and Mrs. Gletfelty. Devotions were led by Mrs. Joe Buckel. A fellowship hour followed.

The September meeting will be held September 13 when Leola Baker will present the study theme, "By Way of Our Offerings." Gifts for the National Lutheran Home for the Aged are to be turned in at this time.

smoothest ride!

One of the 7 big bests Chevrolet gives you over any other car in its field

Anyone who's ever taken a Chevy over a choppy country road can tell you how lightly Chevrolet's Full Coil suspension handles rough going—and coil springs never squeak, never need grease! Try this velvet way of going for yourself. Once you do, you'll find your own way of saying what MOTOR TREND magazine puts this way: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." But the happiest part of it all is that this Full Coil ride is just one of seven big bests—all documented by published opinions of experts and on-the-record facts and figures.

BEST ROOM—Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.* show that Chevrolet sedans offer more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars—more front seat hip room (by up to 5.9 inches) than the "other two" of the leading low-priced three.

BEST ENGINE—Chevrolet engines have long won expert praise from virtually every automobile magazine, and, just recently, Chevrolet received the NASCAR† Outstanding Achievement award for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines."

BEST ECONOMY—A pair of Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide won their class in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run, topping every other full-sized car. And the winning mileage was a whopping 22.38 m.p.g.

BEST BRAKES—Chevy's bonded-lining brakes are the biggest in their field, built for up to 66% longer life. In a direct competition conducted by NASCAR, Chevy outstopped both of the other leading low-priced cars in a test of repeated stops from highway speeds.

BEST STYLE—It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

BEST TRADE-IN—Any N.A.D.A.‡ Guide Book can give you the figures on Chevy's extra value. You'll find that Chevrolet used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." Your Chevrolet dealer will be happy to tell you about a whole host of other advantages besides these seven. Why not drop by his showroom?

Senate Cloakroom

By J. GLENN BEALL
United States Senator from Maryland

My Fight For Maryland-Made Aircraft—The subtitle of this could be, "Snatching Victory From Defeat". Last Week, conferees from the two Houses, who had met to compose differences between the Houses on Defense appropriations, agreed to the expenditure of some 58 million dollars on two California-made planes, and then threw out an item of 11 million for a comparable Maryland-made plane, the F-27, Fairchild's turboprop transport plane designed to take the place of the famous old workhorse of the air, the DC-3. I could have struck out madly in all directions at this raw deal, calling people all sorts of names, but that would not have accomplished anything. Instead, I decided that the issue need not be considered lost, that I could take certain constructive steps. I prepared a statement to make on the Senate Floor, showing exactly what had happened In Conference, how we had been dealth cards from the bottom of the deck.

My statement showed how, despite the support of all the Senate and two of the House conferees, the F-27 lost out because of the adverse votes of three House Conferees, two of whom were from States which stood to benefit by Maryland's loss. (You see, in Conference a majority of the conferees from either House can kill an Item.) I called attention to the superior qualities of the F-27, the statements of Air Force and Pentagon officials about the need for the F-27, in our defense program, and the fact that the inclusion of the F-27 in the production plans would be in keeping with the accepted policy of decentralization of defense plants as a precautionary measure. I also said:

"At a time when we are spending thousands of millions of dollars on military aircraft, and are deploring the scarcity of aircraft technicians, highly skilled and carefully trained technicians in Fairchild's plants will be thrown out of work. . . .Such a situation makes no sense when we are at work on a huge aircraft production program and every facility and every trained hand is needed. . ."

I had an advance copy of the complete statement placed in the hands of each of the other 87 Senators. Telephone calls and written messages immediately began to come to me from Senators saying that they would support my position. And sure enough, when the Conference Report was brought up and I took the Floor, they were to back me up. We made such a strong showing that the chairmen and ranking members of the committees and subcommittees involved and the Senate leaders committed themselves to seeing that we would get virtually equal funds which are available from another source for F-27s if I would withdraw my objection to the Conference Report. That kind of commitment was all I could want. "All's well that ends well."

The Legislative Outlook At This Point—There is likely to be some kind of TVA self-financing bond bill, though it may have to be redrafted after a veto. Further postal rate increases seem unlikely. A new Housing bill, designed to avoid another Presidental veto, will go to the White House. (Proponents of the previously vetoed measure have given up any idea of trying to override the veto.) A labor reform bill and a civil rights bill, both objectionably mild to many, will probably be cleared. There seems little chance for a new farm bill. The outlook is dubious for the President's gasoline tax increase to pay for the highway program. There is strong support in Congress for the floating of a billion dollars' worth of highway bonds. Congress and the White House remain in basic disagreement over how to raise new money for the nearly exhausted highway trust fund.

D. C. "home rule" advocates swarmed over the House of Representatives side of Capitol Hill this past week—with "tea bags" pinned to their coats and dresses, recalling Boston Tea Party days, when "taxation without representation" echoed over the land. The Senate passed "home rule" legislation in line with what I have sponsored or co-sponsored in several Congresses. The "home rule" bill now languishes in committee on the House side. Strong efforts are being made in this session to get the bill away from the committee, where in the past it has died. Senator Morse of Oregon and I last week took part in a nationwide radio program about D. C. "home rule".

Mr. Nixon's Visit In Russia—A difficult job well done, is the concensus of opinion. The Vice President had to be-successively-blunt, bold, wary, tactical, thoughtful, kindly. The thing that Impressed me most about Mr. Nixon's visit was Russian public's reaction to him. In Moscow, his first appearance brought a cool response. In Leningrad, the crowds had warmed up. In Siberia, the Vice President and Mrs. Nixon were almost overwhelmed by throngs of cheering Russians who lined the streets and swarmed around their car every time it stopped. With equal grace, Mr. Nixon answered eager, sincere questions about America and angry, bullying taunts from professional hecklers.

The welcome Mr. Nixon got on his side trip into Poland was a symbol of Poland's Westward leaning. A man breaking through police lines at Warsaw gave Mr. Nixon a hug. Cheering crowds burst into the Polish equivalent of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The Nixon car was swamped with flowers, flowers brought by the people themselves.

The newsmen who accompanied the Vice President were impressed with the contrast between life in Russia and life in America. People there live about as Americans lived a hundred years ago. Roads outside the cities are mud and dust. Log cabins are the rule in rural areas. There is little choice in food. Ordinary household tools are few. Maybe our man-made satellites in orbit are not as large as the Russians'—maybe they're ahead of us with their rockets—but we in America have everything else that the Russians will still be struggling to get a hundred years from now, including the right to have a say in how they are ruled.

When Nikita Comes To See The U. S. A.—Although I see in Russian Premier Khrushchev the man who ordered the murder or exile of tens or thousands of human beings—an arrogant, unrepentant tyrant—I welcome his visit. To correct his mistaken ideas about this country is vital to the cause of world peace. Let Khrushchev come and see everything—the strength of our industrial arm, our military might, our productive lands, our transportation, our stores, our highways, the comfort and excellence of our homes, the prosperity of our working people. More important, let him discover that an unconquerable strength lies in the determination in our hearts to remain free men. Let him begin to realize what is really important to us—the sentiments, the emotions, the ethics, the honor, the faith we have in ourselves, in our fundamental principles, and our faith in God—those inner things from which we draw our real strength. Fully comprehended, these attributes of our people would make any tyrant tremble.

What Is Your Church Like?

Is your church a life-saving station, a social or racraational center or perhaps even a morgue? A guide was once showing a little old lady around Westminster Abbey. The guide pointed out to her this thing and that of historical interest. She finally realized that this great place was actually a church. So being a zealous Christian she poked the guide with her umbrella and said, "Well, young man, this is all very well and good, but tell me have any souls been saved around here lately?" I'm sure such a question would be very embarrassing in many churches. Oh! sure, they have had scores "join" the church, but church membership and salvation are entirely different matters. One can join a church these days even if he were an atheist or the worst of heretics. He can continue his gambling, drinking, and life of sin; and there will always be some church more interested in members than the salvation of the lost, who will take him in. Tell me, what is the main purpose of your church? Is it to send forth the message of salvation? Is it to provide a place for religious recreation so Christians can "play" together, or is it just a gathering of the "dead". God will be the judge.

How Long? - - - - -

On July 16, a little over a month ago, we published an editorial in which we expressed grave concern over the numerous boat collisions, the reckless driving occurrences, the injury to people and the heavy damage to property. This same concern had been expressed by hundreds of other people. We pointed out the necessity of proper patrolling of these waters and the necessity of some definite regulations that would insure more safety for the thousands of vacationers who visit Deep Creek Lake.

There has been some patrolling to be sure, but it cannot be done properly by one or two individuals. It is a pity that it takes a tragedy to make people realize that more restrictions are needed. Sunday a life was lost when a boat driven by a nine-year-old boy struck a young woman and the propeller cut up her body. Those propellers are dangerously sharp and when moving at the rate of several thousand revolutions per minute they are worse than razor sharp.

We don't profess to know all the answers. We feel there should be regulations to prohibit a young girl or boy from driving a motor boat. But that will not cure all the danger. An adult driving a motor boat rammed another swimmer just the day before the tragedy and this time the swimmer escaped with a slashed shoulder.

To caution people to use common sense and observe the "rules of the road," isn't going to solve the problem either. Those things are disregarded daily on the highways and resulting deaths are rather commonplace.

We could go off half-primed and blame the Inland Game and Fish Commission for not providing more patrolling, but we don't know the condition of their budget and their limitations.

It's a foregone conclusion that something will have to be done in the future to make the lake a safe and orderly place. The number of boats on the lake has been estimated at approximately 2,800. There are many hundreds of swimmers, too.

How long will it take for those in charge to work out a solution? How many more lives will be lost before that happens?

Dorothy Stickney to Appear At Playhouse Next Week

DOROTHY STICKNEY

Dorothy Stickney, famous actress will appear at the Garrett County playhouse on Deep Creek lake, near Mellenry, next week, Tuesday through Saturday. It will be the final presentation for the playhouse for the 1959 season, and is in addition to the regular season of eight plays.

Miss Stickney will present, "A Lovely Light," a three-act adaptation of the works of Pulitzer Prize poet, Edna St. Vincent Millay, and is being offered as a non-subscription extra in celebration of his fifth season.

Miss Stickney, most famous for her role as Vinnie in "Life With Father," is on a summer tour in this one-woman show scheduled for a Broadway opening in September. The play is directed by her playwright husband, Howard Lindsay.

Written by Miss Stickney the play follows the poet's artistic development and her search for personal happiness and maturity. The first act is concerned with her early youth and awakening to life and its possibilities. It covers the years of World War I and the post-war disillusionment in Greenwich village.

The second act captures her maturity and the depression of the thirties while the third act covers the greater part of Miss Millay's married life, a period in which some of her best work was produced.

It will be presented Monday through Saturday at 8:30 p. m. Reservations are now being taken.

The regular season at the Playhouse is being concluded this week with "Gigi," a comedy adapted from Colette's novel. In the title role is E. J. Peaker. Judy Burke, senior at the University of New Mexico, flew here especially to play Gigi's grandmother.

The play has two distinct settings, the boudoir of Alicia de St. Ephlam and the apartment of Gigi's grandmother. In the play are Sai Springwell, Rebecca Singer, Neil Flanagan, Cris Curran and Elrose Tibbetts. All of the costumes for this play have come from New York.

Hazelwood Is Low Bidder for Dam

The George F. Hazelwood company submitted an apparent low bid of $72,042.55 for the construction of an earthen dam one mile east of Deer Park on the Little Youghiogheny river. The company was one of four bids submitted to the Garrett Soil Conservation district yesterday in Oakland.

Other bidders were Black and Robinson, Baltimore, S. T. Brotemarkle, Cumberland; Sack Brothers, Jamestown, N. Y.

William W. Nace, district soil conservationist, said it probably would be ten days before a contract was awarded.

The dam is one of six proposed impoundments designed to prevent Oakland from having any more floods. Oakland and the county are co-sponsors of the projects. The funds for construction come mainly through the federal government. Oakland and the county are to provide land, easements and rights of way for the various dams.

Major items of work on the initial dam will consist of clearing 12 acres of land and clearing and grubbing another 18 acres. There will be 1,508 cubic yards of excavation for the structure, and 427 cubic yards of toe drain ditch excavation. Other necessary items are steel reinforcement, pipe conduits, corrugated metal pipe conduit, etc. The work must be completed within 350 days and all work is to be shut down from December 1 through May 14.

15 Women Chosen For Jury Duties

Gerald Iman Named Foreman Of Grand Jury

Fifteen women were drawn for jury duty among the forty-eight persons selected Monday morning by Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley to serve at the September Term of Court. This is the first jury selected since the law went into effect granting women the right to serve on juries.

The law doesn't actually compel a woman to serve on a jury, but after being selected, if she doesn't want to serve, she must go through a stretch of "red tape." She must present her objections in writing to the clerk of the Circuit court within a certain period after being notified that she has been called to duty.

The twenty-three grand jurors and twenty-five petit jurors were selected in the presence of attorneys and court officials. Judge Fraley named Gerald R. Iman, of Kitzmiller, foreman of the grand jury which is scheduled to convene on Monday, September 14, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Other members of the grand jury include Louise M. Shaffer, Edward R. Harris, Eugene N. Johnson, Mahlon Miller, R. Thomas Thayer, Jr., Herbert C. Wildesen, Ray Teets, Frank B. Biser, Geraldine E. Turney, Paul G. Goehringer, Grant S. Harvey, Nell Lawrence, R. Richard Coddington, Patricia L. Steyer, Harry Claude Faucett, Scott W. Shirer Roy E. Crowe, Harland L. Beachy, Dewey Gnegy, Anne Gordon Bell, Francis A. McKenzie, J. Logan Weber. Five of the twenty-three are women.

The petit jury is scheduled to report for duty on Monday, September 28, at 9 a. m. Members include Agnes Carey, Otis W. Kamp, Reynold E. Ashby, Thelma S. White, Everett B. Weimer, E. Robert Dodge, John I. Wilt, Frank Guy Parks, Agatha Beachley, Nevada J. Hostetler, Hallie Pritts, Leighton W. Harvey, Patience Grant, Charles V. Harvey, C. B. Kimble, Darwin O. Fike, Harley M. Wildesen, Roscoe Rohrbaugh, Louise M. Seggie, William O. Bitzer, Oma A. Paugh, Ellsworth G. Moon, Jane Tucker, Walter L. Kamp, Margaret K. Germain. There are ten women on the petit jury.

Notices will be sent out this week.

Summer Camps End Successful Season

The two summer camps, Minnetoska, for girls, and Whitethorn, for boys, concluded another successful season on Monday after having been in full swing for the past eight weeks near Hutton.

Chester Johns, director, said around one hundred boys and girls attended the camps. Included in the groups from Oakland were Janice Feaster, Leslie Hinebaugh, Marilyn Englander, Valerie Smonse, Kathy Gonder, Anne Neihken; also Susan Schuneke, granddaughter of Mrs. Lillian Davis, Mt. Lake Park, and Cary Smith, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Fulcher P. Smith. Sherry Hardesty served as camp nurse while Vaughn Hardesty was a counselor. Rodney Berkuurst and Russell Crosco were assistants in the kitchen.

Mr. Johns, a guidance counselor in a junior high school in Baltimore, said that parents of his campers from the Baltimore area who had visited here this summer, had been high in their praise for the beauty of Garrett county.

Road Open To Crystal Spring, Near Mt. Lake

The highway leading to Crystal Spring was recently improved by the Mayor and Town Council of Mt. Lake Park, and is now open to the public. For several years this roadway could not be traveled and many local people were deprived of getting the pure water from this spring which has been flowing there uninterruptedly for many, many years.

There is a four-inch pipe leading from the spring and the flow of water, even in this dry season, fills more than half the pipe, it is said. This is considered some of the finest water in the state and ranks with the Deer Park boiling spring water which is used daily on the diners of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

The spring is located adjacent to Mt. Lake Park about one-quarter mile from the breast of the lake dam.

Wins Top Award

Miss Joyce Ann McKenzie, daughter of Mrs. Izetta McKenzie and the late Leonard McKenzie, of Grantsville, won top award, the Dr. Blame M. Schindler award, at commencement exercises of Sacred Heart hospital School of Nursing, Cumberland on Sunday, August 16. Miss McKenzie was one of a class of fourteen.

The award was for attaining the highest scholastic average during her three year period of nurses' training at the hospital.

Miss McKenzie has accepted a position at that hospital.

Completes Work For Eagle Requirement

The Deep Creek district, Boy Scouts of America, will soon have its twenty-third Eagle Scout, if he successfully passes the Potomac County Board of Review.

Thomas Forman, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Forman, of Third street, recently completed all of his necessary qualifications for the rank of Eagle. Forman has been a life scout since December 17, 1957. He spent three years in the scout troop and has been in the Explorer post for the past two years. He has 21 merit badges to his credit, the number needed to qualify.

He will appear before the Potomac Council Board of Review within the next few weeks after letters recommending him to that rank are written by his scoutmaster, minister and school principal.

Forman has also been working for the past year or more on his God and Country award. He was one of the explorers taking the trip to Philmont scout ranch in New Mexico this summer.

Eagle badges were awarded to three scouts at a district court of honor on February 12, and there have been no additional Eagles since that time. Only twenty-two Eagle badges have been awarded in the area in the thirty-five year existence of scouting in Garrett county.

63 New Properties Put on Tax Rolls

Sixty-three additional properties have been placed on the tax books since the first of the year, and owners of these new holdings will receive tax bills, it was announced this week by Joseph H. Welch, county treasurer.

This is because of a Senate bill, No. 411, which amended a portion of section 31 of article 81 of the Code of 1957, and concerns completely new properties.

Notification of the new law with instructions for carrying out its provisions was received by the county treasurer from William H. Riley, chief supervisor of assessments from the State Department of Assessments and taxation.

Welch said the local assessment office had turned over to him the assessments on 63 new properties that come under this provision. Amount of the assessable basis is $209,400, which amounts to a total of $4,188 in additional taxes, or approximately $66.50 on an average from each taxpayer, Mr. Welch said the tax bills for one half year's assessment would be mailed out this week to the sixty-three persons involved. The law designates no discount or no interest on these bills.

Burned in Explosion

Ted Lewis Hardesty, 49, of route 2, Oakland, suffered severe burns to both arms one day last week following a brush pile explosion.

He was a patient in Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland for several days and was released Tuesday.

Mr. Hardesty was engaged in burning brush and threw what he thought was fuel oil on the flames. The explosion followed.

Record of Progress Given on Hospital

The record of progress and improvement of the Garrett County Memorial hospital services is shown in a report being published in this week's issue.

The report shows the cost of operating the hospital well below the national average.

National average of the cost of operation for small hospitals is $29 per day per patient; the cost of operation for the local hospital is $20.50, it is revealed by Henry W. McComas, administrator.

The payroll increase there has been from $118,882 on June 30, 1955, to $177,345, as of June 30, 1959. Annual expenditures amount to $279,528. Much of the money expended for the hospital's operation remains within the county and finds its way into various business enterprises, Mr. McComas pointed out.

The hospital has an adult bed capacity of 54 plus 24 nursery bassinets. It furnishes the county a complete medical and surgical service. The hospital was accredited in May, 1957 by a joint commission on accreditation of hospitals. During the past five years much new equipment has been added as a result of efforts of hospital auxiliary, Lions club, Rotary club, Business and Professional Women's club, Oakland Junior and senior civic clubs and civic minded individuals.

The statistics showed the following: admissions have increased from 1782 in 1954-55 to 1988 during 1958-59, with total admissions of 9,157; infants have remained fairly constant with 472 in 1951-55 as compared to 399 for 1958-59. The total is 2,037. Outpatient visits have increased from 1639 to 2192 with total of 9,538. Patient days of care increased from 13,614 to 14,556 with a total of 68,550. X-ray and laboratory examinations have increased from 12,885 to 19,205, for a total of 80,032. Since the hospital opened 320,321 meals have been served and over a million pounds of laundry have been processed. 1,027,942 to be exact.

Mr. McComas said that Robert Kosalio, of Wheeling, W. Va., who had been an externe at the hospital this summer, will return soon to Jefferson hospital in Philadelphia to complete his medical studies.

Water Supply Is Worry For School

With still one vacancy remaining on the staff of the local high school, Southern prepared to open its doors to approximately 1140 pupils next Wednesday morning.

Of great concern to the local school officials was the present supply of water. For the time being W. Kenneth Johns, principal, indicated that foods served in the cafeteria might be limited to sandwiches and milk. "Everything possible will be done to limit the use of water," Mr. Johns stated. "It is our earnest desire to cooperate with the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland. One of the largest consumers of water at the school is the dishwashing machine. "Paper plates may be used for a few days," he said.

Use of showers is to be eliminated, temporarily, too.

Otherwise, considerable work has been done to put the school into first class condition. Just recently, the lobby received a fresh coat of paint.

On the opening day of school, all former students will report to their old homerooms. There, they will be informed of their new assignment and at 9:05, move to this coming year's homeroom. New students and seventh grade pupils are to report to the cafeteria.

Following a brief orientation period, students will attend a general assembly program.

Presiding at the assembly will be Terry Colaw, president of the Student Council.

New teachers will be introduced by Mr. Everly, vice-principal and Mr. Johns will welcome the students back to school.

At eleven o'clock a regular schedule beginning with the third period class will get underway. School will remain in session until Friday at 3:20 P. M. and will re-open at 8:55 A. M., Tuesday, September 8.

To Enroll Students

Out of county students desiring to enroll at Northern High school will have an opportunity to do so on Tuesday, September 1, from 10:30 a. m. until 3:00 p. m., according to Paul Muhs, principal.

He said the registration did not apply to any student now attending county schools, or any beginning seventh graders, regardless of their present school connection.

Residents Of Grantsville Give 73 Pints Of Blood

Grantsville area residents contributed 73 pints of blood to the American Red Cross blood program when the Johnstown bloodmobile unit visited there about two weeks ago.

Mrs. C. G. Bradley, in charge of arrangements, revealed the following statistics: 96 persons scheduled, 67 kept appaointment; 18 were walks-ins; 11 rejects; 19 first time donors, one member of the gallon club; 12 pints given were for replacements; total pints, 73.

Beef Producers Plan Feeder Calf Sale

The Garrett County Beef Producers' Association will sponsor a club feeder calf sale on Saturday, September 26 at Mellenry, it was announced by president, Virgil Jones.

While the sale is intended to give 4-H and F. F. A. boys an opportunity to purchase calves for baby beef projects, the bidding will be open to any interested buyer.

Water Situation Is Not Much Improved

There was only a slight improvement in the water supply for the town of Oakland this week, and this hinged on the continuation of hauling it to Oakland by tank truck.

After receiving an O. K. from J. R. McComas, sanitary engineer for the State health department, the water committee on Tuesday began hauling water from Herrington Creek, above the swimming area, and adding it to the system at the spring house. Yesterday some 20,000 gallons of water was hauled. This will continue until further notice.

The Water committee will discuss the impoundment on Broadford at a meeting with the Soil Conservation department and State Health Department on September 23. Kendall Jarvis, of the Soil Conservation department, and Mr. McComas, sanitary engineer, will sit in on the discussions in addition to members of the town's water committee.

There was some rain Saturday and Sunday and last night but the weather for the most part remained hot and humid. Nights were fairly cool.

Woman Killed By Motor Boat

Struck While Swimming At Deep Creek Lake Sunday Evening

A young woman from Keyser, W. Va., was killed instantly Sunday evening when she was struck by a motorboat while swimming in Deep Creek Lake.

The victim of the accident was Miss Margaret Ann Kitzmiller, 26, who was employed as a secretary at the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company.

Sheriff James E. Frantz said Miss Kitzmiller was struck by a boat operated by Dale Upperman, a nine-year old boy who resides in Pittsburgh. The sheriff said the young boy was operating a 16-foot Century inboard motorboat which was towing his father, Alvin J. Upperman, who was water skiing. Also in the boat with the young boy was Warren Terhorst, of Carnegie, Pa.

The accident occurred about 5 p. m., in the Red Run section of the lake. Frantz said the woman was thrown under the boat then into the propeller after she was struck. She was struck while swimming about 30 feet from a pier. It was reported she was with a group of friends on the pier and had decided to go in swimming just shortly before the accident occurred.

Miss Kitzmiller was taken from the water and was pronounced dead by Dr. Roger H. Bergstrom of Rockville, who happened to be near the scene of the accident. Assisting with the investigation were Dr. James H. Feaster, deputy medical examiner for the county, and W. Dwight Slover, State's Attorney.

Sheriff Frantz announced later that facts in the case would be presented to the grand jury when it convenes next month. Frantz said he planned to question the youths further. The boy is being represented by S. R. Pagenhardt, Oakland attorney.

No formal charges have been placed against the young operator of the boat.

Another Person Struck

The accident was the second in two days. Michael Currence, aged 19, of Rivesville, W. Va., was also struck Saturday by a motor boat driven by Harold G. Yutzy, of Oakland, and suffered a slashed shoulder. He remains a patient in the Garrett County Memorial hospital. It was reported that Currence was swimming from a raft and was swimming underwater at the time the Yutzy boat approached. Yutzy said he did not see the man.

Two other accidents also were reported during the week. Eleven persons were thrown into the lake when a boat driven by an 11-year old boy made a sharp turn and upset. All managed to get to shore. In the other accident a young boy was driving a boat with a 25-horsepower outboard motor, and towing a skier when he made a sharp turn and was thrown out of the boat. The boat continued to move in a wide circle for a half hour until the gasoline supply became exhausted. In the meantime the boy had difficulty in keeping away from the pain of the boat. He received a broken thumb and finger, it was reported.

Miss Kitzmiller was born at Keyser, a daughter of Mrs. Bessie Burns Kitzmiller and the late Thomas Kitzmiller. She was a member of the Keyser Church of the Brethren.

Review of The Play

Aside from the exciting experience in store for us next week when S. Hurok presents Dorothy Stickney in "A Lovely Light," the eighth and final play of the season is being presented this week at the Garrett County Playhouse. Before commenting on this week's excellent tableau let us compliment Producer-Director Gene Yell and his New York representative, Leonard Drum, on their admirable selection of a cast that lends new lustre to the playhouse stage this season. We have been privileged to observe the most polished and entertaining group of young Thespians we are likely to find in Summer theatre anywhere. The current interpretation of "Gigi", one of the most lauded plays of recent years, has been brilliantly executed at the Playhouse.

E. J. Peaker implants vivre into the title role of "Gigi". Playing the effervescent 16-year-old French girl, she is indeed a joy to behold. E. J. is a young lady possessing boundless energy, an enviable quality she exploits in her superb portrayal of Gigi.

Alicia De St. Ephlam, Gigi's aunt, is determined to educate Gigi into a youthful prototype of herself, using the persuasive element in a collection of valuable baubles. Rebecca Singer as Alicia, presents a remarkable characterization. Each haughty entrance en grande tenue is an exceptionally convincing portrayal of the grande cocotte.

The dashing roue, Gaston Lachaille, is a frequent visitor at Gigi's home who definitely enjoys her childish impetuosity and enthusiasm. He is the wealthy young man logically selected by Gigi's retinue of well-meaning female relatives, to support Gigi in the lavish proportions usually accorded a young mistress. Gigi, on the other hand, has different ideas. In the role of Gaston, Neil Flanagan turns in another of the sterling performances to which we have become accustomed.

As Andree, Gigi's stage-struck mother, Sai Springwell scurries feverishly about in various degrees of attire, alternately imbibing too freely of the champagne and voicing off-key vocal exercises. Sai is quite amusing in this part, which she plays with delightful determination.

Judith Burke, in her solitary appearance of the season, adeptly contributes to the plot of Gigi's grandmother, Mme Alvarez. However, in the process of rearing Gigi, Mme. Alavarez neglects the training which Gigi's aunt deems necessary for her successful debut as a cocotte in the accepted French tradition.

In the minor, but no less perfected, roles of butler and maid, Cris Curran and Elrose Tihbetts offer adroit participation. Cris plays this lesser role with the capability he has shown in more important past performances. As the maid, Sidonie, Elrose carries her portion of the action and dialogue in a most creditable manner.

All-in-all it must be said that the entire company contributes heartily to the success of this play, working together as a well organized and dedicated group. The costumes used in this production are unusually lavish and the set has been perfectly arranged. Each component segment of the production has been so artfully handled that the end result can only be described as "priceless".

Dedication and Open House Will Mark Opening of Home

The Goodwill Mennonite Home near Grantsville will have dedication services and an open house on September 5 through 7, it was announced this week by the board of directors.

There will be open house at the home on Saturday, September 5, 1 to 9 p. m., and again on Monday, September 7, from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

The dedication services are set for the Maple Glen church, adjacent to the home on Sunday, September 6, morning and afternoon. Nevin Bender, also of Greenwood, will preach the sermon on "Christianity and the Aged."

In the afternoon at 2 o'clock Jacob Mellinger, superintendent of the Orrville Mennonite home, Lancaster, Pa., will speak on "Blessings of a Christian Rest Home." Mark Swartzentruber, Greenwood, will preach the dedication sermon. Paul H. Yoder, president of the Goodwill Mennonite home, will have the dedication service.

The directors explained that the home is an outgrowth of the belief that a rest home could render needed worthwhile services to the community. The home is sponsored by the Castleman River Conservative Mennonite church and is chartered by the State of Maryland as a non-profit organization.

The home aims to give comfortable living conditions to aged people in a "pleasant, Christian environment." Care is to be given to eligible persons, regardless of religious persuasion. "Worry Profoundly Affects The Health"
— Author's Name Below* —
Research scientists are learning that worry actually can make people sick even though there may be nothing wrong with their health. Worrying about a possible sickness and doing nothing else to help overcome it is unwise.
Why worry about your health? A physician's life is dedicated to keeping you well. Visit your physician any time you feel sick and let him examine you. He will soon find out if there is anything to worry about and will prescribe any medicines needed to correct any present or developing trouble.

Says Percentage of School Tax Money Smaller Than Stated

Mr. George Hanst, Editor
THE REPUBLICAN
Oakland, Maryland
Dear Mr. Hanst:

I believe a statement of such gross misinformation as provided by this week's issue of THE REPUBLICAN, in reference to the County Schools receiving 80% of the county taxes, should be publicly corrected. The schools actually receive about 55% of the local taxes which provides only 25% of the money needed to operate the school program. What you might want to publish is, that we operate on the lowest per pupil expenditure ratio of any county in the state and with the lowest teacher pay scale in the state, one that will not in the future buy competent teacher replacements.

Very sincerely,
Willard L. Hawkins
Superintendent of Schools

Note: The statement was supposedly made in a meeting of County Commissioners from the four western counties held on August 13. Carl Schell, president of the County Commissioners, said the figure, originally appearing in a story in the Cumberland News was incorrectly quoted by the News reporter.

Nation's new flag will retain 13 red and white stripes but arrangement of stars is changed to nine staggered rows of six and five stars long.

Married August 22 at Deer Park

The marriage of Miss Nadara Anne Rodeheaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lee Rodeheaver of Deer Park, and Mr. Ronald Garrison Welling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Welling of Parkersburg, West Virginia, took place on Saturday, August 22, at 4 o'clock, in the Methodist Church in Deer Park.

The Rev. John C. Foster, pastor of the Evangelical United Brethren Church of Vienna, West Virginia, performed the ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony, organ selections were presented by Jackie Fisher of Mt. Storm, West Virginia. He also accompanied Miss Enla Gillette, of Towanda, Pennsylvania, vocalist. She sang "The Twenty Third Psalm," "Savior, Like A Shepherd," and "O Perfect Love."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her floor length gown of white satin with overskirt of embroidered nylon organdy featured a scalloped bateau neckline with lace applique, a basque waistline, and long pointed sleeves. Her fingertip veil of French silk illusion was attached to a bandeau cap fashioned of lace and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible on which were white and denture rosebuds.

Miss Mary Lee Rodeheaver, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Jackie Fries, of Cranesville, West Virginia was bridesmaid. They wore ballerina length gowns styled as that of the bride and fashioned of blue taffeta with lighter blue brocade overskirts. Their face veils were attached to hats of tulle and the attendants carried bouquets of colored pompons.

Nadine Welling and Billy Welling, of Coolville, Ohio, niece and nephew of the groom were flower girl and ring bearer.

Okey Welling, of Parkersburg, West Virginia, served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Philip Waybright, Dunlow, West Virginia, and John Finfrock, Altamont, Illinois.

Mrs. Rodeheaver wore a dress of teal nylon eyelet over matching taffeta with white accessories and had a corsage of red rosebuds.

Mrs. Welling chose a navy and pink dress and wore a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride. The tiered wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. Paul Calderwood of Bethesda, and Mrs. Leroy Campbell of Deer Park. Presiding at the punch bowl was Mrs. Stanley Smith, of Mentor, Ohio, assisted by Mrs. Charles Hull, of Deer Park.

For traveling, the bride wore a dress of blue novelty weave with matching accessories and her corsage of white rosebuds.

The couple left immediately to reside in Topeka, Kansas where Mr. Welling will teach in the Department of Mathematics of Washburn University.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Better Health Through Knowledge

Oral Polio Vaccine

- One Ovary
- Sleep
- Allergy
- Orange Coloring

Q. Will oral polio vaccine be available soon? I'd rather take the vaccine by mouth than by injection.

A. Oral (take by mouth) poliomyelitis vaccine is not yet available so don't stall for time—get your shots now. One drug manufacturer hopes to have evidence supporting the safety and effectiveness of oral polio vaccine by fall. When such evidence is available it will be submitted to governmental authorities with a request for permission to make and distribute the vaccine commercially. The Surgeon General recently stated that on the basis of present information, the Public Health Service would not license oral polio vaccine and has not yet been asked to do so.

Q. Can pregnancy occur after removal of one ovary? In what way does age influence the ability to conceive?

A. Pregnancy can occur when only one ovary is present, provided the woman is otherwise capable of reproducing. The ability to conceive steadily declines from about age 25 or earlier. By age 35 something like one woman in ten ceases to reproduce, one in three by age 40, and seven out of eight by age 45.

Q. How many hours of sleep does a 12-year-old need?

A. There is no set rule. The amount of sleep needed varies from one person to another. Some get along quite well with six or seven hours—others need eight or more hours. Teenagers are usually sleepyheads, or at least they seem to be able to sleep the clock around, especially on school days. Good judgment and common sense should be exercised in determining the amount of sleep needed.

Q. If a person uses a medicine to doctor a nose condition and suddenly gets an allergy he never had before, could the medicine be the cause?—An Illinois reader.

A. It's possible. Certain persons may be allergic to drugs used in nose drops and sprays. If so, they would develop allergic symptoms when the product was used. However, use of the product would not bring on allergy to other things.

Q. What is the substance used to color oranges? Is it injurious, especially if the orange peel is used in making marmalade?

A. The skin of oranges was formerly colored with a dye called Red 32. However, the U. S. Food and Drug Administration no longer permits use of the dye. No harmful effects were observed in humans but the application of Red 32 to the skin of mice causes trouble, suggesting caution. The question of making marmalade with colored orange peels, under the circumstances, is no longer a problem.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Science Editor, P. O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y., will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

Nancy White Bride of Eugene Nolte

Miss Nancy Lee White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. White, of Oakland, and Eugene Owen Nolte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Nolte, of Canton, O., were united in marriage by Rev. Wilmer Hurst in a double ring ceremony on Saturday evening, August 15, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Oak Park Church of the Brethren.

The ceremony was performed in a setting of candle light, with decorations of white gladioli and palms. Mrs. Merritt Feather played traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a chapel length gown. The fitted bodice of Chantilly lace had a square neckline and long pointed sleeves. The hillowy skirt was of nylon tulle applique in Chantilly lace over bridal satin. Her finger tip veil of bridal satin illusion was fastened to a crown of seed pearls and sequins. A choker of cultured pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, was her only jewelry.

Mrs. Ronald Dugan, Canton, O., sister of the groom, was her matron of honor. Miss Margaret White, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Lois Swartzentruber, cousin of the bride, and Amanda Dixon. All of the bride's attendants wore gowns of white lace over taffeta with cummerbuuds of blue chiffon from which flowed a panel of the same material. An illusion veil attached to a small cloche of white chiffon and satin was trimmed with seed pearls, in their white gloved hands they carried old fashioned boquets of white feathered carnations surrounding a large blue one, fastened with blue ribbons and placed on white doilies.

As the bride came down the aisle on the arm of her father, to the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal March, a path of rose petals was strewn by Miss Barbara Gnegy, who wore a gown of baby blue with matching headpiece. Carrying a white satin pillow on which rested two wedding bands of white gold, was ringbearer Master Jimmy Nolte, brother of the groom. Dale King, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Harold J. White, brother of the bride; Ronald Nolte, brother of the groom, and Ronald Dugan.

The bride's mother wore a bolero dress of azure blue lace trimmed in rhinestones at the neckline. Her accessories were white and she had a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. Mother of the bridegroom wore a dress of navy blue with accessories of navy and pink. She had a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

At the conclusion of the ceremony as the bride and groom knelt at the altar the Ivy Leaguers sang The Lord's Prayer.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church hall. The bride's table had a three tiered wedding cake, and in a heart of lace stood a miniature bride and groom. Surrounding the cake was intertwined greenery. On each end of the white table cloth were candelabra of white.

Hostesses for the reception were Mrs. Myrtle Durbin, Mrs. Harland Beckman, Mrs. Gay Rembold, Miss Harlath DeWitt, Mrs. Jesse Gnegy, Mrs. Roscoe Wotring and Mrs. H. D. Swartzentruber.

Following the reception the couple left for a short honeymoon in Pennsylvania. For travel she wore a beige suit with brown accessories and a white orchid corsage. The couple will be at home at 1016 McKinley street, N. W., Canton.

Southern High PTA Plans for New Term

Tentative plans and committee appointments for the coming year were discussed at the first executive committee meeting of the Southern High School P.T.A. last Monday evening. Presiding over the meeting was Charles Briner, president.

It was decided that the policy adopted two years ago of having only five meetings per year would be continued.

The first general meeting will be held the third Monday in October. At this time the program will be the annual "Back to School" night for parents of boys and girls enrolled.

The group unanimously approved the elimination of any fund raising activity unless some specific goal or need was forthcoming. Also approved were plans to serve refreshments at each meeting this year.

Clark, of Salisbury, and the late Mr. Clark, took place Tuesday afternoon, August 25. The ceremony was solemnized in Emmanuel Episcopal church, Cumberland, with the Rev. H. M. Richardson officiating.

Mrs. Arthur Ford Jones, Jr., of Catonsville, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Adela Jane Roberts, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. Ray Clark was best man for his brother, and Richard Clark, another brother, and Norman Davis were ushers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a brown lace, ballerina length dress, over champagne colored silk. She wore a matching feather hat and carried a prayerbook, covered with an orchid.

Dr. and Mrs. Jones entertained with a reception at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Olivia J. White, Cumberland, following the ceremony.

The bride attended Allegany High school and was graduated from Southern High school, Oakland. She also was graduated from Western Maryland college in June. She will teach in Carroll county schools this fall. Mr. Clark is a senior pre-law student at Western Maryland college.

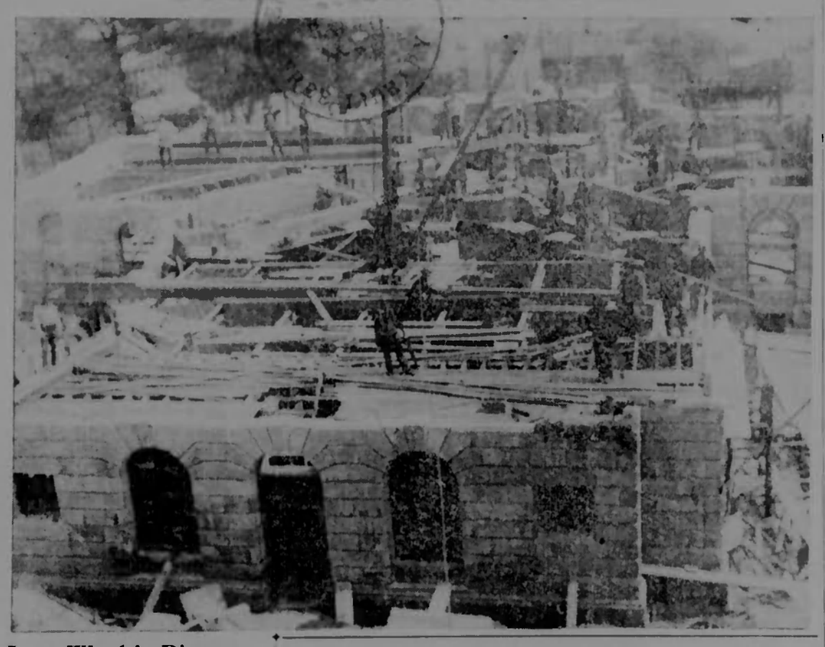
Pictures Out Of The Past



Last Week's Picture Taken 1901 or 1902

Last week's old photograph, showing Second street in Oakland following the big fire, has been claimed by several persons to have been taken in 1901 or 1902.

One of the two gentlemen in the picture, holding the cow, has been identified as Jim Mackin, a farmer of near Oakland at the time. He is the one on the left, with the mustache.

Robert Maroney said he believed the man on the right was Dick Maroney.

Why the presence of the cow in the middle of Second street is still unknown.

Additional information has been received from Mavis Specher, of Mt. Lake Park, concerning the picture published the previous week. At the time, it was believed the event depicted the arrival here of Chief Two Gun White Calf, the figure on the Indian Head nickel. This was later supposedly discounted because, it was pointed out, another picture existed showing the Chief's locomotive to be a wood burner.

Mr. Specher says he remembers the event, and both versions are correct. While the locomotive was powered by a wood burner, a conventional steam locomotive was used to pull it up the mountain—and this is the one pictured in The Republican two weeks ago. Sure enough, upon closer examination, through a glass, the little engine can be seen trailing behind the larger locomotive.

This week's picture, another by courtesy of E. W. Adams, is very unusual but hardly poses a problem. It shows the Court House during its construction. Looking toward Third street, the photograph apparently was taken from the roof of the jail. Since the building was dedicated in 1907, it is probable that this picture was taken sometime in 1906. The structure was completed at an approximate cost of $60,000.

Improvement Noted In Fishing at Deep Creek for Week-end

Deep Creek Lake had another week of ideal weather for vacationers, although number of fishermen decreased. John Kolb, creel census manager, said more than 50 percent of fishermen interviewed had fish in their possession. A greater number of bass appeared to have been taken.

In general conditions were poor the first part of the week with improvement noted toward the week-end. Anglers were using the mornings and evenings.

The dam area was reported best for trout, with Deep Creek bridge vicinity for walleye. Water temperature dropped to 77 degrees on August 21.

Among the catches reported: Charles Hull, Connellsville, 18-inch, 2½ pound smallmouth with crayfish near information booth; Henry Bope, 17-inch, 2½ pounder with lizard, Pawn Run section; R. W. Schisler, 19-inch smallmouth, with crayfish off Paradise Point; Lloyd Jackson, Pittsburgh, 22-inch pickerel, on a minnow, in Thayerville inlet; son David, 23½-inch walley, weighing 5 and ¾ pounds, and a 17 inch pickerel. He was casting with a flatfish at Paradise Point area.

Mrs. Mary Bane, New Eagle, Pa., 18-inch walleye, using worm, near Penn Point; Mrs. Phil Lehr, Frostburg, 19-inch, northern pike, with minnow, Cherry Creek inlet; James J. Brewer, Waynesboro, Pa., 16½-inch pike in McHenry waters. A 22½-inch chain pickerel was creeled in Holy Cross camp. Edward Maciekey, Bethel Park, Pa., lured a pickerel, 22¼ inches, while drifting in his boat. Lyon Phillips, Pittsburgh, caught a 20½-inch pickerel, weighing 1¾ pounds, taken on "Abu" spinner, Red Run cove.

All fish checked with creel census manager at Johnny's Bait house or at Information center, will be included in the weekly fish bulletin.

To Pick Up Clothes For Overseas Relief

A truck from New Windsor will make a pick up of relief clothing on Tuesday, September 8, it was announced this week.

Clothing may be taken to the Oak Park Church of the Brethren from the present until September 7.

It was noted that clothing should be packed in sturdy, well secured cartons, tagged with name, address and church denomination. All donors of clothing are expected to contribute 8 cents per pound of contributed clothing to pay costs of processing at the Church World Service center and to get clothing from the Center to the shipping port.

Money should be sent to the Church World Service Center at New Windsor and not be included in the cartons with the clothing. When sending the money, identify the shipment and indicate the name of the church sending it, people were told.

SIMMONS

Ordinary mattress is made with about 200-300 springs. Wired together, they sag together under your weight. When you push down on one, you push down on all. They're not free to push up and correctly support the shape of your body. This "sagging support" is bad for your back, your comfort, your rest.

Beautyrest mattress is made with over 800 seporate springs. Not wired together, they can't sag together. Each is free to push up under you. Together they firmly support the weight and shape of your whole body. In the new Beautyrest springs have been power-packed to give 12% more firmness.

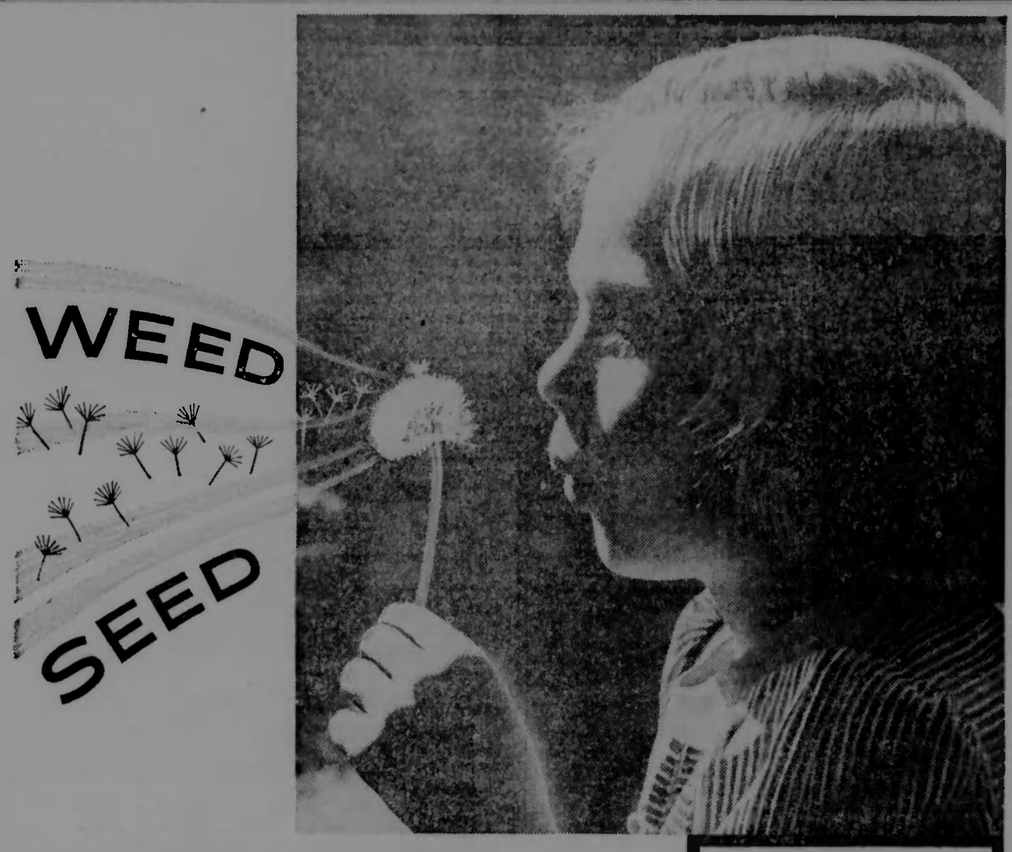
Hawaii officially became 50th state August 21.



When it comes to sheer intrigue, I say dandelions are the world's cleverest weeds.

First they hide beneath their yellow blooms, figuring I'll mistake them for flowers.

Then when I have spent most of the summer rooting them out, the last cunning survivors always enlist the help of my own youngsters to plant a bumper crop for next year.

But there are weeds more serious than dandelions—weeds which like the tares in Christ's parable are planted by an Enemy. These are my real concern when I think about my youngsters. I want no evil to choke or twist the character of my sons and daughters. Nor do I want them to spread the spores of evil that will undermine the character of others.

I believe that God meant me to seek truth and moral courage through the teaching, preaching and fellowship His Church provides. Every Sunday I share these blessings with my family.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Bible Material: Joel.
Devotional Reading: Acts 2:1-4; 12-18.

God for Everyone

Lesson for August 30, 1959

THERE IS A serious mistake into which most religions fall, and even Christian people have been known to fall into the trap. It is the mistake of fancying that religion is so difficult, or so sacred, or so something-or-other, that it can't be left to the common man. Religion is for spiritual aristocrats, religion is for the very few, religion is for professional religionists. It is for a sort of Religious Union, and people who want it have to deal with the Union or they dont get it.

Dr. Foreman

The Bible gives no sort of comfort or support to this twaddle. The Bible teaches, both directly and indirectly, from end to end, that religion is for everybody. No one has a copyright on it, no one and no union has a right to build a fence around it and charge admission. Religion is absolutely just as much the concern of the man in the street as it is of the man behind the stained glass.

Everybody Needs God

The Protestant form of the Christian religion, being based directly on the Bible, high-lights a doctrine called "the priesthood of all believers." For many Protestants today this expression has very little meaning. They don't know much about priests and they don't want to know more. And the last thing they want is to be priests. But still it is an important doctrine. Because once you forget it, you are all set to slip back into leaving religion to the preacher, or to your grandmother, or to old people and children, or to religious specialists of some kind.

The Bible on the other hand teaches that true religion is for everybody on the same basis. There are three important points here. One: Everybody needs God. The prophet Joel saw this, so did all the prophets. The same disasters, the same temptations, the same troubles and trials, the same hopes and disappointments, come in varied forms to be sure, but at the center of life there are always these needs and troubles.

Where Is the Road to God?

We were thinking last week about refugees. Literally millions of them dream of just one thing: a passport. A passport to somewhere, anywhere away from the bloody prison that their old country has become. All the refugees in one barracks may need passports; but not all can get them. Is religion like this? It is true, all men need God. But suppose the road to God is barricaded with difficulties and technicalities and requirements without number, like the road to citizenship in a free country? Suppose the road to God has a secret gate? Happily, this is not the case. The road to God is in the heart. "Return to me with all your heart," the prophet Joel says for God; no technicalities, no elaborate ritual or rule-book.

"My Spirit on All"

So—every one needs God; every one can find the road to God, for it is within him, it is the road of the repentant returning heart. But there is a third point equally important, and also a part of this "priesthood of all believers." The third point is that God's ideal world, the world he will surely bring to pass, is one in which God's spirit will be poured out on all persons, all humanity (which is what "all flesh" means). In Old Testament times, most good people thought of the Holy Spirit as destined only for the distinguished few. God's Spirit would come to a Moses or a Joshua, to a King like David or a prophet like Samuel. But not, oh never, to the common man or woman. Spirit-filled people were a small and rare company. The rank and file might obey God from a respectful distance. The ordinary believer no more expected his God to live with him than the private expects the general to be sitting next him at chow time. The New Testament shows a different picture: the prophecy of Joel is being fulfilled. "Spiritual" people in God's church and kingdom, are not a tight little elite. Every one whose heart's prayer is "Come, O Holy Spirit," will be the Spirit's host.

No. 4954 Equity in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree declaring absolute ownership of Military Lot No. 1756 to be vested in the complainants and that the heirs, devisees and personal representatives of Robert W. Raisin and Jacob Jeffers be enjoined from asserting any claim to said Military Lot. The Bill states:

That the complainants are in constructive and peaceable possession under color of title of Military Lot No. 1756 situate, lying and being in Election District No. 6, Garrett County, Maryland, which was conveyed to the said Charles A. Garrett by deed from Stuart F. Hamill dated September 8, 1927, and recorded in Liber R.L.D. No. 95, folio 534, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, certified copy of said deed being filed herewith marked "Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 1" and prayed to be taken as a part hereof; that the complainants have endeavored to convey said land but prospective purchasers therefor have denied and disputed the title of said complainants; that said Military Lot No. 1756 was originally distributed by the State of Maryland to one Pvt. Jacob Jeffers, a soldier in the Revolutionary War from Maryland. By deed dated September 11, 1865, and recorded in Liber 23, folio 326, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, one Joseph Jeffers and Ann Elizabeth Jeffers, his wife, purported to convey to Robert W. Raison said Military Lot No. 1756. That your orators have no knowledge if all the heirs of the said Jacob Jeffers joined in said deed; that neither the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, nor Garrett County, Maryland, disclose what disposition was made, if any, by said Robert W. Ralsin, his heirs, devisees or personal representatives; that on October 16, 1958, a patent was issued by the State of Maryland for said Military Lot to Wright Thayer, he having made application to the Land Office of Maryland for said patent alleging that the owners thereof had died without heirs and that same escheated to the State of Maryland; that there is no action at law nor any proceeding in Equity pending to enforce or test the validity of the title to said Military Lot; that the contentions of prospective buyers of said Military Lot are without merit and constitute a cloud upon the title of your orators.

It Is thereupon ORDERED this 12th day of August, 1959, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, that the plaintiffs by having a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 4th day of September, 1959, giving notice to the unknown heirs, devisees and personal representatives of Robert W. Raisin and the unknown heirs, devisees and personal representatives of Jacob Jeffers, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint and warning them to be and appear in this Court either in person or by a solicitor on or before the 19th day of September, 1959, to show cause, if any they may have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

The Bible is a CATHOLIC Book

People differ radically in what they think about the Bible. Some seem to think it was handed down from Heaven written in English and bound in morocco. Many accept it as the inspired Word of God without knowing why they are justified in doing so. And others say that the Bible is full of contradictions and must be taken "with a grain of salt."

A proper understanding of the Scriptures can exert a tremendous influence for good in your personal life. You should, therefore, know where we get the Bible... what it means... why you can believe its every word.

Nowhere in the Bible text will you find a list of the 73 inspired books of which it is composed. This list was given to the world by the Catholic Church almost three full centuries after the Crucifixion of Jesus Christ. Between the time of the Crucifixion and the time the Scriptures were gathered into a single Book, millions had received and accepted the teachings of Jesus Christ...and had died without ever seeing the complete Bible.

Established by Jesus Christ Himself and rapidly spread among the nations of the world, the Catholic Church was carrying on Christ's work for the salvation of men some 60 years before the Apostle John wrote his books of the New Testament.

For more than a thousand years afterward, the Scriptures were preserved and circulated by Catholic monks and scholars who laboriously copied the sacred text by hand. And the Bible authorized by the Catholic Church was the first book produced by Gutenberg upon the invention of printing.

Yes, the Bible is truly a Catholic book. They were members of the Catholic Church who, under God's inspiration, wrote the New Testament in its entirety.

It was the Catholic Church which treasured it and gave it to the world in its original and unaltered form. It is the infallible authority of the Catholic Church that always has been the only sure guarantee of its inspiration.

There are obscure and difficult passages in the Bible, some of which may seem confusing. But with the complete revealed truth of God, delivered to her from the beginning, the Catholic Church has faithfully unfolded the meaning of the written Word of God to past generations of mankind—and does so today.

Those who are familiar with the Bible, as well as those reading it for the first time, will find many important questions concerning it answered in an interesting booklet which we shall send you in a plain wrapper free on request. And nobody will call on you. Ask for Pamphlet No. KC-3.

A County Industry

Garrett County Memorial Hospital is more than a county institution. It has become a county industry with a payroll that has increased from $118,882.00 on June 30, 1955 to $177,315.00 on June 30, 1959. Other operating expenses such as drugs, food, supplies, etc., has amounted to $109,528.27 of the expenses. Annual expenditures total $279,528.00. Much of this money expended for the hospital's operation remains within the county and finds its way into various business enterprises.

A County Service

With an adult bed capacity of 54, plus 21 nursery bassinets, the hospital today furnishes the county a complete medical and surgical service to all patients.

In May, 1957, the hospital was accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, the highest award obtainable, which was due primarily to the efforts of the medical staff and the operating personnel of the hospital.

During the past five years much new equipment has been added as a result of the generous efforts of the Hospital Auxiliary, the Lions Club, the Rotary Club, the Business and Professional Women's Club, the Oakland Junior and Senior Civic Clubs, and other civic minded individuals.

Teen Corner

By DICK CASTILOW

Hi all! I am glad to be back with you after these past two weeks.

We have been having capacity crowds at Teen Canteen. We have had great success with Canteen and most of the thanks go to the Moose Club. These people help out with Canteen in almost every way possible when the parents can't chaperone, members of the club are there. It's really great the way these guys will sacrifice their own time to help us.

We're having a hand tomorrow night. This is a special "Back to School Hop,' music will be provided by The Jivin Five. This is a real neat group with a crazy beat. Featured will be Doug Pechardy of Washington, D. C. Special price will be 35 cents.

Here's a fearless prediction, watch the discs "Time Marches On" by Roy Hamilton and Teen Beat, a real wild instrumental.

Did you know that Santo and Johnny wrote "Sleep Walk" at two thirty A. M.

See you all at Canteen for the "Back to School Hop."

Ethiopia Is Challenge For Oakland Girl And Family

The Daniel Simmons family is a traveling family and they are continually finding much joy in their varied experiences. Returning to the United States from a two year stay in Ethiopia, Africa they are spending several weeks here with Mrs. Simmons' father, Julius B. Littman, Oakland banker, before returning to Ethiopia for two more years.

Mr. Simmons, native of Billings, Montana, was a ground water geologist for the Department of Agriculture, before accepting a position as ground water geology adviser to the U. S. Operations Mission under the International Cooperation association, a part of the U. S. point four program.

Now he is doing a tremendous job of finding and delivering water resources to the country of Ethiopia that is helping in the development of that area. He feels that this is one spot where the point four program is doing a good work. At first the United States provided most of the funds but at present the Ethiopian government is furnishing three fourths and the U. S. only one-fourth. It is a training demonstration program that is apparently paying off.

The American group is teaching natives how to drill wells and to learn geological formations so that in a few years they will be able to carry on without any further U. S. technical help. Right now the Ethiopian government tells the commission where it would like to have water. Then it is the job of Mr. Simmons to find that water as near where they want it as is possible. Mr. Simmons has found water, too, and plenty of it—except in some desert areas of the country. The Danakil or desert land lies toward the Red Sea. They drill through volcanic rock formations and sometimes get water too hot to touch, sometimes find it at depths of more than a mile, sometimes at depths less than 250 feet. There are no active volcanoes at the present time.

Talking with Mr. and Mrs. Simmons in Mr. Littman's home last Saturday afternoon an interesting account of their experiences was unfolded.

The family lives within a compound, surrounded by a wall eight to ten feet high. The particular area where they live has three other residences. There is a gate

3 Positive Rabies Cases for August

There were three positive cases of rabies during August, it was revealed by Dr. F. D. Custer, veterinarian. Two of them were in the White Church area, and one is the Bloomington hill area.

In addition other suspicious animals were listed. A cat acting in a suspicious manner was killed in the Finzel area recently. It had bitten two persons and the health department reported that the two were now receiving shots to prevent rabies. Another person in the Grantsville area also was receiving anti-rabies treatment after he had been bitten by a beaver acting in a peculiar manner. The beaver, however, was not caught.

Dr. Custer said the cat was relayed to his office by the State police but that the manner in which it had been killed made it difficult to be examined with any degree of certainty.

Slight Improvement In Supply of Water

A slight improvement was noted in the supply of water for the town of Oakland this week, but it wasn't caused by an additional supply from the city wells.

The boost was coming from a surface supply from Herrington creek, Henry W. McComas, chairman of the water committee for the Oakland city council, said that the department had been hauling water on a 24-hour basis. A water tank mounted on a truck is capable of bringing 2,000 gallons per hour to the springhouse. This week another tank was purchased and the department planned to run the two on 12-hour shifts.

The water in the wells has been diminishing and McComas said there was no telling whether or not they might fail completely. Arrangements were made with the town of Mt. Lake Park to furnish water for the two schools, Dennett road and Southern High and a limited number of residents on "Quality Hill."

The pressure yesterday was holding steady but McComas cautioned against any unnecessary use of water until the emergency had passed.

Ladies' Golf Group Ends Current Season

The Oakland Ladies' Golf association ended its season with a party at the clubhouse last week for members. Refreshments were served and white elephant gifts exchanged. A spaghetti dinner and swimming party followed at Fredlock's cottage on Deep Creek Lake.

The tournament chairman announced the finals of the various tournaments of the year as follows:

Dot Glottelty, first in handicap tournament; Louise Oas, runner up; Ida Davidson, consolation, 18 hole group.

Doreen Frey won first in the 9-hole group with Helen Seaber as runner-up.

Winners of the 36 medalist tournament in the 18-hole group, Hilda Prats, first, low net, also first, low gross; Dot Glottelty, second for low gross and Virginia Lohr second for low net. In the 9-hole group, Frances Alongi won first prize for low gross; Mary Peterson, first for low net. Betty Swadley was first in ringer score for 18 holes while Doreen Frey won the ringer score prize for the 9-holes.

Rabid Fox Is Shot

A rabid fox that bit a dog at the home of John Morton, of Swanton, on August 21, was proved to be rabid, it was learned this week.

Mr. Morton shot the fox under his workshop. The head of the fox was sent to College Park for testing and the report was positive.

Scientists Poised For Study Of Fish

Scientists and wildlife experts are all set for their invasion of Deep Creek Lake next week to make their second study of fish life within the past three years.

A force of investigators will head for Hooppole cove early next Wednesday, September 9 when 1166 pounds of rotenone, a fish suffocating agent, will be distributed over the 50-acre arm of the lake.

In charge of the program is Harold J. Elser, fisher biologist of the Maryland Department of Research and Education, an agency that studies living natural resources. Elser's department, the Department of Game and Inland Fish, and the several associations around Deep Creek Lake, are sponsoring the investigation.

The rotenoning process in 1955 brought the discovery of the major reason for poor fishing and a fish stock and management operation began in 1956 has developed much improvement.

In a conversation Tuesday with Elser he said everything was all set to begin the program. He said the local personnel of the Game and Inland Fish commission would prepare the ground and set the zone markers. The main group planned to arrive next Tuesday, in time for the meeting of workers and volunteers at Thayer's Barn on Tuesday evening, September 8, at 7:30 o'clock.

Elser sent out a call for volunteers who would provide about a dozen outboard motor boats and for other volunteers who would not necessarily have boats but who would help in other capacities. He

Boating Regulations To Be Recommended By Lake Association

Recommendations for boating and swimming safety on Deep Creek lake are being made to the Maryland Legislative Council subcommittee which is drafting boating laws for Maryland.

The Deep Creek Lake Property Owners association met Saturday at Deep Creek Lodge and its committee headed by Earl Zepp, made the following suggestions:

Night lighting of boats on coast guard standards.

All water skiers should wear safety belts.

When pulling water skiers two persons should be in a boat, one driving, and the other watching the skiers.

A minimum age, 14 to 16 years, should be established for operators of craft.

Power boats should be kept at a specified distance from other craft and docks.

All skiers should leave the docks perpendicular to the shore line and not along the shore line.

Drunken motor boat driving should be penalized.

Some traffic pattern should be arranged.

It was pointed out to the 100 members attending that had these regulations been in effect a few days ago the tragedy in which a nine-year old boy ran over and killed Shirley Jean Kitzmiller, 26, of Keyser, would have been averted. The meeting had been called a number of days before the mishap occurred. The association last spring started working on safety rules for the lake.

There are an estimated 2,000 cabins and homes on the lake and approximately 3,000 powerboats of all types. The lake is owned by the Pennsylvania Electric company but the water is controlled and regulated for fishing by the Maryland Game and Inland Fish commission.

Ray Keener, president of the association, said the special committee would still receive suggestions on safety measures before presenting them to the Legislative Council. Helmuth Heise, representing the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, which is jointly undertaking the boat safety project, reported on a meeting July 25 by the committee, the game commission, Delegate William Walsh, Cumberland, Senator Bernard L. Gonder, and Delegates Elbert E. Buckel and Leslie E. Savage. Heise said Walsh listed the specifications of the federal boating law called the Bonner act as stating that unless a state acts to license and regulate all boats on its waters, it would come under the U. S. government jurisdiction. The state must meet the minimum federal requirements and may be stricter.

Property Owners At Lake Name Directors

The Property Owners association of Deep Creek Lake elected directors at a regular meeting last Saturday, August 29, at Deep Creek Lodge. Over 200 attended with R. R. Keener, presiding and dedicating the meeting to two directors who had served for a number of years, Dr. F. C. Robinson, district 1, and Dr. Frederic C. Clayter, district 3.

Mr. Keener said these two, whose terms expired this year, felt unable to continue to take an active part in the association. The group named Ward Ashby as a new director for district 1, and J. Reed Wehrle as new director for district 3. Three other directors, whose terms expired, were re-elected. They were John E. Beck, district 1; Dr. T. G. Bennett, district 2, and R. R. Keener, district 3.

Following the business session William E. Harman, fish culturist, told of the work of the State Fish and Game commission in stocking the lake with fish and eggs.

At a meeting of directors of the association the group re-elected Mr. Keener as president and named H. L. Kennedy as vice-president and Miss Ethel Grove as secretary-treasurer. The meeting ended the formal activities of the association for 1959.

To Present Plan of Adult Education At Rotary Meeting

A program for adult education entitled "A Plan of Action" is to be presented to the Oakland Rotary Club Friday, Sept. 4 at the William James Hotel by The Rev. W. Shelby Walthall, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church.

"A Plan of Action" is centered around two main points. The first one concerns the 1954 Supreme Court ruling on desegregation of the public schools. The second point is about education of adults in the fields of public education, health, morals, housing, economics, and constitutional government to be used as a common denominator for community action in respect to desegregation and raising the standards of our people. In short, it is a definite concrete plan of action for re-establishing communication between the two races for the betterment of themselves and of the nation.

Mr. Walthall is now serving as a special consultant to the Federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare. He has spent his entire life in the south. His concern for better living conditions for people of his native south land goes back to his high school days when he was a student in Shades Valley, a community just south of Birmingham, Alabama.

He was graduated from Birmingham Southern College in 1912 with a B. A. degree from the school of Theology, University of the South, Sewanee, Tennessee, in 1941, with a B. D. Degree. He was ordained deacon and priest in the Protestant Episcopal Church in 1944.

The 43 year old clergyman has served churches in Florida, New Mexico, Texas, and Maryland. After spending six years as a Rector in Howard County at Queen Caroline Parish, he came to St. Matthew's Episcopal Church in June. He is married to the former Anna Gladys Shea. The Walthalls have two sons.

Named Director of Civil Defense Group

Daniel P. Smouse has been designated Civil Defense Director for Garrett County by Governor J. Millard Tawes acting upon the recommendation of the Board of County Commisssioners. He will succeed Fred Tichnell, who has served for the past several years.

Mr. Smouse, who is at present also supervisor of Donable Food Program for the county, is a lifelong resident of the county. He had served as assistant postmaster and postmaster at Bloomington.

To Entertain Team

Members of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club will entertain members of the Little League team which they sponsored this past season, at their regular meeting at the William-James hotel on Monday, September 14.

Six of the players who will be graduating because of the 12 year old age limit, will receive certificates at the meeting.

City Heading For Yough River For Water Supply

Members of the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland were generally agreed, following their regular meeting last night, that the only permanent answer to the town's water supply, was to head for the Youghiogheny river.

This consensus of opinion prevailed after they heard reports, not only of the Chester Engineers, Pittsburgh firm which made a detailed survey of the area, but another disinterested engineer who made a survey of his own along with Henry W. McComas and Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, council members, within the past ten days.

Their travels over the area indicated that there would not be enough water either in the Broadford area or the Mt. Lake Park area.

The council authorized Lewis R. Jones, city attorney; Mayor Russell L. Smith; and Greorge B. Powers, of the Chester Engineers, to use their judgment in securing a bond issue that would provide sufficient money for the project. All three left for Baltimore this morning to confer with the bond council in that city and do all in their power to find ways of bringing the proposed bond issue down to $350,000.

Agrees to Flood Control Plan

In action taken last night the Mayor and Council also accepted the conditions set forth in the permit to the Garrett Soil Conservation district covering construction of dam No. 7 in the watershed

Leaves for Golden Jubilee in Rome

The Rev. Fr. Michael K. Carney, pastor of St. Peter's Catholic church in Oakland, left here Sunday to begin a two months' vacation that he had postponed for almost two years.

He was scheduled to leave Tuesday by plane from New York with his first stop Ireland. From there he planned to visit a number of European countries, concluding his trip in Rome, Italy, where he would witness the golden jubilee celebration of the North American college in Rome, from which he was graduated almost twenty-seven years ago.

The trip was made possible partly by a purse of some $2,200 which was presented to Father Carney in December, 1957, in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination as a priest, and the 10th anniversary of his pastorate at the local church.

The purse was presented at a silver anniversary celebration almost two years ago and was for the express purpose of assuring him the trip to Rome for a visit to his alma mater. The fund raising was in charge of William Eggers and members of the Knights of Columbus.

The change was made to enable the scout executive from Potomac Council to attend. Meetings will be held in the Methodist church assembly room.

Also decided at the meeting Tuesday was the holding of a fall Camporee on September 12 and 13 at the Oakland Boy Scout camp on Deep Creek Lake. A campfire program will be held Saturday night with various groups responsible for skits. The Barbershoppers will sing. Theme of the camporee will be "recruiting," and scouts will be encouraged to bring prospective members. Weather permitting there will be a swimming meet.

4,679 Enroll In Public Schools On Opening Day

Garrett county's sixteen elementary schools and two high schools opened Wednesday morning with an enrollment of 4,679 students, 64 more than for the enrollment on opening day a year ago.

Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, said the total enrollment is expected to increase by about 100 by the end of the month.

Southern High school opened its doors to 1100 on opening, according to Kenneth Johns, principal, this was 46 less than for a year ago. Paul Muha, principal at Northern, announced an enrollment there of 750, just nine less than last year.

Enrollments at the elementary schools showed gains in some areas. They were listed as follows:

Friendsville, 279; Grantsville, 326; Kitzmiller, 251; Loch Lynn, 175; North Glade, 36; Red House, 137.

Route 40 school, 211; Swan Meadow, 42; Swanton, 51; Yoder, 96; Northern 750; Southern, 1100; total, 4,679.

Mr. Hawkins said the high day for last term was 4,788.

Activity in the schools was termed normal. There was assembly periods in most schools, after which they followed their regular periods for the day.

Mr. Johns announced that the enrollment this morning had increased to 1,126 at Southern. A brief assembly was presided over by Dick Stuck, vice-president of the student council. Following scripture by Willard Ann Glotfelty, Carl Everly, vice-principal, introduced Southern's five new teachers, Terry Colaw, president, welcomed students and teachers. Included in his remarks was a plea for more participants in the football program. He also requested student cooperation in consumption of water at the school during the current shortage. Mr. Johns reported this morning that the entire school had used less than 2,000 gallons yesterday.

Mr. Johns outlined student responsibilities and urged them to make the most of their many fine opportunities offered. Cheers for the football team led by Ann Lee Lohr, head cheerleader, concluded the assembly.

Schools will close for Labor Day next Monday and reopen Tuesday morning.

The first day figures by grades for Southern, 195, seventh; 206, eighth; 198, ninth; 173, tenth; 197, eleventh; 139, twelfth.

Three schools had new facilities. An all-purpose room was added to Center street school in Oakland; a two-room addition was placed on Loch Lynn school, making it a six-room school; and two more rooms were added to the Yoder school.

Speicher Insurance Business Purchased

The insurance business operated for twenty years or more by Ross Speicher, at his home near Accident, has been purchased by Carlton E. Bowser, Oakland insurance agent for the past thirty years.

Mr. Speicher is moving to Grottoes, Va., where he has accepted a full-time pastorate in the Church of the Brethren. He sold his home several months ago to the States Roads commission. A portion of the U. S. route 219 improvement goes directly through the property. Speicher sold his personal property at public auction last Saturday.

Couple Injured

A Bayard husband and wife were injured in an automobile accident last night one half mile west of Mt. Storm, on U. S. Route 50.

Mrs. Virginia Elinor Renn, 45, is a patient in Garrett County Memorial hospital suffering with a back injury. Her husband, who entered the hospital also last night, was later transferred to Cumberland as the result of a severe eye injury.

The car in which they were riding was apparently struck from behind by another automobile. The name of the driver was not obtained.

TRAVELING FAMILY—Here is the interesting Dan Simmons family, just back from a two-year stay in Ethiopia where Mr. Simmons was ground water geology adviser to the U. S. Operations Mission. They have enjoyed their experience so much they are returning for an additional two years in November. Standing beside Mrs. Simmons, on her right, is Bryan, aged 3. Seated beside her on the left is Gregg, aged 4½, while Steven, seven months of age, is being held by the father. The latter was born in Ethiopia. At Mr. Simmons' feet is one of the native musical instruments, a Masinko. The stringed instroment beside Mrs. Simmons is a Krar. Gregg is holding a wooden object used as a pillow by many of the natives, while Bryan is holding a "fly bush," used extensively in an attempt to keep the insects away. Native homemade dolls are on the piano beside Mrs. Simmons.

Teacher shortage in U. S. will hit 195,000 this year.

Pride—Exodus 5:1-4

"I wouldn't give a nickel for one who has no pride." Familiar words heard by most of us somewhere along life's way. Yet, have you ever stopped to consider how pride has cost us in heartache, misery, and even financial loss?

An Egyptian ruler by the name of Pharoah had too much pride to confess to a lowly herdsman that there was anyone who could know more than he. Before God was through with this king he and his people suffered financial loss, physical discomfort, and finally the loss of loved ones to death. Why? Because he had too much pride to admit he could ever be wrong. The Bible says, "Pride goeth before a fall." Individuals and nations have always found this true. From Pharaoh who said he "knew not this Lord" to Nazi Germany's super race man has found no nation to be infallible. From Thomas Paine's "Age of Reason" to Karl Marx's "Religion is the opiate of the people" man has sought to discount the revealed word of God. Today our chief fear to be an inferiority complex rather than to escape the judgment of God by crying out: "Lord have mercy on me a sinner."

Listening to radio broadcast the other day a preacher said, "While peace conferences are all right what is needed is for all nations to have a peace conference with the Prince of Peace." How true that may also be with individuals The psychiatrist and tranquilizer may do much to help us but Christ, the Prince of Peace, is able to eliminate the cause of the trouble for "If we confess our sins he is faithful and just to forgive" we read from the Word of God.

As far as Pharaoh was concerned he had no sins nor confessing to do. His troubles were all the fault of Moses and the Israelites. Even when he decided to let them go he did so with the thought of self-preservation, not repentence in mind. Still too much pride to admit he had been wrong. While Pharaoh might have had pride in his throne and even pride in personal habits he needed pride in spiritual attainment. May this be our prayer: O God help me to have enough pride to take proper care of my physical body which others see but also enough pride to take proper care of my spiritual body which only you see.

Miss Calhoun Weds Frank DeWitt

In a double ring ceremony solemnized in St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Saturday, August 15, Miss Shirley Dianne Calhoun, daughter of Mrs. Bonnie S. Calhoun, became the bride of Frank Lee DeWitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Paul DeWitt of Oakland. The Rev. Wm Ernest Fox, pastor, officiated.

The chancel was decorated with white asters and white mums against a background of lighted candelabra. Kenneth Ronald Martin served as acolyte.

Mrs. Donald R. Sincell, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and gave a recital preceding the ceremony. Mrs. John White sang Gounod's "Ave Maria," O Perfect Love, and during the service, "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by a close friend of the family, Mr. Joseph H. Hauf, of Baltimore, wore a full length gown of white hand-clipped Chantilly lace, fashioned with long tapered sleeves and a scalloped neckline trimmed with tiny seed pearls. The Louffant skirt of lace over nylon ruffles was appliqued with re-embroidered flowers. Her finger tip veil of French illusion was attached to a tiara of lace and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible adorned with white orchids and white satin streamers enclosing white miniature feathered carnations.

Miss Jacqueline Sue Calhoun, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mrs. Bert L. Hickman Jr., bridesmaid, and Miss Louise Martin, junior bridesmaid. Patricia Rollins, niece of the bride, was flower girl and Kevin Rollins, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Frederick W. Dilgard served as best man while John DeWitt, Edward DeWitt and William DeWitt, brothers of the groom, and Edward Bittinger were ushers.

Her attendants were attired in pastel rainbow colors with the maid of honor wearing a dress of white lace over mint green taffeta having scoop neck and cap sleeves. The bridesmaid's was identical in white lace over pink. The junior bridesmaid's dress was of blue organdy. All wore Dior bows with nylon veils in corresponding colors. The attendants carried colonial bouquets of varied shades of feathered carnations. The flower girl wore a yellow organdy dress with white lace and carried a basket of pink rose petals.

Mrs. Calhoun, mother of the bride, wort a dusty rose dress of lace and taffeta with black accessories. She wore a corsage of white rosebuds.

Mrs. DeWitt, mother of the groom, chose a steel blue dress of taffeta and lace with pink accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social room. The bride's table was centered with a bowl of pink, white, blue delphinium and baby mums. On either side were lighted candle tapers. The tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. It was served by Mr. Edward DeWitt and Mrs. John DeWitt, sisters-in-law of the groom. Mrs. Donald Butler presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. William Teets was in charge of the guest book.

The bride chose a copen blue linen suit with pale blue and white accessories and a white orchid corsage for their trip to Rehoboth Beach, Delaware.

The couple is now residing at 3406 Offutt Rd., Randallstown.

The bride is a 1955 graduate of Southern High School and a 1959 graduate of Hood College, Frederick. She will teach in the Baltimore Public Schools this fall. The bridegroom is a 1956 graduate of Southern High School and is now a junior in The Maryland Institute of Art, Baltimore.

NEWS FROM THE Ruth Enlow Library

BY EDITH BROOKS

A book is being presented to the Grantsville branch library in memory of Mrs. Cinda Baker, by the Mountain View Homemakers.

Books in memory of Okey Jenkins, Edward Weeks, and Mrs. R. E. Sliger have been given to the Ruth Enlow library.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harned, Mrs. Lillian Davis, Mrs. Jane Eisinger and Mrs. Hazel Kennedy, have given books to the library recently.

Several new copies of "My Pioneer Grandmother" by Isaac Thompson are the gift of his daughter, Mrs. Harry Rossiter, of New Castle, Del. This book has already proved to be a valuable source of information about pioneer life in Garrett County.

In the preface to "Frontier America", Thomas D. Clark pays tribute to the work of local historians and historical societies in preserving and recording the story of the westward movement. Several other excellent books which have been published recently on pioneer life in America have been added to the library. These include "The Appalachian Frontier" by John Caruso, a member of the faculty at West Virginia University, "The Savage Years" by Brian Connell, and a new edition of "The Journal of Major George Washington."

New novels which give an interesting picture of pioneer life are "The Scarlet Feather" by Van Every; "Land Beyond the Mountains" by Giles; "Elizabeth, by Name" by Cook; "The Young Titan" by Van Wyck Mason, and "Trail of Tears" by Forrest.

A Message from Clinton W. Englander, "Your Pharmacist"

Please Keep Plastic Film From Children

Plastic film is an excellent product to protect recently laundered blankets and clothing. It can be a most dangerous hazard to infants and children.

Plastic Film Has Caused Deaths

Infants and children playing with this thin, adhesive film can block their nose and mouth so that breathing becomes impossible. Using plastic film as a mattress cover for baby's crib or play pen invites trouble.

Plastic Film Is A Dangerous Plaything

Most children like to pull these film bags over their head while playing their imaginative games. When static charges cause a film bag to cling to the face, asphyxiation results.

Please Destroy Surplus Plastic Film

When it has served its original purpose, dispose of it. Never permit children to play with pills, medicines and dangerous household articles, including plastic film.

Scientists Poised

said they would welcome the volunteer services of several ladies to help record data.

In addition to the swarm of scientists and technical men from the State Elser said there probably would be two scientists from Pennsylvania, one from Virginia and three from West Virginia who would assist and also observe closely how the work was being carried out. Two scientists from the army chemical center at Edgewood Arsenal, also were expected to arrive and continue their study of blood and internal organs of fishlife. Two chemists from the Water Pollution control commission at Annapolis, Guy Lerner and Sylvan Delkov, also would be on hand.

Elser said they planned to place fluorescent dye at boundary markers to trace the movement of the water. He added that the Maryland Underwater Explorer club of Rockville, planned to send three or four divers who would check the kind of fish that would sink to the bottom following their suffocation. Since the first rotenoning of the lake in 1955 three types of fish have been added to the lake and the results to these fish will be studied carefully. They are the Walleye, Pickerel and northern Pike.

Other helpers will be members of the Soil Conservation service, the Forestry department and the State Police. The Ladies aid of the Baptist church at Deep Creek again will serve lunch.

Elser said the workers would also be on the lookout for fish tags which were placed on fish this spring, in order to attempt to determine their various movements.

The major effort is to be spent at Hooppole but similar projects are to be carried out on succeeding days in the Red Run and Poland Run areas.

Fish are to be weighed measured and stomach contents examined for feeding information. Decisions on future management policy will be determined by the results of the study.

Simmons Family

which is closed at night to keep out animals and intruders and there is a guard at the wall. The wall keeps out numerous hyenas and domestic animals and sometimes even a mountain lion.

Addis Ababa, the town, is in the upland country, in an area 5,000 to 8,000 feet above sea level. Temperature is fairly even, seldom hotter than 80 degrees, and vegetation is luxurious. There is a continual growing season and flowers and vegetables abound. Mrs. Simmons has only to squeeze a tomato on the ground cover the seeds with some fine dirt and within two weeks there is an abundance of vines. They grow several feet tall and she told of one vine that had over a hundred tomatoes. Many of the seeds were sent to them by her father.

Part of the city is modern but in outlying areas native people live mostly in mud huts, called "tukels," with thatched roof.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons have a housegirl, a "Mamite" who watches children, washes, etc.; a houseboy called "Sabania" who cleans, does dishes, scrubs, and would do the cooking if that were not one of the things Mrs. Simmons happens to enjoy doing.

They eat largely the food that is brought in by Americans and Europeans. Thus far there are no frozen foods available but there is electricity in the area and they have refrigeration. Principal food of the natives is "Wat", a stew, and "injera," a large buckwheat cake type of food which is baked. Agriculture is the main resource of the country. They raise teff, a cereal grain, said to have much more nutrition than our wheat or other grains, and they raise cattle.

People are mostly brown and dark, but not Negroid. They hand down the story that when God made man he experimented out of clay. The first one he baked too long—that was the Negro. The next one he didn't bake long enough—that was the white man. The third time he got it just right—and that is the Ethiopian. Their main religion is Coptic, similar to the Greek Orthodox church.

The country is developing rapidly but still has a long way to go. There are few sidewalks. Sanitation facilities are considered very crude. Hyenas abound and at night they do an excellent job of cleaning up garbage that the populace makes in the daytime. The several hundred thousand people who live in Addis Ababa can create a lot of garbage for the hyenas. The two oldest sons of Mr. and Mrs. Simmons can imitate the bark of the hyena very well. They hear it often enough.

The language is arabic, samali, amharic and dozens of other dialects. English is the second language and is taught in the schools.

Difficulty is experienced in making natives understand just what is wanted of them and it is necessary many times to demonstrate first. One day one woman asked her houseboy to "put some water on the stove." Somewhat puzzled, the houseboy finally took a bucket of water and poured it on the stove. "But they are eager to learn and proud of their job," Mrs. Simmons said.

There is plenty of community life. Mrs. Simmons belongs to a Children's Theatre group where they make puppets and plan puppet shows for Ethiopians and European elementary schools. There is also an artists' group, an international women's club and other organizations, most of them designed to offer entertainment and education to the Ethiopians. Mrs. Simmons had the honor on two occasions to appear before His Imperial Majesty, Haile Selassie, emperor of Ethiopia. During the Christmas period she was once invited to sing before the emperor and at another time to play the organ. The family does much entertaining and in many cases the reputation of the family depends upon how much of this is done. "We think nothing of having twenty to dinner," Mrs. Simmons said.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons have three sons, Gregg, aged 4 and a half, Bryan, aged 3, and Steven, aged seven months. The latter was born in Ethiopia.

They feel they are having exciting experiences and appear to be anxious for the return in November for an additional two years. Their collection of items from this African country are quite unique and most interesting. Some of them may be seen in the accompanying photograph.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

- Pain
- Greying

Mountains May Trouble Some People

Q. I am past 60. I moved to Colorado about one year ago. While here I am bothered by pressure in my ears, headache, exhaustion, and at times, difficult breathing and rapid heart beat. Could it be the altitude? —H. M.

A. Most people can go from sea level or a little above to altitudes of 5000 to 6000 feet with only minor difficulty. There is usually some ear fullness and perhaps some slight shortness of breath but adaptation occurs quite rapidly. Others may be affected to a greater degree and may have difficulty in making adjustments. Persons with certain conditions, notably coronary heart disease, should consider the possible ill-effects of residing at high altitudes. Specific advice should be obtained from your physician.

Q. Are some people more sensitive to pain than others?

A. Yes. The "pain-threshold" (point at which pressure applied to some part of the body causes pain) was determined in 363 normal persons. There was a wide variation in sensitivity to pain. A little pressure caused pain in some persons whereas others withstood considerable pressure without experiencing pain. Incidentally, there are known cases of complete insensitivity to pain. The condition seems to be inherited. One pain-resistant girl walked on a fractured ankle for 12 days before the increasing swelling led to medical consultation. It was then discovered that she was insensible to pain.

Q. Some time ago you said that the hair could not turn grey overnight. I heard of such a case just recently so you were wrong.—A reader.

A. Sorry, but we didn't say yes and we didn't say no—we said maybe. Letters have been received from other readers who have heard of such cases but not one was received from a person who had actually had this experience. Some medical authorities say that sudden greying is a rare possibility. Others believe that it can occur but requires months, not hours or days.

We are both pleased and proud to point to the thousands of prescriptions we have filled as evidence of our ability and readiness to serve your prescription needs skilfully, promptly and economically.

Review of The Play

It isn't everyday that we in the hinterlands may enjoy the exquisite pleasure of watching a performance by one of the first ladies of the American theatre. We are permitted such an unusual happening this week in the presentation of "A Lovely Light" by Miss Dorothy Stickney. This is a dramatization of the life and loves of Edna St. Vincent Millay as witnessed through her poems and letters.

"A Lovely Light" is a brand new theatrical work which is being tested by Miss Stickney in certain of the smaller, non-metropolitan summer theatres prior to a late fall opening in New York. The curator has bitten off quite a chunk of theatre in attempting to encompass in two short hours the life of one of America's most illustrious women of letters. That she succeeds so well in doing this is further evidence of the versatility of our distinguished visitor.

This week is the first time during the four that the production has been given in the round. Considering the simplicity of the play, it would seem to me that this type of showing is ideal because of the intimacy achieved between the performer and her audience—as well as the effective lighting. It should be understood that "A Lovely Light" is a one woman show done with a minimum of motion and settings. These latter being a plain desk, a red velvet chair and a rustic bench. Miss Stickney, a rather trim yet fragile appearing individual, presents a performance that is not just a reading of poems and letters, but is a thoughtful interpretation by a gracious person who manages to create in the minds of her listeners the pictures associated with the story of the life of Edna St. Vincent Millay.

One follows her from her childhood in New Hampshire and Maine to her graduation from Vassar—thence through the period in Greenwich Village where some of her verse has been considered the voice of rebellious youth of the period who were bent on gathering "Figs from the Thistles" and burning their candles at both ends. From this we pass to the period in her life when she goes to Europe with assignments from "Vanity Fair", meets, loves and marries Eugene Boissevain, a Dutch importer. They return from Europe and establish their home at Steeple Top, near Austerlitz, New York. Here the genius of Millay flourished and many volumes of verse follow.

During the late Thirties an accident occurred and with this an injury to the back, but finally a recovery, after much pain and suffering.

In August, 1949, Eugene Boissevain dies. Vincent Millay elects to stay on at Steeple Top in an attempt to finish a book. Unfortunately she was unable to do this and dies in less than a year. Her death occurring after working most of the night on her poems.

All of this and more are told and portrayed in a poignant manner by Miss Stickney in a dramatic effort which must be considered a labor of love and devotion, since it would require such qualities to bring forth a portrait of such tenderness and appeal. The dramatization is much like the verse of Vincent Millay in that it is quite personal, filled with a fine sense of humor and above all entirely lacking in mawkishness.

Miss Stickney's performance is a beautiful jewel in a simple setting. Nothing more is required for a top talent, who with excellent diction and an appealing manner makes her character what she reallly was — a warm, vibrant woman who lived a full, happy and productive life.

This production was directed by Howard Lindsay who is Miss Stickney's husband. Together they compose one of stagedom's most outstanding duo.

Davis Sisters Wed Saturday In Double Ceremony At St. Paul's Church

MRS. FREDERICK TEETS

MRS. D. F. LANE

The double wedding of Miss Ona Geraldine Davis to Mr. D. F. Lane and Miss Brenda Lu Davis to Mr. Frederick Oneal Teets took place on Saturday, August 29, in St. Paul's Methodist Church, Oakland, with the Rev. Charles Godwin, pastor, officiating.

The brides are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Davis, Oakland. Mr. Lane is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lane of Mt. Lake Park. Mr. Teets is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Teets, Oakland.

Geraldine, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a full length gown of clipped Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over bridal satin. The bodice was styled with a sabrina neckline and long pointed sleeves. The skirt of tulle had embroidered medallions of lace and sequins. Her fingertip veil which fell from a crown of pearls was edged in scalloped lace.

Brenda, escorted by her uncle, James B. Frazee of Tempe, Arizona, wore a full length gown of Italian lace styled with a sabrina neckline and long pointed sleeves. The skirt had pointed tiers of lace over ruffled tulle. A fingertip veil of tulle and scalloped lace was held in place by a crown of pearls and sequins. Both brides carried white Bibles topped with feathered carnations and satin streamers.

Mrs. Merritt Feather played a program of nuptial music as well as the traditional wedding marches. Mr. Richard Pagenhardt sang "Because" and "Through the Years." Mrs. Feather played "The Lord's Prayer" as the couples knelt at the altar.

Miss Inez Davis, Oakland, was maid of honor and Miss Donna McWilliams, Johnstown, Pennsylvania, was bridesmaid for Geraldine.

Miss JoAnn Bachtel, Reading, Pennsylvania, was maid of honor and Miss JoAnn Sharpless, Oakland, was bridesmaid for Brenda. The attendants all wore matching dresses of white lace over orchid taffeta with matching veils. The maids of honor carried colonial boaquets of yellow feathered carnations and the bridesmaids carried bouquets of yellow and white feathered carnations.

Mr. George Sparks, Glen Burnie, served as best man for Mr. Lane and Mr. Walter Darrow, Baltimore, for Mr. Teets. Ushers were Mr. Glen Lane, Mr. Wesley Lane, Mt. Lake Park, Mr. William Melson, Washington, D. C., and Mr. Thomas Ward, LaVale.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social room. Mrs. Walter Ensminger, Cumberland and Mrs. James B. Frazee, Tempe, Arizona, aunts of the brides, served the wedding cakes. Mrs. Quinter Vonght, Ravenswood, West Virginia, served the punch and Mrs. Charles Davis, Oakland, aunt of the brides, presided at the guest books.

For traveling Mrs. Lane wore a plum colored cotton dress with patent accessories and wore a cymbidium corsage. Mrs. Teets chose a red figured cotton with matching accessories and a cymbidium corsage.

Playhouse Presents "A Lovely Light" By Dorothy Stickney

In presenting "A Lovely Light" as the climax of its fifth anniversary celebration, the Garrett County Playhouse is giving its clientele an opportunity to see one of America's most versatile and beloved actresses in an unforgettable and unique dramatic portrait of Edna St. Vincent Millay, renowned American poet. The audiences show their appreciation by their rapt attention from the moment that Miss Stickney comes on the stage until two hours later when she walks into the darkness as the poet departed from life.

Miss Stickney's exciting dramatization of Miss Millay's poems and letters is the result of a long-cherished enthusiasm which four years ago took the form of a resolve to present her favorite poet as, to quote Miss Stickney, "the great woman she was, generous, gay, courageous, and very hard-working."

It is thus that Miss Millay appears in Miss Stickney's three-act dramatization. "Dramatization" is a very important word here, for it is as if the poet were speaking out her own personality, revealing herself through her own words.

Miss Stickney has not chosen to trace her subject's biography step by step, but, by arrangement with her friend, Norma Millay, the poet's sister and literary executrix, has skillfully constructed a script that portrays the poet and gives the audience a well-unified concept of her progress through life.

Miss Millay's vivid personality shows itself in the very first scene of her awakening to the beauty of life on a summer morning just at dawn when she realizes that "nobody in the world" is awake but herself and, in sheer delight, watches the "sun come up over Penobscot Bay." There, as in other scenes and other emotions, the quality of the moods is conveyed by Miss Stickney's consummate naturalness, which is the mark of true art. There is great intensity of feeling but never anything that would be labeled as artificially theatrical. The actress's plain black costume is in accord with her desire to keep all the interest centered in her subject.

As the drama moves forward the poet's self-revelation continues through her steadily growing fame, her travels in Europe and later in the Orient; the twenty-five years with her devoted husband, Eugen Jan Boissevain, spent mainly at Steepletop, their home in the Berkshires, the sorrowful year of her widowhood, to the time when, at five-thirty in the morning of October 19, 1950, after hours of concentrated work on the proofs of another poet's book, she writes her message of thoughtfulness to Lena, the woman who a little later will come to look after the house. Her final words, a postscript to the note, are "Good morning!"

"A Lovely Light" lacks less than a month of arriving at its first anniversary. It had its world premiere on the evening of September 22, 1958, at the Barter Theatre, Abingdon, Virginia. There, as in Oakland, it was admirably presented and was enjoyed by a distinguished audience. But there it had a slightly staccato quality at times, which has now been completely eliminated. The play proceeds with great smoothness from beginning to end. Some of Miss Millay's finest sonnets have also been added.

A feature of the Oakland production that should be especially mentioned is the handling of the lighting. Expertly managed, it not only indicates changes of scene and lapses of time, but gives emphasis to the kaleidoscopic thoughts and feelings of the poet.

The play can hardly fail to have a permanent place in drama. Bringing together as it does a many-faceted poet and a sensitive actress who, in the depth of her perception and in her imaginative understanding proves herself essentially a poet, also, it will live in the hearts and minds of an ever-widening circle of artists and appreciators of art.

On the technical side it has the benefit of direction of Miss Stickney's husband, Howard Lindsay, and the management of S. Hurok, which will continue to bring it success in the world of the theatre.

—Roberta D. Cornelius

Editor's Note: Miss Cornelius, professor emeritus of English at Randolph Macon Women's college, Lynchburg, Va., has her Ph.D. degree, and has reviewed one previous presentation of Miss Stickney which appeared in a college magazine recently. She knows Miss Stickney intimately and is well qualified as a critic of the theatre.

Eisenhower and Macmillan joined in a call for peace and a summit conference but the former insisted that Russia make known its willingness to cooperate.

Decree Will Favor Patterson Boat Co.

A bill of complaint was heard in the Circuit court Monday involving a former owner of a marine business on Deep Creek Lake and the company to whom he sold. Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley was on the bench.

The Patterson Boat company, Inc., complained that John Milton Patterson, trading as John M. Patterson, company, was breaking his written agreement not to enter into any other boat, sales or service business for twenty years nor become employed by any owner or proprietor of a similar business, after selling his interests a few years ago to the present owners.

At the conclusion of the trial the parties agreed to a decree to be signed which would prohibit Mr. Patterson from doing any similar business or leasing his land to any person for such a purpose.

In the bill of complaint it was revealed that the property and equipment had been purchased for $47,000 by Julian V. Ayers, Washington county, and Claude R. Ravenscroft, Allegany county, and their wives, and that Patterson had agreed in writing not to enter any boat, sales or service business in the county for 20 years.

Despite this, the bill of complaint said, Patterson on August 25, 1958, purchased land on Deep Creek Lake, 5 miles from his former business for the purpose of establishing a similar business including anchorage and winter storage of boats, hauling and launching of boats and boat maintenance. The bill of complaint alleged it was illegal, unproper, malicious and in contradiction to the terms of agreement. It asked for an injunction restraining the defendant from engaging in competition and also suggested it was entitled to damages.

The respondent admitted purchase of land but denied it was purchased for establishing any boat sales business, but for the construction of a home and a building to house excavating equipment. He admitted leasing property to Charles B. Bowser, of Somerset county, Pa., and that there is a metal building on the property and that the lease provides for $100 per month as rental. He denied the other allegations.

William A. Gunter and William Geppert were attorneys for the boat company while W. Earle Cobey was attorney for Patterson.

Joyce Warnick Bride of Thomas P. Buser

Miss Joyce Etaine Warnick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parker Warnick, of New Germany, became the bride of Thomas Paul Buser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas U. Buser, of Cumberland, in a double ring ceremony solemnized Sunday, August 16, in Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church, New Germany. Rev. Paul Westcoat officiated.

The altar and chancel were decorated with arrangements of palms and bouquets of white gladioli and asters. Miss Gail Kesner played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Everett Wade who sang "I Love You Truly," "O Perfect Love," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Lee Pryor was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Elaine Moore and Miss Nancy Murray, cousin of the bride. Miss Margaret Ann Phillips was flower girl. Lee Pryor served as best man. Gerald Warnick, brother of the bride, and Theodore Buser, brother of the groom, were ushers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full length gown of embroidered organdy, fashioned with fitted bodice, sabrina neckline, short sleeves, and four tiered skirt. Her veil of French illusion was held with a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white pompons and Stephanotis. Her jewelry was a single strand of cultured pearls, a gift of the groom.

A reception was held in the social room of the Evangelical and Reformed church at Grantsville, where the bridal moth was carried out in floral decorations and a four-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Charles Main, Mrs. Harry Murray, Mrs. Donald Lewis, Mrs. Joseph Stakem, Mrs. Nevin Warnick, Mrs. Robert Otto and Mrs. Mahlon Warnick served at the reception.

The bride is a graduate of Central High school, Lonaconing, and Frostburg State Teachers college. Prior to her recent resignation she was a member of the faculty of the Grantsville Elementary school.

By DICK CASTILOW

Well, school has started. I don't think the subject needs any further comment. You can sum up the general feeling in four words, some sad, some glad. Well girls, squeal if you want to. No more shorts of any kind at Teen Canteen. That is, after week after next. Then we won't allow any slacks or slim jims. Dresses and skirts only. Sorry but that is the way it has to be. Tomorrow night we'll have a great big hop. All the new records and some that are our old favorites. The last week in September we will have D. A. and the Edsels, their show will start at nine.

Attention Northern High. You all are invited to Teen Canteen, you have a wonderful club on Saturday night at Grantsville but nowhere on Friday. Or this could be visa versa, if its versa I stand humbly corrected. While the weather's good I would like to have all kids from Aurora, and Eglon drive down and spend an evening with us at Canteen.

Three cheers for the Jivin' Five, they did a grand job and the kids danced like crazy.

What do you all think of the Crests and "The Angels Listened In"? Personal opinion, Great, Wow and More, More More.

Local boy doing great. . . . Bob Oliverio has been playing in all the best spots in Pittsburgh. At one appearance in a five and ten, Bob was appearing with Johnny Restive (The "Ya, Ya, Ya," and "The Shape I'm In" boy.) As it happened Bob was to do only three numbers. Well, our boy played much longer than the up and coming Restivo. (I don't think that Restivo is the only one up and coming.) "Three cheers, Bob, and all our best wishes."

By the way, schools in the area that want to contact me about a record hop, with a gala floor show, write to Dick Castilow at Liberty St., Oakland. I'm not bragging but I have the best floor show available.

No Boyland Bandstand this week, we are having a sports program instead. But next week for entertainment, records and all round good viewing it's channel 12 and Boyland Bandstand, with WBOY tv's Roger McCoy and me too.

I don't like Ronnie Hawkins and I hate "Mary Lou". Well, you all be sure to drop around Canteen Friday night and dance.

We'll see you tomorrow night about eight. P. S. Wear your dancin' shoes.

Complete Lifesaving Course

Seven Oakland boys completed lifesaving courses at Camp Whitethorn and were presented certificates one day last week after concluding a written examination. They had been instructed for the past several weeks by Anne French, Baltimore, a counselor at the camp.

Southern Students Rank High in Tests

Southern high students scored exceptionally high on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Tests administered to the group last spring, Kenneth Johns, Principal, announced today.

The test, used to measure broad aspects of the student's general educational development and given to cover 525,000 high school juniors indicated the school is providing a sound academic program for its college bound students, Mr. Johns said. Of the twenty juniors who took the test, fifteen students indicated very strong college level ability while the remaining five indicated some potential college level ability.

The test, which was divided into five different areas, showed the students to be unusually strong in science, mathematics and social studies. Twelve students scored above the 90th percentile in mathematics while ten students scored above the same percentile in the science part of the test. (Note: A percentile score tells what percentage of students had lower scores. For example, a percentile score of 50 indicates that 50% of typical second semester juniors had scores at or below that score.) Percentiles of 76 to 99 represent the upper quarter nationally. The 50% percentile represents "typical" performance among high school juniors nationally.

Other results of the test indicated the following: Eighteen of the twenty students who took the test scored above the 50th percentile in English. Fourteen of this latter group scored above the 70th percentile. Only one student scored below the 70th percentile in mathematics. Sixteen students scored above the 70th percentile in social studies. Seventeen students scored above the 73th percentile in science.

Lowest scores showed up in the word usage part of the test; even so 16 of the Southern students who took thte test ranked above the typical American high school junior, Mr. Johns said.

All twenty students ranked above the 60th percentile in the total composite score, eight of them ranking above the 90th percentile on a national basis. Only those students who ranked in the upper quarter of their classes took the test.

"Shortly after school begins, the results of the tests will be carefully analyzed by Ernest Spoerlein, guidance counselor, and teachers," Mr. Johns stated. "Because the test measured the cumulative effort of educational experiences over a long period of time, and because the tests emphasize the ability to use what has been learned, the National Merit Scholarship scores will serve both as an excellent guidance instrument and as a scholarship selection device. The results of these tests have proved to be the strongest predictor of freshman success in college," he concluded.

The three students who scored the highest on the test were Ruth Fox, 130; Maurice Brookhart, 129, and Kenneth Martin, 124. A score of 139 places a student in the top one per cent nationally.

Other students who took the test were Thomas Bergner, Mary Bittinger, Jack Broadwater, Marilyn Bucklew, Carl Callis, Gary Friend, Willard Ann Glotfelty, David Gonder, Jane Hanst, Steve Malone, Joyce McClung, Robert Miller, Sandra Palmer, Carolyn Spoerlein, Edward Umstat, Dorris Updyke and Kenneth Wenger.

Mr. Johns explained the five tests used in the battery as including:

English usage, measuring the student's educational development in understanding and using basic elements in correct and effective writing, punctuation, usage, capitalization, diction, phraseology and organization;

Mathematics usage, measuring ability of students to have mastered concepts of first year algebra, plane geometry, as well as ability to use arithmetical and mathematical principles in solution of quantitative problems;

Social studies, measuring student's educational development in ability to interpret and evaluate reading selections in history, economics, government;

Natural science, measuring student's ability to evaluate experimental data to appreciate the reasoning underlying experimentation and to gain new understandings drawn from the natural science;

Word usage, a test of general vocabulary measuring student's ability to recognize meaning of words at advanced high school and college level.

Picture Shows Park Amphitheatre In the Construction Stage

Last week's old photograph was taken during the construction of a building still standing—the Garrett County court house.

Today's picture shows one stage in the building of an equally famous structure which no longer exists.

The photo was taken, probably in 1900, while the old Mountain Lake Park Amphitheatre was being built to house the thousands of persons who attended the annual Chautauquas held there under sponsorship of various religious groups.

When completed, the building could seat as many as five thousand persons, and among the orators who participated in the activities was William Jennings Bryan.

Mountain Lake Park was originally established as an evangelistic project of the Methodist church, but in later years passed into the hands of smaller denominations and finally ceased to be a church property and became a town in its own right.

This week's photograph is again through the courtesy of E. W. Adams.

Grantsville Wins 3rd Spot In League

Grantsville's Sluggers clinched third place playoff berth in the Pen-Mar Baseball league by edging Flintstone Sunday in eleven innings, 5 to 4 but the race for the fourth spot ended in a deadlock between Salisbury and Centerville when the latter won 7 to 6 in twelve innings. Barrelville wound up the campaign with a 15-game winning streak by routing Wellersburg 11-4. Hyndman, second place team, edged Mt. Savage 8 to 7.

The playoff for fourth place between Salisbury and Centerville was scheduled for Wednesday.

Grantsville defeated a stubborn Flintstone team in the 11th inning after two down when Annie Perry belted a homer that went over the centerfield fence. John Keister emerged the winning pitcher, yielding only six hits. He struck out 16 and issued four passes. Manager Bob Keister slammed a double and two singles. Perry rapped two singles in addition to his homer. Tucker Cain got two doubles and Butch Young, John Keister and George Lauder each had two singles for Grantsville

Going Against God

Lesson for September 6, 1959

YOU WOULD never think that such a fool lived on earth as to try to go against God. But there not only have been such fools, there are such nowadays, and you and I, dear Reader, may be two of them. Look at the testimony of the Bible; look around you in the church and in the world; look into your own heart; and you may be convinced.

Yes, in the church and in the world; for even God's own people go against him, as fractious children kick and scream when their mother is trying to do them good. Consider the cases of Obadiah and Jonah. Obadiah is a little 2-page "book" mostly about the sins of Edomites, who were enemies of God's people to start with. Jonah is all about the sins of Jonah, one of God's prophets. The curious fact is that both the Edomites and Jonah were guilty of the same kinds of sins. Both worked against God.

Pride

The Edomites as a nation, at the time of Obadiah, were a proud people. They had wealth, they had power, they occupied a territory where an invading army had scarcely a chance. Being proud, they could not believe that any evil would ever touch them. They were immune, serene, never to be conquered. They had defied men; they were prepared to defy God.

Jonah the prophet also was proud. He was so proud, so sure he knew what to do and when to do it, that when God told him to go preach to Nineveh, he not only did not go but he paid the fare for a long sea voyage in the exactly opposite direction, to Tarshish. The peak and center and symptom of the sin of pride is this conviction, "God doesn't know best; I do!"

Violence

The prophet Obadiah condemns Edom, in the name of God, for their violence in war against their "brother Jacob," meaning Israel. We all object loudly to violence in war when somebody else is doing it. From the days of Grant and Sherman, whose names are not yet revered in the land that sorely felt their violence, to these perilous times when we can't say enough against the Russian rocketeers, the victims of violence don't like it. The thing the Japanese did to us at Pearl Harbor we did to them, only more so. We didn't like it when they did it; they didn't like it when we did it.

But it is not only "godless" nations that love violence. God-fearing individuals may be found shrieking "Kill him!" Jonah the prophet (to get into next week's story a little) was not content with preaching as the Lord commanded. He wanted to see Nineveh burn, and was bitterly disappointed when the fireworks did not go off.

"You Stood Aloof"

A careful study of Obadiah 11-14 shows that what Edom did to Israel was not so much actual attack, as it was just standing by and doing nothing, or cheering on the armies which did the fighting. The Edomites were the looters, the camp-followers of the main enemy. They did comparatively little actual damage themselves, but they were pleased to see it done.

Jonah likewise kept himself aloof from Nineveh and Ninevites. He did not encourage their repentance, he did not like it. He evidently thought the only good Ninevite was a dead one, not a repentant one. He could not put himself in their place. He could sympathize with God's anger, but not with his mercy. The 120,000 babies of Nineveh meant something to God; nothing to Jonah.

"As You Have Done—"

God plays no favorites. Going against him is complete folly, it is absolute sin. If God had no use for violence, pride and selfish aloofness in the time of the prophets, has he changed today? Is America such a favorite nation with God that all our own pride and violence can go unnoticed by the Almighty? "As you have done, it shall be done to you" echoes down the ages as a warning to all. Wind is the seed of whirlwind.

Suggestions Made on Deep Creek Policing

A suggestion that private boatmen be used as a waterfront patrol in Anne Arundel county for more effective policing of a Chesapeake Bay area was made Tuesday at Annapolis. Since the suggestion is one that might be applied successfully to Deep Creek Lake, the story is being reprinted.

A plan to establish a volunteer auxiliary waterfront patrol to police Anne Arundel county's waterways was proposed by Chief of Police Wilbur C. Wade. The plan is to be presented to the county's board of police examiners for approval. The auxiliary unit would consist of private boat owners who would be trained in police methods by members of the county police department.

Boats would be plainly marked as police vessels and assigned special patrol areas. Such a patrol should be an effective deterrent to both thieves and reckless boat owners who have been operating along the miles of water front. The police department there has been swamped with reports of reckless boating practically every week-end. The department feels proper policing with the limited number of men available is an impossibility but a service residents should have.

The department agreed with Senator Phipps that "we have the laws on the books to prevent reckless boating but not the personnel to effectively enforce them."

Protective members of a such a policing group would have to be carefully screened and trained for the duties which they could perform. Chief Wade said he felt that many responsible boat owners would be glad to volunteer for such duty. One hour a week of classroom training for all members would be required to acquaint people with their work before going out on the water. Applicants would be required to pass a test at the conclusion of the course to insure competent personnel.

Clearly marked police patrol boats should have the same effect on boat operators that marked police cars have on motorists, Wade said.

Wade's proposal was indorsed by the Maryland Criminal Justice commission and one member of the commission suggested that water safety and life saving courses be included in the training.

Kingwood Boy Held On Bad Check Count

Billy Reese Parker, 18, of Kingwood, W. Va., was being detained in jail at Columbus, Ohio, for investigation of passing bad checks.

Parker was arrested at a used car dealer's lot in Columbus after he had given the dealer a $7,400 check for the purchase of two cars.

Parker drove a Cadillac to the dealer's place and said he wanted to buy two cars. He gave a salesman a check and the alleged name of the president of the bank on which the check was written. The dealer called the man at a number given by Parker and was told the check was good. Parker then drove one auto off and said he would return Friday morning for the other car.

However the dealer called the bank again and was told the check was no good. So when Parker drove up Friday morning detectives were waiting. Parker also is wanted by authorities in Preston county and in Oakland. Bruce Close, deputy sheriff, said Parker was wanted here for passing an apparently worthless check amounting to $450 at the Sanders and Hershman garage.

The weighing of the 1959 beef calf crop in the recently formed Garrett County Beef Cattle Improvement program is about completed. Under the program all calves in the herd are weighed and graded each year, so that accurate records can be kept on production of each one in the herd.

As a result low producing cows can be culled with accurate information about their producing ability, Logan Weber, Hoover Myers and Wilbur Myers are enrolled in the program this year, according to Barry Carr, assistant county agent. Carr explained there was no charge to the producer who enrolls. Grading and recommendations are made by the Animal Husbandry department of the University of Maryland without charge.

Fishing Is Better; Weather Is Cooler

Fishermen were active in early morning or late evening to avoid higher temperature of the day and the cooler weather apparently helped to increase the successful catches. Most of larger fish were largemouth or smallmouth bass, with catches of pike, pickerel and walleye decreasing.

A Walleye was caught in Shingle Camp cove by Albert J. LeLuca, Bridgeville, Pa., measuring 18 inches, weighing 2 pounds. It was caught on a worm.

Burrell Mank, New Stanton, Pa., caught a 17-inch Pickerel near Thayer's barn on a worm, and Carl A. Skidmore, Frostburg, caught a 15-inch pickerel in Cherry creek cove, on a minnow. A 17-inch northern Pike was caught there also by Mrs. Agnes Skidmore, on a minnow.

Elmer Mayo, Morgantown, caught two smallmouth bass on crayfish, at Glendale one 19 inches, one 17. Trolling with an "Abu" spinner in Meadow Mountain cove, J. A. Ford, Washington, landed an 18 inch largemouth. Gene Nelson, Belle Vernon, caught a 23-inch, 5 pound largemouth on a minnow near Harvey peninsula and creeled two smallmouth 18 and 19 inches in the same area. One he took on a minnow, the other on a crayfish.

A 22-inch largemouth of over six pounds was landed by Reno Monceini, Monessen, Pa., while trolling with a plug in Pawn Run area.

Fishing with crayfish in Hoop-pole cove R. W. Schisler, Latrobe, got a small mouth of 20½ inches. Charles Brant, Somerset, Pa., caught a 19-inch largemouth in Poland Run cove, on a minnow, and Victor Frosini, Finleyville,, Pa., caught an 18-inch smallmouth while trolling with a minnow near Deep Creek bridge.

Cecil C. Edwards, fish culturist assistant, asked fishermen to continue to mail census reply cards and to keep the fish tags coming.

Satisfaction - - - - -

An interesting story is going the rounds and should be continued on its way by people everywhere. It's about a storekeeper, who, in traditional fashion, said "thank you" to a lady customer as he took her money for her purchase and she surprised him by saying:

"Thank you! You've done me as big a favor as I have you. I wanted this item more than I wanted the money I paid for it. We both profit!"

That is the way of all free enterprise, for every purchase and sale is a voluntary exchange for which the customer is as grateful as the merchant.

That would be a good story to get to the ears of Khrushchev when he comes to this country. Voluntary, free enterprise is designed to make people happy. It supplies what we want, and in so doing has created the richest nation in the world.

Does anyone in his right mind want to exchange this for government-managed economy, welfare statism, or socialism, in which ultimately nobody is satisfied?

State Winner In Junior Broilers

RALPH BUCKEL, JR.

Ralph Buckel, Jr., 4-H club member from Bittinger, is the 1959 Maryland State winner in the Junior Broiler Production program. A trophy and a $25 saving bond, given through the sponsorship of the Maryland State Poultry Council, Inc., was presented during the 4-H banquet at the Maryland State Fair, Timonium, on September 4 by Grover C. Harris, Jr., Extension Poultryman.

Ralph was selected as a regional winner last May in the Western Maryland Broiler Exhibit held at the Sterling Processing Plant, Oakland. The six-bird sample displayed from Ralph's entry of 100 averaged 3.85 pounds each for an eight-week growing period. These birds were the White Vantress—Arbor Acre Cross variety. A total of 1600 broilers have been raised by Ralph in the past five years he has participated in the program.

President of his local 4-H club, Bucky, as he is known to his friends, started his 4-H project work in 1954 with a Sears Foundation Dairy calf. His Entomology Project, which he has carried for the past four years, now consists of a total of 142 insects. Demonstrations and display of his collections have created interest in this project among other 4-H'ers and won him many blue ribbons. Beekeeping, part of the Entomology work, is, according to him, "one of the most interesting parts of my project and many of my friends have received gifts of honey." A speech based on his Entomology project won Ralph county and regional honors and participation in the State Public Speaking Contest.

"Through 4-H work", Ralph says, "I have learned to accept losing as well as winning. Losing encourages me to try harder and do my best in all I do." Among his recent winnings, was that of a State 4-H delegate to the American Institute of Cooperatives in August at the University of Illinois. A scholarship to the 1959 Club Week was achieved on his county electrical demonstration.

Elected Vice President of the Garrett 4-H County Council this year, Ralph has helped with many county activities such as Achievement Night, Fair float, and Camp-

The new work will expand the long distance network and provide protection from [illegible] age.

Three Hospitalized Following Car Wreck

Five persons were injured and three of them hospitalized on Saturday with injuries sustained in a one-car accident on Backbone mountain, about two miles west of Bloomington on route 135.

Admitted to Potomac Valley hospital in Keyser were Mrs. Virginia Mae Wilson, aged 39, of route 1, Bloomington, who was the most seriously injured; her husband, Forrest Raymond Wilson, 39, and Dailey Woodward Shockey, 39, of route 1, Keyser, driver of the automobile.

Hospital attaches said that Mrs. Wilson was somewhat improved. Condition of the other two was considered "good".

Trooper R. C. Dishong of the State Police said the driver was traveling west on the highway about 4:15 p. m. and apparently fell asleep at the wheel. The car left the north side of the highway, hit some rocks and continued on for some distance before turning over on its top.

Judge Will Issue Opinion in Suit

Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley will file an opinion in a civil action heard yesterday in the Circuit court here between owners of a Deep Creek Lake motel on U. S. route 219, and owners of a coop housing chickens on the other side of the highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Vannucci, owners of Point View Inn, brought suit for an injunction against Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harvey, owners of the chickens.

Witnesses, including a number of motel guests, testified on behalf of the plaintiffs and several testified for the defendants. The trial opened at 10 a. m., and concluded at 4:30 p. m. when Judge Fraley indicated he would file an opinion later.

In the declaration filed by Frederick A. Thayer and Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., of Oakland, attorneys for the plaintiffs, it was contended that the chickens had lowered the value of their property. They also declared that the chickens kept their tenants awake.

The object of the suit is to have an injunction issued against the Harveys, ordering them to move their chicken coop.

In the answer filed by Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., Westernport, attorney for the defendants, he countered that the tourists staying at the motel disturb the chickens and as a result they have stopped laying, or have reduced the number of eggs. He also contended the chickens were there first.

Jailed For Assault

Solomon Tasker, 43, of Mt. Zion, was lodged in the county jail last evening after allegedly shooting his wife in both legs with a 12-gauge shotgun blast.

Sheriff James F. Frantz, who made the arrest, said the couple had an argument and Mrs. Tasker declared she was going to the law. Frantz said he was told that Tasker then said if she went for the law he would shoot.

As she went up the road, he fired at her, hitting her with shot in both legs. Frantz said he would be charged with assault with intent [illegible] The shooting occurred about 4:30 yesterday afternoon.

Student Rolls Now Total 4802

Still More Due To Come In Before End Of Month

Enrollment in the county schools increased to 4,802 students this week, it was announced by Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools. This was 14 more than the peak carollment reached in the county last year, and it was almost certain that more would come in before the end of September.

Mr. Hawkins said one seriously crowded condition had been reported at the Red House school and the Board authorized transfer of some of the pupils from there to Swan Meadow and Loch Lynn schools.

Mr. Hawkins said all schools seemed to be well organized in advance and got off to a good start the first few days they were in session.

At a meeting of the Board of Education on Tuesday the members also discussed classroom needs at the Bloomington school and decided to adhere to their original plan of constructing three rooms with a basement all-purpose room. The anticipated increase in enrollment in this school over the next five to ten years will require at least a three room addition, they felt.

The superintendent reported attending a meeting of county superintendents in the state whose counties do not receive special federal aid for operation of their school systems. The purpose was to discuss some way to bring about an adjustment in the amount of money received by counties not included in the federally impacted area bills and those that are.

Mr. Hawkins pointed out that in a sense counties receiving money through the former had their schools financed by state plus substantial amounts from the federal government and because of this federal aid that some counties were able to pay a higher salary scale than others. Another meeting has been called by the State Superintendent of Schools on September 16 for further discussion.

It was announced that Dr. Willard S. Elsbree, from Columbia

Four-H'ers of Garrett were well represented in the Maryland State Fair at Timonium by Ralph Buckel, Jr., Judy Buckel, Roger Beitzel of Bittinger; Roger Roderick, Deer Park; and Tom Magruder, Westernport.

Ralph Buckel, Jr., won the top state award in the broiler production project, the story of which appears elsewhere. Tom Magruder, District Public Speaking winner, was selected to give invocation at this banquet.

Roger Beitzel, tractor operator participant, placed third in the State Contest of 20 contestants. Roger, the sixth operator, held the lead of all others until the last part of the contest when he was passed by Charles Bell of Dorchester County and the winner, Charles Carpenter, Frederick County.

The points-off system is used in the Tractor Operators' Contest with the winner having the lowest total score. Five parts make up the contest. Roger's points on these items were: Written exam, 80; Practical exam, 75; Safety, 0; Operation, 174; Belting, 91. The total for Roger was 423 with the second place winner receiving 393 and the first place 306.

Tom Magruder placed fourth in the field of nine contestants in the electrical demonstrations class given on Friday, September 4. "Making an Extension Cord" was the title of his demonstration.

Taking part in the dairy judging event on Saturday, September 5, were Ralph Buckel, Jr., Roger Beitzel, and Roger Roderick. Judging in the 4-H Dairy Show means that 4-H'ers place cows in two classes of heifers and two classes of cows in four breeds - Ayrshire, Jersey, Holstein, and Guernsey. They submit to the judges two sets of written reasons and give two sets of oral reasons to justify their placings.

A member of the color guard for the 4-H Parade was Judy Buckel who was a delegate to the 1959 National 4-H Conference in Washington, D. C. Four-H'ers honored Maryland's Farm Queen, Allie Boice, of Prince George's County with an elaborate parade before the Timonium Fair grandstand. Earlier on Sunday, a church service was held for all 4-H'ers on the Fair grounds. Ralph Buckel, Jr., and Roger Beitzel were selected to serve as ushers for this service.

Assisting the 4-H'ers and carrying out various activities at Timonium were Paul Stull, tractor local leader, and E. Rankin Lusby, Assistant County Agent.

Court Docket Is Due To Be Light

The docket is expected to be light when the September term of court gets under way this month, it was indicated by court officials.

The September Grand jury will convene on Monday morning, September 14, at 10 o'clock.

Both the petit and grand jurors will line up with very few changes since they were first selected several weeks ago. At that time fifteen women were chosen for jury duty for the first time since the passage of the law granting women the right to serve.

The law didn't actually compel a woman to serve on a jury but after being selected, if she doesn't want to serve she must go through a stretch of "red tape." She must present her objections in writing to the clerk of the Circuit court within a certain period after being notified that she had been called to duty. Three women did object. They were Agatha Black Beachley, Patience W. Grant and Hallie B. Pritts. But when new names were selected to fill the vacancies, two of them were women. Selected in the second group were Pearle E. Campbell, Glenna DeWitt and George L. Porter. All were assigned to the petit jury. Dewey Gnegy was excused from serving on the grand jury and Webster C. Herring was named in his stead.

The grand jury, after convening on Monday morning will hear the charge to the jurors delivered by Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley, after which they will begin their investigation into alleged infractions of the laws. When their investigations are completed they will make an inspection of county buildings and look over the books of the County Treasurer and the Commissioners office.

The petit jury is scheduled to appear for duty on Monday, September 28, at 9 o'clock a. m.

11 Hospitalized As "Diplomat" Hits Stalled Bus

Seven students of Southern High school and Dennett Road Elementary school were killed this morning when the school bus of Leroy Campbell, 49, stalled on the Mt. Lake Park crossing and was struck by the Diplomat, east bound passenger train. It was the worst accident in the history of bus transportation in the county, and was the first time for a fatality in the school program's history.

Four were killed instantly and were taken to the Minnich Funeral home in Oakland. Three others were taken to the hospital and were pronounced dead there. At least twelve others were in various degrees of injury, some of them seriously. Eight others were given emergency treatment at the hospital but were not injured, hospital attaches said.

Six of the seven killed were identified before noon today. They were Lee Hoffman, son of Raymond Hoffman; Merle Harvey and Nancy Lee Harvey, children of Mrs. Shirley Wright; Nancy Deems, Richard Hinkle and Shirley Lee. One other girl had not yet been definitely identified.

Among those hospitalized were Nancy Ringer, Deanna Sutton, Marjorie Byers, Mary Jane Lee, Delores Shaffer, Mary Ellen Hayre, Patty Hinkle, Jimmy Hinkle, Olen Hinkle, Frances Dixon and Sandra Patton.

Those examined but released were Mary Harvey, William Harvey, Larry Harvey, Victor Ervin, Roy Dixon, Gladys Dixon, David Friend and Marjorie Paugh.

School officials were trying to make a detailed check of whom should have been on the bus and who had not reported to school this morning.

Leroy Campbell, the driver, was in a state of shock at the hospital but apparently was not seriously injured. He said that the bus stalled on the crossing. He tried to get it into gear but failed and when he saw the train approaching he ordered the children to get out quickly. He thought all but twelve or fifteen had been able to get out of the bus safely.

The rear of the bus was jutting over the eastbound track and it was caught by the Diesel and carried up the track for about 100 feet. The rear of the bus was totally demolished. The blinker lights were still operating when people began to arrive on the scene. All available ambulances were called into service and all students were taken to the hospital.

Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, said there would have been students on the bus from both Southern High and Dennett road elementary. Just a few days ago some children had been transferred to the Dennett Road school from the Deer Park school on account of crowded conditions, and should have been passengers on the bus. The bus had come from Deer Park by the

Try Our Want Ads—They Pay

THE COUNTRY-PULPIT

WEEKLY SERMON
Pastor P. F. Nieuwkoop

Sailors Pay To Curse

A novel attempt to curb habitual cursing among sailors aboard the Apollo was revealed by the Royal Navy Chaplain. They fastened a box on the mess desk with a sign attached to it:

"You said a naughty word.
You are sorry for what you have done,
So pay your fine.
For mild and sissy swear words - - One penny.
Out and out cusswords - -
Two pence.
The kind that curdles milk - -
Three pence.
The kind that kills termites - -
Six pence."

The Chaplain might have experienced better results if he had attached the Commandments instead of the humorous inscription to the box. Cursing is no joke before the Holy God. He says, "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh His name in vain." (Exodus 20:7) Surely it will take more than six pence to square such behaviour with God. The penalty attached to such sin is death. In Leviticus 24:10-23, we read of the penalty being administered. Even though we are living in the "Age of Grace" during which the penalty of the law is not carried out, yet such sin is charged against the sinner for judgment. Only repentance and faith in Christ can absolve the blasphemer.

The American Way

A RESPONSIBLE PRESS
By JOHN T. FLYNN

(Editor's Note: John T. Flynn is a noted author lecturer and radio commentator.)

It goes without saying that one of the bulwarks of a free society is a free and responsible press.

Certainly the press in America, thank goodness, is still free. But it is becoming difficult to escape the conclusion that a small segment of the American press is no longer responsible. Ordinarily, this would not be too important, since we have plenty of responsible daily and weekly newspapers to offset the small group of papers which give evidence of irresponsibility. But it has now become of great importance, because these papers are not little fly-by-night sheets, but among the most influential newspapers in America.

I have in mind especially the New York Times and the New York Herald-Tribune which particularly in the case of the Times have a nationwide influence, and the Washington Post and Times-Herald which exerts great influence in the capital of the United States. These have all been fine newspapers in the past. But in recent years they have come to be mouthpieces for the "liberal"-leftists. And the "liberal"-leftists are the most reactionary of all reactionaries. Facts mean nothing to them. The only thing which counts is complete adherence to the "liberal"-leftist line, regardless of facts, truth and even moral values.

Let me give you an example of what I mean. Part of the "liberal"-leftist line is hatred and denunciation of the late Senator Joe McCarthy. I do not pretend to understand the source of this unreasoning hatred. I know only that it has been visited upon all those who fight the Reds and their dupes in America. It was, and is, particularly virulent in the case of the late Senator because he was one of the most effective in uncovering the communist infiltration of the United States government.

Now there was recently published—two years after the Senator's death—a book about him which is a tissue of falsehoods, innuendoes, sneaky and snide implications, and some of the vilest name-calling I have ever seen in print. It is, in other words, a thorough smear job with no basis in fact or truth. Here are just two examples, among dozens, of the gross mendacity of this smelly performance.

The book calls Senator McCarthy "vulgar" and "profane." But it was a cause for continual surprise among people who knew the Senator that he seldom used even the everyday cuss words so common in most men's language — even though he had plenty of provocation. Another favorite smear of the author of this book is that Senator McCarthy drank himself to death. The proof? That during his last days he was seen "lurching" down the corridors of the Senate Office Building. The man who wrote this calls himself a reporter. But he never bothered to find out—or if he did, he failed to report it—that the Senator's so-called "lurch" was due to a steel brace on a very painful leg.

All this, of course, is no more than we can expect from the author of this smear. He was once an editor of the communist magazine, New Masses. Later he worked for the far leftwing magazine The Nation. Now he's known as a "liberal"—one of that large batch of fuzzy-minded individuals who bathe themselves in a sea of hatred of all those who fight the Reds and their dupes.

Now what has all this to do with the responsibility—or irresponsibility—of the newspapers I have named? In the old days, a baseless diatribe, like this, would have been ignored, or would have been dismissed for what it is—a deliberately planned libel of a man who cannot fight back. But note how the supposedly responsible New York Times, New York Herald Tribune and Washington Post and Times-Herald acted. They sang paens of praise for this libelous attack on a dead American senator. That the book is full of gross inaccuracies, to say nothing of outright falsehoods, made no difference. That it is evident the book represents no documentation or research, made no difference. That the author was once an editor of a communist magazine made no difference. The "liberal"-leftist line says hate and smear McCarthy. And so three great, influential newspapers, as thought led about on a leash, join the chorus. You can call this anything you like, but I say these newspapers have lost their sense of responsibility.

Grid Prospects Bright At S. H. S.

Southern High's football prospects for the year turned brighter during the week as thirty-one boys reported for varsity practice and twenty-nine junior high students reported for practice, according to Richard Travis, athletic director.

The new Senators From Hawaii

On Monday there was a ceremony-making event on the Senate Chamber. The newly elected Senator from Hawaii (no 50th State of the Union yet) were sworn in. One was Hiram L. Fong, the first U. S. Senator of Chinese parentage and therein lies the historical note. Senator Fong began his career in Honolulu as a shoeshine boy and caddy. Today, at 51, he's a multi-millionaire attorney and businessman. He is a scholarship graduate of Harvard Law School, and was Speaker of Hawaii's House of Representatives for three terms.

Prior to being sworn in, Mr. Fong and the other new Hawaiian Senator, former Hawaiian Governor Oren E. Long, native of Kansas, tossed a coin to see who would be the Senior Senator. Fong won. Then, after being sworn in, and in the presence of the entire Senate body, the two new members drew slips of paper from a box to determine which one would get the long term, ending January 3, 1965. This was in accordance with Senate rules. Again, Fong won. Senator Long then drew the second time to see whether he'd have a "2 year" or a "4-year" term. He drew the "4-year" term. The new Senators received prolonged applause from both sides of the aisle" and from the visitors gallery, everyone standing.

The significance of the outcome of the Hawaiian election should not be lost. One Senator is Republican; one, Democrat; the Congressman is Democrat; the Governor and Lieutenant Governor are Republican. Their names are, respectively, Chinese, English, Japanese, Irish, and Hawaiian. The results of the Hawaiian election are curiously comforting. The jumbled results seem truly American. The manifest independent thinking of the Hawaiian citizens gives us all the more reason to welcome the Hawaiians as Americans, through and through.

"Aloha"—We understood that that means "Hello" or "Love" or "Peace be with you"?

Significant Results Of Our Poll—The questionnaire was sent to our mailing list of about 600 citizens of Maryland. I believe there are more Democrats on the list than there are Republicans. The list includes doctors, lawyers, ministers, engineers, teachers, farmers, white-collar workers, blue-collar workers, clerks, carpenters, bricklayers, stockholders, laborers—people of every profession and trade in every part of the State. In addition to our own mailing, numerous newspapers over the State carried the questionnaire and many of those were clipped, filled out, and sent in. The answers (1,591) were sincere and intelligent.

Americans are well informed. Our people constantly look at and try to appraise the world around and our problems on the home front.

The vote was 3 to 1 to a tax on the ground-rent "rather than [illegible] other taxes" to pay for the highway program. The Republican philosophy of stopping subsidies and pork-barrel was backed by a whopping 80 per cent. About 91 per cent favored labor reform legislation. The vote favoring foreign aid was 2 to 1.

President's Special Message To Congress—Before leaving for Europe President Eisenhower sent special messages to Congress urging: 1 that a separate bill be passed authorizing additional FHA loan insurance, suggesting that this authority should not be tied to a Housing bill which he may be forced to veto because of "seriously objectionable features", (2) his previously suggested raise in the gasoline tax to pay for the highway program indicating that he would accept a 1 cent tax increase although he had originally asked for 2½ cents, and (3) the removal of an interest-rate limitation on long-term Government bonds so that the Federal debt may be managed. This is of great importance to our whole economic structure.

Three Of My Bills—I am co-sponsoring a bill to provide a health benefits program for retired Government employees not covered by previous legislation. I am confident it will pass early in 1960 in the second session of this Congress.

Earlier in the present session I introduced a bill which would adjust salaries of the police of the National Zoological Park to bring them in line with salaries of Washington Metropolitan police. Later, a bill was introduced and passed in the House which would give the Zoological Park police a nominal increase. Although the amount of the increase as provided in the House bill is inadequate, it is of course better than nothing, and I will support it in the Senate, if it then appears that there is no likelihood of getting my own more generous bill through.

On the Senate Floor, I urged the adoption of an amendment which would require that shipments of surplus agricultural commodities export vessel at a United States port. The effect of this would be to prevent the diversion of millions of tons of commerce away from United States ports and into Canadian ports, by way of the St. Lawrence Seaway. The practice which I seek to stop would subsidize Canadian ports with U. S. funds and, at the same time, deprive our own ports of much needed commerce.

Teachers Exchange Program Under Way—The U. S. Office of Education has announced that 564 teachers from the United States and 29 other countries are taking part in this year's teacher exchange program. Teachers from Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Chile, Cuba, Denmark, France, Germany, Italy, England, The Netherlands, New Zealand, and Norway have arrived here this month. An equal number of Americans will go to these countries.

The list of U. S. exchange teachers includes these from Maryland: Seymour Pollock, Washington College, Chestertown; Miss Marian Frances McNamara, Wheaton Senior High School; Miss Jeannette Andersen, Woodside School, Silver Spring; Curtis O. Gilpin, Fort Hill High School, Cumberland; Andrew Krasulski, Glenridge Junior High School; M. Jastrow Levin, Baltimore Polytechnic Institute; Miss Joan Mullikin, Rodgers Forge Elementary, Baltimore; Mrs. Jean Wootten, Wicomico Senior High School, Salisbury.

The Luxury Of Limited Government—As the government gets big-

Is Your Name ROWAN?

Rowan, an old and honored surname, is principally of English, Scottish and Irish origins. In the first two of these categories, Rowan was often bestowed, when surnames first came into vogue, upon those whose homes were adjacent a rowan or mountain ash tree. It is said also that Rowan was the name frequently applied to emigrants from the parish of Rowan in the county of Dumfriesshire, Scotland.

In its Irish aspect, Rowan stems from the Gaelic "ruadan" meaning "red or reddish brown," and it therefore served in mediaeval times to designate people of such appearance. It is the equivalent of such well known names as Roan, Ruan and Royan, and it was established in the Province of Connaught in the 11th century. It should be noted also that in Galway County, Ireland Rowan has sometimes been transformed to Ryan.

William Rowan (1743-1800) served as a captain of Pennsylvania troops during the Revolutionary War.

The first census of the United States, taken in 1790, has nine listings of persons by the name of Rowan who were residents of Pennsylvania and heads of families at that time. The census figures of Maryland for the same year contain no references to the name of Rowan.

Volume number II of the Maryland Genealogical Bulletin contains a short article dealing with the Rowan pedigree.

Rowan County, Kentucky was named for John Rowan (1773-1843), U. S. senator from the state. Rowan County, North Carolina was named for Matthew Rowan who was prominent in early politics of that area.

Andrew Summers Rowan (1857-1943) was major, U. S. Army and the first U. S. Army officer to enter Cuba after the declaration of war against Spain.

Charles A. Rowan (1874-1940) was chairman of the board of directors, ger, the people get smaller. Big government is for little people. Only morally strong, self-controlled, self-restrained people can afford the civilized luxury of a limited government. It is good to remind ourselves of this basic principle, which should be the driving force of our private and public life.

The Next Best Thing—I recently heard of a man who built for himself a 1-inch TV set. When we consider the quality of some of the TV fare, a 1-inch TV tube seems like it might be a good idea. Watching the final gunfight of the day's final Western on a screen the size of the end of a quarter-pound stick of butter should help the average viewer regain his command of reality. A 1-inch TV qualifies as the next best thing to actually turning off the set.

Electric Hand Tools Should Be Grounded

With electricity now servicing almost all of America's farms, a tool that is becoming almost as common around the farm as a tractor is an electric hand tool. The uses for these tools on the farm are unlimited, but it must be used properly and safely, says the National Safety Council.

Ordinary voltages used for the operation of electrical hand tools can be fatal, so it is necessary to make sure the tool is positively grounded. If one uses an ungrounded electrical hand tool, and the frame becomes charged, the current may flow through the hand, arm, body and feet of the user to whatever grounded surface he is touching, reminds Guy W. Geinger, Extension specialist of the Agricultural Engineering Department, University of Maryland.

Such grounded surfaces include earth, concrete or brick floor and walls, radiators, all water pipes, gas pipes and other metal surfaces.

Many things cause the current to charge the frame and the hand tool user: (a) Water in the trigger switch, (b) Carbon from the motor brushes, (c) Broken or loose parts within the case of the motor or trigger switch, (d) Defective insulation of the motor windings, (e) Loose cord connections in the tool or attachment plug, (f) Worn or defective portable cords or cord connections. And various other defects and faults.

If the tool is defective or does not operate properly, take it to a qualified electrician for adjustment or repair. It may save your life!

Mrs. Moore is the widow of Dr. Archibald Moore who was superintendent of the Methodist church in this area for a number of years.

The House passed and sent to Eisenhower the labor bill fulfilling his demand for stern measures to fight racketeering in labor unions.

The Rev. William E. Carlson, pastor officiated.

Fall flowers and ferns decorated the altar and church. Miss Jane Guard was organist and accompanied Robert Savage, soloist, who sang "O Promise Me," and "O, Perfect Love."

Her fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a headpiece of seed pearls. She also wore a pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a white Bible with a shower of satin ribbons and topped with white orchids.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Friendsville Fire hall. White wedding bells and white flowers were used in the decorations. Mrs. Bernadine Friend was in charge of serving the cake and Mrs. Ray Savage and Mrs. Ernest Savage presided at the punch bowl.

For her going away ensemble the bride wore a blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

The bride is a graduate of Northern High school, class of 1957, and attended Frostburg State Teachers college, where she was a member of the college band. The bridegroom is a graduate of Northern High school and served two years in the U. S. Navy. He is employed by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company in Chicago. The couple will reside in Argo, Ill.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

Cuba, Castro and Communism

Like a fearless, unflagging fireman who always answers the bell, the United States can be depended upon to provide money and material to any anti-communist nation, and a few which are not, in serious trouble. It is rare indeed when we act solely for our benefit, but a situation has arisen which may force us to consider ourselves first. At this very hour and within a dangerously short radius of our shores, a revolutionary government speaks of forming a community of Latin American nations free from "imperialism." It is compelling to our self-interest, if that is not too disreputable a concept to endorse in this era of co-existence, to remain aware of that self-appointed spokesman, the present Cuban government.

After studying the disjointed harangues and disorganized projects of Fidel Castro, it is fairly evident that he is not a conscious operator in the international communist network. However, he surely seems sympathetic with theoretical communism and has an inordinate number of fellow travelers as advisors, including the minister of defense, the chief of military intelligence, the minister of communications, the minister of education and the secretary general of the workers' union. On a recent trip to Communist China, Violeta Teresa Casal, Castro's radio propagandist, stated, "our visit to China has been a beautiful discovery," and went on to assert that the "peoples of Cuba and China are very close to each other."

In view of these boasted ties, it must not be forgotten that Cuba is in our backyard, a few minutes by plane or guided missile from cities. When transpires in that country, and those reponsible for its course, must be kept under our most careful scrutiny. It would be simple but fatal to characterize the present Cuban revolution as another of those periodic flare-ups in the Caribbean for, in June of last year, Premier Khrushchev and Mao Tse-Tung issued a joint communique from Peking stating that one of their strategic aims in the coming months was "to liberate Latin America" from American influence and bring it into the Red fold.

Cuba might be, in their hands, the perfect core for a group of Latin American nations free from American "imperialism." And the danger is not entirely political. Santa Clara province in Cuba would be an excellent location for missile launching pads since it is 425 miles from Cape Canaveral, 800 miles from New Orleans and less than 1,000 miles from the Panama Canal. It could very well be that one of the next crises for the United States will not come from Formosa or Berlin, or Laos but from Cuba, a country which has been likened to a watermelon, "green outside and red within."

Brownies To Register

Members of the Oakland Brownie troop are to be registered for the new year on Monday, September 14.

Leader of Brownie Troop 2, Oakland, will be at the scout hall on that day, between 3 and 5 o'clock to take the names of the girls desiring to be active in the troop this year. This will include all Brownies previously registered. New girls between ages 7 and 10 are welcome but they must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. Forms will be available for each new girl to fill out.

The first regular meeting of the fall session will be held Monday, September 21, at 3:30. Mrs. Kenneth E. Ridder, Brownie leader, said there was an urgent need for assistant leaders. Women desiring to help may get in touch with Mrs. Ridder.

North Star 4-H Meets

SINGLE-INJURY CANCER

Q. Can cancer be caused by injury?

A. Many readers keep asking this question. Continued irritation or repeated tissue injury may lead to cancer but it is doubtful whether a single injury can. Breast cancer may be an exception. (In a study of 920 women with breast cancer, 120 remembered some slight injury before trouble developed.) In most other cases of supposedly single-injury cancer, the growth is usually noticed shortly after the injury. Recent studies suggest that quite a long time elapses between the very first start of the cancerous process and the development of outward signs of trouble. If this proves true, a cancerous growth might smolder along for months before it would become noticeable. Internal cancers might take even longer to develop enough to cause recognizable signs. It seems reasonably safe to say that, in general, an injury today isn't followed by cancer tomorrow or next week.

Q. I read Medical Mirror with great interest. Please discuss x-ray treatment for fibroid tumor of the uterus. Can too many vitamins cause cancer?— An Ontario reader.

A. There are three methods of treating non-cancerous uterine tumors, depending on the circumstances. The growth may be removed surgically, the entire uterus may be removed, or radiation (x-ray or radium) may be employed. In deciding whether or not to use radiation, the doctor will consider such things as the patient's age, size of the tumor, and nature of the symptoms. Radiation is perhaps most often used for smaller tumors when they occur in women at or near the change of life. As for vitamins causing cancer, an excess of vitamins has never been seriously considered as a causative factor. The cause of cancer remains unknown.

Q. My 5-year-old boy simply loves to inhale gasoline fumes. Could this harm his kidneys?

A. A whiff now and then might not be too harmful but the child should definitely not be allowed to inhale these fumes. Discuss the situation with your doctor. The real danger of repeated gasoline intoxication is the possibility of producing unconsciousness or fatal coma.

Your prescription dollars buy more cure today than ever before. While the cost of some medicines may seem high, they may actually save you hundreds of dollars in medical bills, hospital expenses and loss of income.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 166, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

Miss Lenora Schrock, organist, presented soft organ nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor length gown of white silk organza designed with long tapered sleeves and yoke of Chantilly lace. An empire waist line offset the skirt of her gown. Her fingertip veil of English imported illusion fell from an Edwardian cap edged in seed pearls and Chantilly lace and her colonial bouquet was white feathered carnations and pink sweetheart roses; streamers were knotted with feathered carnations in love knots. She wore a three strand pearl necklace, a gift from the groom. With her bouquet she carried a lace handkerchief given her by the groom's aunt, Mrs. Lillian Stemple.

A&P 100th Anniversary

In many summer vacation towns such as Oakland there is always a strange mixture of people this time of year. Any Saturday in town we notice the Bermuda shorts of the men and women from the lake as they walk about. We look at their dark tans and their happy faces as they enjoy their vacations.

Side by side these same people walk with the farmers who also are darkened by the sun. They appear tired at times from the hard summers work. Their faces are serious as they wonder if it will rain today. Some of them wear overalls as they must soon get back to work again.

Some of the vacation people are wealthy, some of them are not so wealthy. Some of the farmers are wealthy, some of them are not so wealthy. Many of the vacation people like to swim, many of the farmers do not like to swim.

Buicks, Fords, foreign cars, and station wagons are driven by both the tourists and the farmers. Food, clothes, medicine, hardware etc., are bought by both tourist and farmer. Both complain that the prices are too high. Both tourist and farmer complain that they themselves do not make enough money.

Saturday closes its eyes, the stores their doors, and Sunday begins. Into the Buicks, Fords, foreign cars, and station wagons go the tourists and farmers. Where are they going? To Church, at least some of them. And so these same farmers and tourists whom we have discussed will sit side by side in the church of their choice. They still bring their differences with them, although today they are dressed more alike.

As they participate in the worship services a strange thing happens to some of them. They stop their staring. They stop thinking about how different they are from each other. They stop thinking about themselves and they concentrate on God.

through the Sacraments that the one basic difference they both are guilty of has been taken care of by His Son, Jesus Christ. They have been forgiven, their faith tells them this in a very personal manner.

As the tourists and farmers leave their respective churches, they shake hands with each other and greet each other on an equal level. They have found out they are not so different after all!

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

Who's Ahead?

Incredible as it may seem in this strong vigorous nation, an apprehensive almost fearful mood frequently appears in discussion of economic competition between the United States and the Soviet Union. This tremulous attitude was born of Soviet boasts that its population will have the highest standard of living in the world by 1970, and it is sustained by those gullible Americans who place as much faith in statistics released by the U. S. S. R. as by our government. They do not understand nor remember that to a communist a statistic has little if any relation to the truth unless that statistic serves the cause of communism.

In this atomsphere, then, a report prepared at the request of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee is most welcome for despite the usual broad generalizations about the free wo[rld] ognizing the "need to put weight cooperatively behi[nd] range growth," it state[s] cally that the United Stat[es] ahead of the Soviet Union cally and will remain ah[ead] report projects present production, concluding 1970 Soviet gross national will fall "far short of our put—$400 billion for the U[nited] as against $720 billion United States." In fact, sumed Soviet GNP for 197[0] than that of the U. S. Furthermore, the report that the data for the Soviet level is suspect fo[r] of the pronouncements Mr. Khrushchev regard[ing] Soviet Union. . . are unreal[istic] seemed designed purely f[or] nal consumption and for pr[o]purposes in the underd[e]countries."

And as the United Sta[tes] ernment faces problems i[n] economy, Soviet lea[ders] confronted with serious in their forced economy. port acknowledges that t[he] serious labor shortages du[e] birth rates during World and that their agricultur[e] is a "weak element in t[he] tem." These are salient pressive observations a[bout] Soviet economic machin[e] described as perpetual, reality it skips and spu[rts] manding constant attentio[n] pair.

However, the preceding encouraging as it is, sh[ould] be used as an argumen[t] laxing or abandoning determination to meet th[e] challenge wherever it o[c]curs. We are engaged in a str[uggle] which our motto should be dent vigilance unswervingly maintained." Such a motto much more than what th[e] has believed in and ac[ted] throughout its history.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Psalms	84	1-4
Monday	John	14	1-3
Tuesday	Habakkuk	3	18-19
Wednesday	Luke	10	25-27
Thursday	Matthew	13	18-23
Friday	II Thessalonians	1	3
Saturday	Isaiah	58	1-2

Through All Of Life ...

Perhaps you see no significance to the hourglass superimposed on the Bible. But to the believer, it means that all of life is sustained by God's promises. Every day, every hour, He gives strength and help to His followers. The light of His Word shines steadily through the passing of time. The more you read, the deeper will be your understanding, the greater will be your joy. By entering wholeheartedly into the work of the Church, by giving it your support, you increase the value of your own life, and help others to see the light shining through each day's experience.

Throughout life's entire span, the Church will help us, the Bible will speak to us of God. Does the picture mean that to you? It will, if you look at it through believing eyes.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Bible Material: Jonah.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 67:1-7.

For All People

Lesson for September 13, 1959

JONAH is a strange sort of book. It was placed by the early Hebrew editors among the prophets; but there is nothing to indicate that Jonah wrote a line of it. It is a story about a prophet rather than sermons by a prophet. It is strange, moreover, that something good is said about every one mentioned in this book — all except Jonah. Further, while prophets were expected to proclaim God's word and will, this man Jonah argues with God and shows very plainly that he does not think well of God's attitude. Indeed, except when inside the fish, where the man was very pious indeed, Jonah's remarks are with one exception rather peevish.

Dr. Foreman

Blind Prophet

Nevertheless the reader learns a great deal from this book. Jonah is generally wrong, but God is right. The trouble with this fractious prophet was that he could not see things as God saw them. Maybe this makes him no prophet, some one will ask. To be sure, he is never called a prophet in this book, but he must be counted one, for he did finally say what the Lord told him to say. And still, his stubborn peevishness is much more in the picture than his obedience.

For one thing, Jonah could not see the repentance of Nineveh. Nineveh was the capital of Assyria, a nation which brought great disasters on the Israelites. Jonah evidently shared the general opinion of his fellow-Israelites at that period, that the only good Assyrian was a dead Assyrian. The sins of Nineveh were plain enough to Jonah. What he could not see was the people's repentance and faith. It is a strange contrast we have here: the people of Nineveh who believed God, and Jonah who did not; the people of Nineveh who repented and Jonah who (so far as the story goes) never did repent of his attitude to Nineveh. Jonah had what is now called a "stereotype" in his mind when he thought of a Ninevite, that is, a fixed picture which he could not change, a picture of a hopelessly godless and wicked man. A repentant Ninevite, weeping for his sins, was something so strange to Jonah that he could not see it.

No Eye for Children

At the end of the story, where God is explaining to Jonah why he (God) took pity on the great capital city, 120,000 persons are mentioned who "do not know their right hand from their left." It is generally supposed that this refers to children. God even speaks of the cattle; the divine interest in animals comes out in this book as nowhere else in the Old Testament. It is clear that Jonah had never thought of the children, much less of the cattle. What he wanted to see was fire from heaven, a burning city. That there would be innocent sufferers in the flames does not seem to have occurred to the man. Again Jonah had his stereotype of Ninevites.

"For Our Instruction"

"These things were written for our instruction," said a New Testament writer about the Old Testament. Certainly the book of Jonah has something strong to say to us here and now; so strong that it is hard to take. (The Israelites never did "take" the message of the book of Jonah.) We also have our favorite stereotypes, we think of people in certain fixed ways and we seldom think they could be otherwise. Let the reader test himself. What do these words suggest to you?—Negro, Russian, boss, farmer, banker, congressman, socialist, N. A. A. C. P., scientist, German, European, union organizer, bureaucrat? It is safe to say that many readers have fixed ideas about some of these, and perhaps some fixed hatreds. In war especially, we always think of the enemy, as Jonah did of Nineveh, in terms of the harm the enemy has done to us. It is a hard pill to swallow, and we don't know whether even Jonah managed to swallow it, but the fact is, we love everybody except our enemies, but God loves our enemies too. Peace will never come till Gods people begin to love the people God loves.

Teen Corner

By DICK CASTILOW

Hi! Everything really was swinging at Teen Canteen Friday night. We had a capacity crowd of 200 or more.

Flash!! Canteen is going to be held tomorrow night and from this week on every other Saturday night.

Teen Canteen will be open on Saturdays 'til 11 and the same admission as on Friday. There will be guest d. j.s' on the night that yours truly is booked elsewhere.

Friday night we had a lot of cats and catesses from round about this area. Especially, we enjoyed the visitors from Aurora.

You know these two weeks of school have been like one day.

The final Jimmy Rodgers Show which faded out on Tuesday night was the best yet. The Rodgers Show seemed like a drag during the summer months but this last one was a "doozey." Helping to made a real great half hour, was; Cathey Carr. Cathy did some of her part hits. Its seems to me that Cathy is one star who is rapidly fading and, as stars will, falling. Though Tuesday night was a great effort for lustre and height. Cathy scored. Also there was The Playmates (three shining guys of "Beep Beep" fame) who gave another bit of pep to the "Rodgers Show" with their latest "What Is Love." This is a number now on top lists all over the county. Well thus far we've had the sophisticated and the swinging, but that's not all. Johnny Cash, popular country songster and guitar picker did a great job on his most recent "I Got Stripes". The way it comes over my set Jimmy Rodgers would have done much better with a well rounded program like that every week. Well, so long summer replacement; hello "adult?" westerns.

If you get a chance tune to channel 12 WBOY in Clarksburg Saturday, afternoon for "Boyland Bandstand." We'll promise you two solid hours, 2:30 'til 4:30, of rockin' entertainment.

See you at Canteen tomorrow and Saturday night, au revoir. (Pardon my French.)

Prize money at the state fair totaled over $98,000.

Stewardship Sunday Set At Maple Grove Church

Sunday, September 13, has been designated as Stewardship Sunday in the Maple Grove Church of the Brethren at Grantsville.

In a spirit of worship and consecration, the members of the Church will be challenged to commit their lives and resources in a sacrificial way to bring to reality the dreams and opportunities of the Church both here and abroad. Following the sermon by the Pastor, the Rev. Charles M. Moyers, a group of men and women will be commissioned to serve as Missioners to call in every home to tell the story of the Church and to seek life commitments to Christ and His Church.

No commitments will be made at the morning service, but the occasion will launch the 1959 Mission to the Members, "That The World May Know." As the Church of the Brethren views its mission it sees the open doors for extending the church in new areas in America and abroad; it sees the world's passion for peace in the presence of tragic conflict; it sees the urgency of calling men and women to Christian vocations.

Treat Cattle In September For Grubs

Cattle grubs are severe pests of cattle of all kinds and ages say T. L. Bissell and W. T. Johnson, Department of Entomology, University of Maryland. Grubs are known in winter by the ugly swellings, called warbles or wolves, which appear in the backs of the cattle. They arise from eggs laid by heel flies on the legs of animals in early summer. In midsummer and fall the small grubs, which hatched and bored through the skin earlier, work upward through the animal's body toward the back. In late summer the grubs may be controlled by treating the animal with a systemic insecticide.

Two of these systemic insecticides are available, Co-Ral, and Trolene, also called ronnel.

Co-Ral is used in a water suspension and applied with a power sprayer. It is used only on beef cattle and only on those three months of age or older. Cattle should be placed in a pen and sprayed thoroughly.

Ronnel is used as a bolus, or pill, which must be given individually to animals held in a chute and headgate. It may be used on an animal of any age, adjusting the size of the bolus to the individual weight. Ronnel may be used on beef cattle to 60 days of slaughter and on dairy heifers up to 60 days of freshening.

Both these insecticides were tested on beef cattle on two Maryland farms, with the cooperation of the Animal Husbandry Department and County Extension forces, a year ago. Treatments were made last summer and the animals were examined several times for grubs the following winter. Among 61 treated calves, 8 grubs were found, not more than 2 to one animal. Among 37 calves that were not treated but kept in the same herds, 58 grubs were found as high as 15 in one animal.

Entomologists at the University of Maryland advise treating cattle for grubs in August or September. A later treatment, after the grubs have developed and reached the cow's back, is not likely to be as successful as one made now. Use Co-Ral or ronnel (Trolene) and follow directions on the package with care.

Congress Go Home—Let Congress is trying to wind up its work for this session and adjourn until January, when the Second Session of the 86th Congress will convene. It was never intended that Congress would be in session more than a few months out of the year. Attendance at Senate sessions is only one of many duties of a Senator. Adjournment will give me, as well as other Senators, the opportunity to catch up on a number of Senatorial duties which have had to be subordinate to attendance. The long and sometimes tedious work which has been done by committees and sponsors of bills would cannot be passed upon before adjournment will not be lost. The Second Session will take up where the First Session leaves off. Bill introduced in this session will not have to be reintroduced.

Debate In The Senate—This past week the Senate debated at some length the Lake Michigan water diversion bill. The point of the agreement is between Illinois on the one hand, and the other States bordering Lake Michigan, on the other hand. The latter argued that they would be adversely affected by the proposed diversion of certain lake water for the benefit of the City of Chicago.

The Senate disagreed to a House amendment to its bill relating to State taxation of interstate commerce and asked for a conference with a committee of the House. The bill is to prevent undue taxing conditions. States or political subdivisions from imposing a net income tax on income derived from interstate commerce.

The conferees on labor reform legislation ironed out differences and agreed upon a bill which I hope will settle some of the difficulties. From my recent poll, I would gather that about 91 per cent of the people of Maryland want strong labor legislation to protect labor union members and the public against those of the Labor officials who are unscrupulous.

Some Of The Things Your Senator Did—I cosponsored, with Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts, a bill which would permit the Federal government to continue to withhold State income taxes from the pay of Federal employees working in those States which provide for employers' withholding State income taxes.

Our Senate Committee on Banking and Currency, after such hearings, favorably reported the President's nomination of James Smith Rash to be a member of the Board of Directors of the Export-Import Bank. We also favorably reported the bill relating to the regulation of savings and loan holding companies. We finished our work on amending the Small Business legislation. One amendment would make more flexible the provisions about investments of small business investment companies. Another amendment would provide an additional $50,000,000 for business loans.

Wild Horses—Last week the Senate approved unanimously a House bill prohibiting the use of aircraft or motor vehicles to hunt wild horses or burros on land belonging to the United States. The bill went to the President for signature. This ends the inhumane round-ups and cruelty to Wild West horses and burros captured and slaughtered for pet food. The wild horses are the remnants of the great herds which came from the Spanish mustangs used by Indians and early pioneers of the West—the mustang immortalized in song and legend. The new bill gives the wild horses a chance for survival.

Fall-Out Danger: What 30 Experts Say—With protests against nuclear testing for fear of air contamination and contamination of pollution carried the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee to make a thorough study of "fall-out danger". The committee has just issued an exhaustive report. Summarizing the testimony of 30 experts, this report should relieve the more extreme fears. The conclusion is, fall-out is no serious hazard, although unrestricted testing in the future could create a danger. The report says that some scientists previously overestimated the threat because of the time and locations of their checks. Experiments ... suggest that previous estimates of the genetic consequences of radiation may be overestimated by at least fourfold," the report says. The experts rate the fall-out as far produced as "relatively small" compared with radioactive material normally present in nearly every environment.

Passing Welcome For Eisenhower—The warm reception given our President in Europe is significant to Bonn, Germany, fight to against the Iron Curtain, over 300,000 were crowding streets to cheer Mr. Eisenhower. More than half-a-million were in the welcoming throng in London, and the reception was almost hysterical. The welcome in Paris was just as big. The demonstrations of love and admiration for President Eisenhower were sincere, such spontaneity and warmth cannot be manufactured.

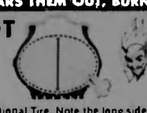
HOT



Conventional Tire. Note the long sidewall. As car weight presses down, sidewall flexes more than 700 times per minute on turnpikes. Heat reaches above the deadly 240-degree danger point.

COOL

A Final Demonstration Climaxing Ford's 3 Years and 3 Million Miles of Research and Development on the New Ford Falcon . . .

EXPERIENCE RUN, U.S.A.

A fleet of Falcons is going to undergo a final exhausting test . . . over every single mile of numbered U.S. Federal Highway . . . along a crisscross route that will include the ups and downs of two major mountain ranges, the challenges of every type of roadway and thruway, main street and boulevard.

TODAY...10 P.M. THE NEW-SIZE FORD STARTS ON ITS WAY TO YOU!

The Falcon, the New-Size Ford, already is the most thoroughly tested and proven new car in history. Today this new Ford Falcon starts EXPERIENCE RUN, U.S.A., over every mile of numbered U.S. highway

This is not a test run in the ordinary sense of the word. For in its 3 years of development and over 3 million miles of proving, the Falcon has already passed and repassed every kind of test that could be devised.

It's been dust-tested, heat-tested, and endurance-tested on the test track at Kingman, Arizona. Wind-tested and rain-tested in the 300 mph wind tunnel at the University of Maryland. Shock-tested, curve-tested, brake-tested, noise-tested, paint-tested, stability-tested, service-tested . . . everything tested on Ford's own proving grounds. The Falcon has already proved to engineers that it takes anything they can dish out.

Now, Experience Run, U.S.A. will show you what the Falcon can do over your kind of roads.

How many miles to the gallon? Records will be kept of every drop of gas used. Better gas mileage? The Falcon will average up to 30 miles per gallon!

On October 8, the New-size Ford will be at your Ford Dealer's . . . for you to experience. See your Ford Dealer today for more information on the Ford Falcon.

Oneness - - - - -

Tragedy last Thursday morning brought a feeling of oneness to the people of the entire area. We are sorr for the tragedy and we hope it never happens again but in the midst of our sorrow we felt glad that we lived in a community where this feeling of oneness could display itself on such short notice.

Willard Hawkins, in his Rotary bulletin of the week, expressed the thoughts of many of us quite clearly. Mr. Hawkins said, "I had very busy and I thought important schedules planned for last Thursday and Friday. I hurried to work Thursday morning to get at these important things I had to do, only to receive a call a few minutes later that took me to the scene of the accident. How unimportant all of my important work soon became.

"From this point on the Rotary Slogan—service above self—became a reality as I have never seen it become before. People everywhere dropped whatever they were doing and rushed to help, to get the children to the hospital, to give them first aid, to contact parents. It is hard to conceive how quickly the ambulance drivers delivered these 27 children to the hospital. The hospital staff, assisted by courageous volunteer helpers did a marvelous job handling the dead and injured as they were brought to the hospital. Every local doctor was on hand doing everything possible to save lives and comfort the suffering. Nurses poured in to help—doctors came from many nearby communities—every minister in the community was on hand to comfort the grief stricken—our state troopers did a yeoman job—people from everywhere reported to the hospital to offer blood, help in any way. I was one of many who appreciated as I never had before the fact that we had Garrett County Memorial hospital and its staff of fine doctors in our midst. Where would we have been last Thursday without this fine hospital?"

Yes, in the midst of our mourning, we were one of many who were glad we lived in such a community, with people ready to rise to any occasion—in a spirit of ONENESS.

Death Toll Still Remains At Seven

At Least One Still In Critical Condition

The death toll from last Thursday's tragic accident when the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's Diplomat crashed into a stalled school bus at the Mt. Lake Park crossing remains at seven children. However, at least one of the eleven other children injured in the wreck remained in a critical condition.

Four of the children hospitalized have been released from the Garrett County Memorial hospital. They are Mary Ellen Unyre, 14, Delores Shaffer, 11, Deanna Sutton, 12, and Nancy Jane Ringer, 11, all of Deer Park.

Still unconscious at the hospital is Patricia Ann Hinkle, who is in critical condition although somewhat improved. Her two brothers, Olen Hinkle, 13, and James Hinkle, 12, are reported "greatly improved" at Sacred Heart hospital in Cumberland.

Olen suffered fractures of both legs, broken face bone, deep lacerations of the scalp, legs and chest. His brother sustained a possible fractured skull, broken nose and bad lacerations of the face, nose and left ankle. Their sister sustained a right leg injury and a nerve injury.

Hospital attaches at St. Mary's hospital in Clarksburg, W. Va., reported that Marjorie Ann Byers, daughter of Mrs. Edith Byers, Deer Park, was considered "very well." The child underwent surgery Saturday and had shown much progress. She suffered a fractured hip, broken ribs and others injuries.

Preston Memorial hospital in Kingwood said Frances Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dixon, Boiling Spring, had also shown "great improvement." She sustained back and neck injuries.

Attaches at the Oakland hospital reported Sandra Patton, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Patton, Deer Park, as in "good" condition.

Those killed in the crash were Lee Hoffman, 11; Nancy Lee Harvey, 12; Shirley Lee, 12; Richard Hinkle, 11; Merle B. Harvey, Jr., 11; Nancy Deems, 14; Janet Deems, 12. Janet was the last one to be identified and the word came too late for her to be listed in last week's issue.

First Wreck For Driver

It was the first wreck of his career for Leroy Campbell, bus driver. He was hospitalized for shock but was released later in the day. He had been on the run for eight years.

At about 8:30 Campbell pulled up to the crossing. The motor stalled, and just then the flasher and bells at the crossing started. He told

LABOR DAY NO PICNIC—Labor day was no picnic for the mayor of Mt. Lake Park and his city council members. For they spent that day and many additional hours in constructing a bridge and repairing a roadway that has made it possible to make a complete circuit of Mountain Lake, giving easy access to Crystal Spring. On that day, for the first time in seventeen years, an automobile was able to make that trip. The bridge is shown in the photo, although almost completely hidden by the men and automobile on it, but it represented the culmination of many hours of free time and free labor. Most of the lumber, nails and other material were donated and citizens of the Park also contributed money toward the project. Contributors included A. D. Naylor and Company, Browning's, C. C. Mason Lumber company, Tom Schooley, carpenter, and others in addition to the mayor and councilmen. In the picture, front to rear, are Mayor C. C. Mason, Alfred Calhoun, Ted Woods, Walter Pollard and Earl Sebold.

18 Indictments Are Returned By Grand Jury

Limit Themselves To Recommendations About Bus And Lake Accidents

The September Term Grand Jury adjourned yesterday afternoon after examining forty witnesses and returning 18 indictments, limited itself to making recommendations about train-school bus accidents and Deep Creek Lake boat fatalities.

The jury was in session for three days and returned indictments against the following: Harley Webster Stemple, three charges of breaking and entering; Delbert Earl Campbell, one charge of burglary; Solomon Tasker, assault with intent to kill; Bill Barker, two charges of false pretense; and additional charges against men who have not yet been apprehended. These charges run: larceny and receiving stolen goods, 2; desertion and non-support, 4; non-support, 2; bastardy, 2. Barker is confined in the Preston county jail while Campbell, Stemple and Tasker are all in the Garrett county jail.

The jury, in its report, said that after inquiring into the facts, examining witnesses, and inquiry into laws applicable to the facts, that it earnestly felt "that true bills of indictment were not warranted." But the members did express a desire to assist in prevention of recurrence of such tragic events and made seven recommendations.

In reference to the fatal accident occurring on Deep Creek Lake the jurors made four recommendations. The investigation stemmed from an accident there several weeks ago which caused the death of Margaret Ann Kitzmiller, 26, of Keyser, after being struck by the propellor of a motorboat operated by a nine-year-old boy.

The jury recommended for buses, revolving flashing light on top of each bus, surprise period spot checks for mechanical defects, and of bus drivers, emergency drill training held for evacuation of children from buses, steps taken to eliminate overloading, that bus routes be changed, if possible to eliminate unnecessary crossings, that speed of trains be lessened at designated crossings.

In reference to Deep Creek Lake the jury recommended a minimum age of 16 years for operators of power boats, penalty for operating a motor boat under the influence of liquor, an additional patrolman, and two persons in the boat when pulling water skiers.

The jury also reaffirmed several recommendations of previous juries which had not been carried out.

The complete report follows:

The Grand Jury for the September Term of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, for the year 1959, respectfully submits the following report of its activities:

We were in session for three

Train-Bus Crash Captures Interest Of Entire Nation

Probably no news story in recent months has captured the interest of the entire nation as last week's school bus-train accident at Mt. Lake Park.

Through the far flung facilities of radio, television and press and picture services, accounts of the tragic mishap were quickly relayed to all parts of the United States and prominently featured on newscasts and front pages of major metropolitan daily newspapers.

Reporters and photographers from nearby dailies were quickly on the scene; shortly afterward, newsmen from more distant cities began to arrive. From a Pittsburgh television station, a news crew arrived by helicopter; Life magazine sent men to record the event for its readers; information and pictures moved out to all parts of the nation by various press services.

In San Diego, Calif., the Evening Tribune gave the story top billing on its front page; in Los Angeles, an account of the mishap also was given extraordinary prominence. The Miami News, the Chicago Tribune, the Baltimore Sun and many other big city dailies headlined the disaster and reported it with words and pictures.

The heart of a nation was stirred.

The chain of news was begun at 8:30 last Thursday morning when a staff member of The Republican was alerted to the accident. Immediately, other members of the staff swung into action to provide as complete coverage as possible during the few hours remaining until the day's deadline. At the scene of the accident, photographs were taken, information gathered and the nucleus of the coverage was begun.

At one time during the morning, in order to gather information and secure material, The Republican had staff members at the scene of the accident, at the Garrett County Memorial hospital, in Keyser, W.

Historic Tourists To Partake of Turkey

Persons attending the Garrett county historical society's tour on Saturday will be the recipients of a piece of turkey, as the result of a gift from an anonymous donor.

The society's editor of the Glades Star announced this week that the society had received a large dressed turkey from an unknown giver. The turkey will be distributed in connection with the picnic lunch to be held at Silver Lake park.

The tour will start at 9 o'clock a. m., from the Ruth Enlow library in Oakland. The tour will include a visit to "The Anchors" along the old Deer Park road; Truesdell Heights, near Altamont; the site of Fort Ashby, General Kelley's house, the site of Rinehart's tavern, and Conneway's on Backbone mountain. After the basket lunch at Silver Lake the group will visit the Fairfax Stone and Kempton.

It was stated that a number of people from outside the county were planning to attend in addition to a good number from within the county.

Howard Estate Set At Over $380,000

The estate of Miss Julia McHenry Howard, who was 73 when she died July 10, in Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland, amounted to $381,246.80, according to papers filed in the Orphans Court in Baltimore.

The estate consisted of stocks worth $266,324, cash of $96,615, and personal effects worth $18,308.

It was understood that the Howard summer home on Alder street was left to S. T. Naylor, whose property adjoins, although no official notice has been received.

Call Citizens' Meeting

The Mayor and Council of Mt. Lake Park have called a citizens' meeting for Tuesday evening, September 22, at 7:30 o'clock, to take the place of one originally scheduled for yesterday.

A number of civic problems are to be discussed and Mayor C. C. Mason urged a good turnout.

Held for Action of Present Grand Jury

Solomon Tasker, who was lodged in the county jail last Wednesday evening after allegedly shooting his wife in both legs with a 12-gauge shotgun blast, had a preliminary hearing before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney last Friday and was held for action of the September grand jury under a $500 bond.

The shooting allegedly followed an argument between the couple. As Mrs. Tasker went up the road planning to call the sheriff, he apparently fired at her. He was held on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Cassiday Given Year

Ray Cassiday who has been in and out of both the trial magistrate's court and the Circuit court, was charged with assault and battery and following a hearing last Friday was sentenced to serve a year in the House of Correction.

Cassiday has a record dating back at least to 1947. He was found guilty that year with assault with intent to murder and was given a year's suspended sentence and paroled for three years.

There were six cases on the justice's docket in 1956 including charges for theft, assault and battery, enticing a girl under 18 years, etc. In April, 1958 he was charged with malicious destruction of property of Wilbur Bohan and he prayed a jury trial. Another charge was for bastardy, and in December, 1958 he was charged with assault of Elsie Reall. At a trial April 27, 1959 he was fined $25 and costs.

Alvey Ray Cassiday was sentenced to two years in the House of correction in June, 1956 on charges of larceny and receiving stolen goods.

In May, 1959 he was fined $100 and costs by Trial Magistrate Boyd Sanders, Sr., for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. He took an appeal but the circuit court upheld the decision of the magistrate.

In another case heard before Magistrate Maroney this week Ralph Pysell who was sentenced on three automobile cases, was also found guilty of having a loaded rifle in his automobile. The fine and costs were suspended in this case.

Two persons fined last week for fishing without a license were assessed $20 and costs and not $2 and costs as reported

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kitzmiller, of Mt. Lake Park, are celebrating their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary quietly, Saturday, September 26.

Prisoners Inform On Two Juveniles

It was a peculiar twist of fate which turned over two juveniles to the authorities last Friday. The arrests came after some prisoners in the county jail had observed the theft of the "poor box" from St. Peter's church and informed the authorities.

It seems they were seen by the jail inmates as they came down the steps of the church, attempting to make their getaway with the "poor box" under their arm. They were placed in custody but no charges were lodged against them. The Rev. Fr. Gerald F. LaPorta gave them a lecture, but apparently no noticeable good resulted as the two were picked up again for robbing some automobiles on the downtown streets. They also were said to have skipped school.

Possible Polio Case

What may prove to be the first polio case of the present season for Garrett county, was being determined this week by officials at Memorial hospital in Cumberland.

Donald Harvey, 11, of Kitzmiller, a son of Charles Harvey, was admitted to the hospital on Tuesday in an almost completely paralyzed condition. Polio was immediately suspected, according to Dr. Arthur Jones, county health officer, but no definite diagnosis had been made and he said it would not be made until a report had been received from Baltimore.

Extend Deadline In Soil Bank Sign-Up

The final date on which farmers may file requests for rental rates for land they wish to enter in the soil bank-conservation reserve program for 1960 has been extended to September 30, it was announced by Curtis Savage, chairman of the County ASC committee.

Persons who apply will be notified of the rental rate established for their land by mail and will be given an opportunity to file an application for a soil bank contract. Rates in this county vary from about $8 to $20 per acre per year, depending upon productivity of land. Land may be entered for periods of 3 to 10 years.

Legislative Council Plans Trip Here

Members of the Legislative Council of Maryland are planning a trip to this county the latter part of the month, it was announced this week by Carl N. Everstine, secretary.

They will arrive in the late afternoon of Friday, September 25, and will be quartered for the night at Point View motel and Will O' the Wisp motel, on Deep Creek Lake.

A meeting for a general discussion of governmental and civil problems which might involve legislation concerning the county or state, has been arranged for the motel at 8 p. m. Friday evening.

The group plans to remain in the county Saturday, September 26, leaving from Oakland on train No. 12, Saturday evening at 6:15. No definite schedule has been arranged for Saturday but members of the council have evidenced an interest in visiting the state parks and other points.

Fish Population Study Shows Big Change In Lake

Improvement Noted In Varieties—Less Perch, More Of Other Varieties

Results of last Wednesday's check of the fish population of Deep Creek Lake showed a definite change, and mostly for the better, according to a preliminary report by Harold Elser, fish biologist for the Maryland Dept. of Research and Education.

Mr. Elser reported that in the Hoop Pole area of Deep Creek Lake where the main test was made this year and where the only test was made in 1955, that approximately the same amount of poundage of fish was recovered but that the percentage of yellow perch had deceased from 70 percent to 54 percent. The researchers recovered 2,600 pounds of yellow perch last week.

Next biggest change was noted in the carp which jumped from 14 pounds in 1955 to 316 pounds this year. Second heaviest poundage was yielded by the golden shiners. They went from almost nothing in 1955 to 900 pounds this year. Elser reported that there was a marked reduction in white suckers and that the chain pickerel which were non-existent in 1955 had become the 4th most important fish, outweighing either the large mouth or small mouth bass. They recovered 13 pounds of northern pike which indicated, according to Elser that they had not yet become well established.

Schoolarama Dates Set for October 9-10

Northern High School's annual fair, "Schoolarama," sponsored this year by the Science Department, will be held October 9 and 10, at the school at Cove.

There will be door prizes each night. A 30-30 rifle, a bicycle, and a TV set will be given away. There will be commercial, educational, farm, and home exhibits.

The purpose of the fair, according to Paul Muha, principal, is to promote good will between the school and the community as well as to earn additional money for departments.

Bloodmobile Unit Is Due Here October 7

The Johnstown Red Cross Bloodmobile unit is due in Oakland on Wednesday, October 7, it was announced by Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, blood recruitment chairman.

It will be at the Oakland fire hall from 12 o'clock noon until 6 p. m. The local Red Cross chapter will endeavor to obtain 125 pints of blood on that day.

The local chapter was quick to offer assistance last Thursday when it was believed the hospital would need much blood during the emergency. Mrs. Paul B. Naylor county chairman, said the local unit had received numerous offers for blood from surrounding chapters and from many individuals.

However, it was the regular day for the visit of the Johnstown bloodmobile unit to the hospital and all needs were cared for. One child was given a pint of blood enroute to a Cumberland hospital. No more was needed.

School Board Called In Special Session

The Garrett County School Board, for the first time in more than five years, was called to meet in special session by the county superintendent Thursday afternoon of this week. The cause for the special meeting grew out of the tragic school bus accident just one week ago. The purpose of the meeting will be to renew in detail all county and state rules, laws, and regulations relative to the safety of the transportation of school children, and bring to bear every change possible that might help to guarantee school bus safety.

At the same time the superintendent indicated that a vote of confidence would no doubt be given by the Board to the school bus operators who have served the county faithfully and carefully for many years.

Award Contract for Flood Control Dam

The George F. Hazelwood company of Cumberland, which submitted a low bid of $72,042.55 for construction of an earthen dam one mile east of Deer Park on the Little Youghiogheny river, was officially awarded the contract this morning by the Garrett Soil Conservation district.

Present to accept the contract was Al Wilson, one of the owners of the company. Lewis R. Jones is designated as contracting officer. He is attorney for the town of Oakland.

The dam is one of six proposed impoundments designed to prevent Oakland from having any more floods. Oakland and the county are co-sponsors of the projects. Funds for construction come mainly through the federal government. Oakland and the county are providing land, easements and rights of way.

The work is to be completed within two years and will not be shut down from December 1 through May 14.

Feels Fortunate

Gary Evans is one town school student who feels fortunate this week. He is accustomed to riding the school bus of Leroy Campbell, the one that was struck by the Diplomat last Thursday morning. But on this day he was picked up by his friend Jimmie Cobbs and was riding to school in an automobile.

Another youth missed the bus on that fateful morning.

No Change Noted In Water Status

There was no change in the water situation in Oakland up to this morning according to Henry W. McComas, chairman of the water committee for the Mayor and Town Council.

With the present conservation measures of all the citizens, he said the town was "holding its own," as far as the supply went. Haulers from Herrington Creek are bringing in about 40,000 gallons of water daily.

The new well drilling operations have reached a depth of 280 feet, but the driller is planning to go to a depth of at least 360 feet. There is water there but no test has been made as to the amount.

Meanwhile, other staff members were busy relaying all information available to metropolitan newspapers and wire services as far away as New York City, as well as television and radio stations in the area.

At 10:30, the first picture taken by The Republican photographer was dispatched for transmission over wire service lines. At 12:20 the newspaper forms were being made up and by 1:00 p. m., the edition was made available to persons interested in learning the facts of the reports they had been hearing during the morning.

Because of the unprecedented demand for copies, the regular issue was soon depleted, and a special abbreviated edition of The Republican was printed and sold on newsstands for a reduced price. Over six hundred of these copies were purchased during the next several days.

Fish Population

Commission, acting on the data gathered in 1955, began a program of stocking predator fish in the Lake. These predators included walleyes, chain pickerel and northern pike.

Other fish taken from the lake during the past week included bullheads and white crappie.

Mr. Elser said the recovery of fish by days was as follows: 2,200 pounds Wednesday, 1,650 pounds Thursday, 500 pounds Friday and about 300 pounds on Saturday.

It was planned to continue the testing in Poland Run and Red Run, but with the amount of work involved the scientists eliminated Poland Run but did make a test in Red Run.

Volunteer boaters gathered the fish which had been suffocated by the rotenone and four young men from the Rockville Chapter, Maryland Underwater Divers donned their rubber suits and goggles to go to the bottom to collect fish which sank.

A sonar device was used during the test and fish were contacted swimming 18 to 25 feet below the surface, indicating that deep trolling by anglers at the lake this summer has been the best method of hooking the larger fish. Elser said there had been plenty of volunteers for the work but that the spectators had been fewer. He felt the test had been a complete success and that the results would bring about an even better program of fish management than had been apparent this year.

Among those attending the lake test were Dr. L. Eugene Cronin, director, Department of Research and Education; Dr. James Maney, fish biologist; Harry Huesinger, University of Maryland; Vernon Stitts, fish biologist; Dr. Frank Schwartz, fish biologist; John R. Longwell, game management specialist; Sylvan Belkov and Guy Levan, Water Pollution Control commission; David Cargo, crab biologist; Beverly Winter, specialist in fish; Byrum Ashbaugh scientist, department of research and Leona Williams, specialist; Edwin Barry, fish management director; Joe Minke, regional game warden. Elser said the Pennsylvania department sent specialists but that West Virginia did not.

A more complete report will be available early next year.

Eyewitness Gives Account Of Crash

Edward William Morris, of Bayard, W. Va., was closer than anyone else to the school bus-train crash last Thursday morning, having been sitting on the porch of the Mt. Lake Park B. and O. station. He has given the following account:

"I was sitting on the porch of the Mt. Lake Park B. and O. station. I observed the school bus easing across the crossing after it had stopped before the crossing. At this time the crossing signals were not in operation. When he came out on the eastbound track the crossing signals came on. I heard the motor stall on the bus and the bus was then near the center of the crossing. The bus made two or three jerks when the motor stalled and then came to a complete stop. The next thing I remember I heard the train coming. I heard a whistle blow before this but I don't know where the train was then. I ran out and tried to flag the train; the train was about the signal tower at that time with his brakes applied because I saw blue smoke coming up from the rails. I saw the bus driver throw the doors open and get out of the bus. He was grabbing them and pushing them away from the bus. The next thing I remember was the train striking the bus. When the train hit it looked just like it picked the bus up and threw it aside. There was a big cloud of dust and I heard a lot of screaming and you couldn't see for a minute or so until the dust settled. I started to run for the store across from White's Restaurant to call for help but someone was already doing that, so I ran back to the accident. By that time there were a lot of people there helping with the injured."

days beginning Monday, September 14th and concluded our deliberations on Wednesday, September 16th. During this period we examined forty witnesses and have returned True Bills of Indictment in eighteen cases.

We are cognizant of the Court's instructions with reference to possible violations of any of the criminal laws, outlining our authority and making clear our duty. In our deliberations we diligently endeavored to examine the facts in each particular case and act upon the facts impartially and fairly as required. In our decisions we have been motivated only by the law and the facts and have acted accordingly.

Our field of inquiry has included the recent loss of life in this County. We have inquired into the facts, examined witnesses having knowledge of the same; inquired into the law applicable to the facts, and were alert to our duty as outlined by His Honor, Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley. After a full consideration we earnestly feel that True Bills of Indictment were not warranted. Yet, we desire to fulfill our obligations as citizens and jurors. We desire to assist in the prevention of a recurrence of these tragic events. We desire to be instrumental in initiating the passage of pertinent constructive legislation.

To that end, and with reference to the school bus-train accident we recommend:

1. That a revolving flashing light be installed on top of all school busses and be used in conjunction with the present flashing lights.
2. That surprise periodic spot checks be made of the mechanical condition of the school bus.
3. That surprise periodic checks be made of the bus drivers by trained personnel riding with the school bus and observing their standard of driving.
4. That emergency drill training be held for the evacuation of children from the school busses.
5. That immediate steps be taken to eliminate the overloading of school buses.
6. That the school bus routes be changed, if at all possible, to eliminate any unnecessary crossing of train tracks by the buses.
7. That the authorized speed of trains be lessened at designated school bus crossings during school hours.

With particular reference to the fatal accident that occurred on Deep Creek Lake, we desire to make the following recommendations:

1. That a minimum age of 16 years be established for operators of power boats.
2. That operating a motor boat under the influence of alcoholic beverages be penalized.
3. That additional patrolman be placed and used on Deep Creek Lake during the summer season.
4. That when pulling water skiers two persons should be in a boat, one driving and the other watching the swimmers.

We were also cognizant of the Court's instructions with reference to the inspection of the public buildings. We have inspected the treasurer's books, the Court House, the sheriff's residence, the county jail, the Garrett County Memorial hospital and the county garage. After an extensive inspection, we find that the recommendations of the past Grand Juries have not been complied with in many instances. We are renewing part of the past recommendations, as some of the past recommendations have been complied with and it is not necessary to repeat them.

The proper authorities have failed to comply with the following recommendations of the past Grand Juries in regard to the sheriff's residence and the county jail. We reaffirm these following recommendations:

1. Vent pipe be installed for the open gas stove located in the dwelling, as well as an exhaust fan.
2. That the salary of the cook be increased.
3. That the women's quarters in the jail be painted.
4. That all the wood work on the outside of the sheriff's residence be painted.
5. That the laundry room ceiling be repaired.
6. That the wood window frames in the jail be replaced with steel window frames.
7. Tile or some kind of covering be installed in the shower room of the jail.

We make the following new recommendations in regard to these buildings:

1. The concrete side walk leading to the sheriff's office be repaired.
2. That the leaks in the roof be repaired.
3. That the first floor, east side, and the basement ceiling damage be repaired.
4. That the lettering on the sheriff's window be replaced.

Our inspection of the Court House discloses the need of the following recommendations: the first four recommendations are the same ones that were made by the March Term Grand Jury:

1. Construction of an exterior entrance to the rooms now being used by the Election Board so that the voting machines may be conveniently removed and stored.
2. The inspection of the exterior lighting of the Court House and the repair where necessary.
3. The painting of the office of the Register of Wills and the office of the State Department of Forests and Parks.
4. That a light be installed in the lavatory of the clerk of the Circuit Court.
5. That an electric line and electric heater be installed in Board of Supervisor of Elections office.
6. The waste pipe in the County Treasurer's office be covered.
7. Storage room for the treasurer's books and general purpose room be repainted and the floor repaired.
8. The ceiling in the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court is in need of repair and the map room adjacent thereto should be painted.
9. That a switch be installed on the third floor hall of the Court House.
10. That the office of the Civil Defense be repaired and painted.
11. That the storage room of the State Department of Forests and Parks be painted.
12. That if it is necessary to employ additional help to carry out these recommendations that the same be done.
13. That the dome of the Court House be spotlighted.

We found the Garrett County Memorial hospital to be in excellent condition and well managed. The same was true of the Garrett County Roads garage except we feel that additional fire extinguishers are needed in the basement of the county garage and blacksmith shop.

Before closing our report we would like to say that we have given a great deal of thought and consideration to the school bus-train accident and in our opinion the Railroad should issue instructions to their operating crews to use every care when approaching crossings.

We desire to express to his Honor Neil C. Fraley, our thanks and appreciation for his courtesy extended us during our term.

We also wish to thank Sheriff James Frantz, Richard L. Davis, clerk of the Court; the State Police and Constables for Garrett county, for their cooperation and assistance to us during our deliberations. It is our opinion that the law enforcement officers have performed their duties in a very commendable manner.

And we lastly wish to express our thanks to W. Dwight Stover, State's Attorney for Garrett County, for his advice and cooperation as an adviser to the Grand Jury, and his able manner in conducting his affairs before us is greatly appreciated, and also we wish to thank Lester White, deputy clerk, for his able assistance during our deliberation.

Respectfully submitted,
GERALD R. EMAN, Foreman
R. Thomas Thayer, Jr.,
Anne Gordon Bell, Clerks.

To Vote On Wool Referendum Sept. 30

Final date on which wool producers may cast ballots in the wool referendum is September 30, it was announced by Curtis Savage, chairman of the county ASC committee. Ballots are to be mailed to the ASC office.

The referendum is to determine whether or not producers will approve a new agreement between the Secretary of Agriculture and the American Sheep Producers council. The new agreement would provide for advertising and sales promotion programs for the industry's products, and would be financed by deductions from the producers' incentive payments.

The former agreement expired. The new agreement, if approved, would cover 1959, 1960 and 1961 marketing years. Producers who have owned sheep or lambs, six months of age or older, for a period of at least 30 days since January 1, are eligible to vote. Ballots were mailed to known wool producers. Ballots may be secured at the ASC office in Oakland if any producer did not receive one.

By DICK CASTILOW

This past week was one we shall never forget. I would like to express the personal feelings of our teen population if it were at all possible. It is not. There is one this, I am so proud of the Oakland Teenagers that I could burst. The Teenagers, members of Teen Canteen donated over $100.00 last Friday and Saturday nights to the disaster fund. This could never have been possible without the co-operation of Oakland Electric. The Moose Club, The National Guard, Robert Weeks, Leroy Paugh and Donald "Pansy" Hinebaugh; also those who performed Saturday night; Bob Oliverio, Pat Martin, Sue Martin, Bob Dawson, Bill Murphy, Jim Callis, Ed Hershman, Bill Stemple, Raymond Bennett, all of Oakland and the J&R Quartet, Keyser.

Teen Canteen will be open Friday night with the regular admission, at the Moose Hall.

Tonight there will be a big, rock'n roll show at the Sudon Theatre in Thomas, W. Va. There will be two shows, one at 7:30, the other at 9:30 E. S. T.

Admission is 55 cents.

I would like to see many Oakland faces in that audience. Why? Every cent made will be turned over to the disaster fund.

Participating will be the Jivin Five, the Marvin Sisters, Bob Oliverio, Judy Green and Dick Castilow.

"A MAN'S THOUGHTS MUST ALWAYS FOLLOW HIS EMPLOYMENT"

— Author's Name Below —

The practice of pharmacy has changed greatly within the past ten years. More than 70 percent of the medicines now prescribed were unknown before then. In order to keep up with this amazing progress we must be continuously studying medical and pharmacy reports. We must learn the dosage and properties of all new drugs.

We have to discard the old medicines no longer being prescribed and order in every new medicine a physician may specify. All this requires constant thought and we are glad to report that we can fill any prescription, written by any doctor, even one from another city.

Letter To The Editor

Below is a copy of a letter sent to Senator J. Glenn Beall.
Sen. J. Glenn Beall,
Washington, D. C.
Dear Senator:

Your article referring to a certain Russian woman, in a recent issue of our county paper sounds a bit hollow.

Do you know, and are you aware that Maryland's citizens and taxpayers are having their lands confiscated by the SRC without a single penny of remuneration under Maryland's Russian Soviet Roads Law of 1953.

None of us landowners are rich enough to appeal to the Communist Supreme court, and I personally have lost over twenty thousand dollars as a result of the action of the Roads commission.

Traffic has been rolling over the road for months, but not one cent has ever been paid for the land.

They refuse to give access, and I cannot buy a right-of-way from adjoining landowners. So I cannot get into my own land, on which I have wanted to build for over two years. They have no title and own nothing.

To get into the opposite end of the property, I must spend three thousand dollars which I do not have.

Is this America? Yes, Soviet America, a "protectorate" of Soviet Russia.

Come, See for yourself.

Yours very truly,
ERNEST G. GNEGY

everybody to get off the bus fast. He helped some but he couldn't tell how many.

Campbell told authorities he opened the front door of the vehicle. He couldn't use the back door as it would have emptied the children onto the crossing in front of the train. The children made a rush for the door, jamming the entrance and thus not as many were able to get out, authorities were told.

The tragedy caused the spotlight to be turned toward Garrett County from every place in the nation. Newspaper accounts of the accident were received this week from San Diego, California, Chicago, Ill., and Miami, Fla. The wreck caused universal anxiety since 80 percent or more of all school children in the country now ride on school buses.

Letters were received by the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland. One from Tennessee wanted deepest sympathy extended to parents of the children killed and injured. She hoped for a nation-wide requirement that all school buses have a monitor or another person on each bus.

To Deliver Report

State Senator Bernard I. Gonder left Oakland Wednesday morning for Baltimore with reports on investigations of the bus accident.

Senator Gonder is a member of Vehicle laws and he will present this detailed report to his committee. He said he expected to have the cooperation and full assurance from his committee that laws would be enacted at the next session of the Maryland legislature to prevent further serious accidents for the protection of children who ride the school buses.

Harry Paul Smith was admitted to Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland shortly after the accident which occurred at 4 p. m. His condition was listed as "critical" from possible internal injuries deep cuts of the forehead and multiple bruises over his body.

Rotarians To Hear Jos. Tyding Speak

Joseph D. Tydings, member of the Maryland House of Delegates from Harford county, will speak about the new Maryland Development Credit corporation before the Oakland Rotary club, at the William-James hotel, Friday, September 18.

The subject is of direct interest to Garrett County as the establishment of a development credit corporation is one of the things the state is doing to enhance its ability to attract new industry. This state-wide development credit corporation is a private financial agency with the purpose of stimulating economic growth by providing a source of long-term credit, principally for the financing of new factory buildings.

The Development Credit corporation serves as a means by which banks and other financial institutions can pool a small portion of their resources to jointly provide long-term credit which, because of legal or policy restrictions, they cannot provide individually.

Mr. Tydings, an attorney, is now serving on the House of Delegates Judiciary committee. He served as president of the Young Democratic Clubs of Maryland from 1951 to 1953. Other interests and duties include chairman, Governor's Committee to Study Municipal Sewerage Disposal Problems in Maryland; past president, Harford County Junior Chamber of Commerce; member, Executive Committee Junior Bar Association of Maryland, 1957, 1958, 1959; member, VFW and Moose; chairman, Maryland Multiple Sclerosis campaign, 1958.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT

THE "MISPLACED" UTERUS

• Internal Nervousness
• Blood Cells

Q. Please discuss trigonitis and urethritis. Could pressure from the uterus cause frequent urge to urinate? Would surgery help?—Anonymous.

A. Trigonitis is inflammation of the trigone, a smooth triangular area on the inner surface of the bladder. It serves as a sort of "flush button." Urethritis is inflammation of the urethra—the passage leading from the bladder to the outside. Irritation and inflammation of almost any part of the urinary apparatus can cause urgency and frequency. Various medicines are used to promote healing and, at times, to make the "flush button" less sensitive to bladder filling. The role of the "misplaced" uterus in causing urinary symptoms isn't too clear in many cases. Some women may have a strong and efficient retaining mechanism that is hard to upset. Others may have weaker and more sensitive systems which might be disturbed by some stressful condition such as uterine pressure. The examining physician would be the only one qualified to express an opinion regarding the possible benefits of surgery.

Q. Can a person be nervous without showing outward signs? Can nervousness cause the hair to fall out? Would drugs help? —B.

A. Anxiety and tension need not be outwardly displayed. Anxiety is present in all people and, like pain, serves the useful purpose of warning us against dangers. Trouble comes when tension increases and anxiety mounts toward panic proportions. Although "nervousness" in itself may not cause hair loss, anxiety certainly has a profound effect upon the physiology and chemistry of the body. Persons who feel inadequate, tense, and incapable of dealing with life situations need professional assistance. Doctors now have drugs which help relieve anxiety but these alone may not be sufficient. The cause of undue anxiety must be sought for and eliminated if possible.

Q. A recent insurance examination showed that I have an "occasional" blood cell in the urine. Does this mean that something is wrong?

A. No. A few white and red blood cells in urine need not indicate trouble.

Miss Bowman Wed At McHenry

Miss Janis Fay Bowman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bowman, of Deep Creek Lake, became the bride of Charles William Yarnell, son of Mrs. Evelyn Reynolds, Clarksville, Pa., on Sunday, July 19, in a double ring ceremony solemnized in the United Brethren church at McHenry. The Rev. Bryan Blair, pastor, officiated.

The altar and chancel were decorated with arrangements of palms, standards of assorted white flowers and lighted white tapers in candelabra on each side.

Mrs. Martha Tharp was organist, playing several selections preceding the ceremony, the traditional wedding marches and accompanying Clarence Kimmell, soloist, in "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of Alencon lace over poie de soie, taffeta, fashioned with a torso waistline, scooped neckline, three quarter length sleeves, and a full fitted billowing skirt in ballerina length. Her finger tip veil was of imported tulle on a tiara of seed pearls, sequins and lace. She carried a white orchid on a white Bible with streamers of ribbons and pink rosebuds.

The bridal attendants were attired in powder blue ballerina length gowns of velveray, fashioned with scooped necklines, short sleeves and satin cummerbunds, with hats of matching shades in Dior bows. They were Miss Doris Heise, maid of honor; Mrs. Joye Walters and Mrs. Mary Louise Campbell, bridesmaids. Cindy Jo Walters was flower girl and Richard Walters was ring bearer.

Raymond Peteritis served as best man. Ushers were Carroll Smith and Robert Peteritis.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the church reception room where the bridal motif was carried out in the floral decorations and three-tiered wedding cake which was flanked with silver candelabra with white candles. Mrs. Ruth Ann Rohrer, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Dorothy Bremenour, and Mrs. Marge Weyand assisted in serving.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Ocean City, Md., the bride wearing a white suit with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Upon their return from Ocean City Seaman Yarnell reported to his naval base in Cuba. Mrs. Yarnell, presently on the nursing staff in the operating room at Greene County hospital in Waynesburg, Pa., will join him later.

Series of Inquiries Follows Bus Crash

The tragic train-bus accident last Thursday morning at Mt. Lake Park, set off a series of investigations in an attempt to place the blame for the accident, and to prevent any recurrence in the future.

State's Attorney W. Dwight Stover, Baltimore and Ohio railroad officials, State Police, and insurance adjustors had lengthy conferences last Thursday night and additional meetings have been held throughout the week.

Governor Tawes called for a full investigation and a report from the State Police at the earliest opportunity, and from the Department of Motor Vehicles which licenses and inspects school buses, and from the State Roads commission which has an interest in protective devices at railroad grade crossings.

The chairman of the State Roads commission ordered an inventory of protective devices at all railroad grade crossings on state highways. A preliminary check showed 42 grade crossings on the state highway system, excluding those on little used sidings. All crossings are protected by automatic gates, light and bell devices or watchmen. The crossing where the crash occurred is marked by flashing lights and bell, and railroad officials said the signals were operating at the time of the accident.

Bus Stalls on Tracks

Leroy Campbell, driver of the bus, told authorities that the bus which he owned stalled for some unexplained reason as he started across the tracks. When the flashing red light and bell started, indicating the approach of the eastbound passenger train he said he attempted to get the children off the bus. But only a few got out in time.

Grand Jury to Probe

The County grand jury which convened Monday, was to be given the opportunity to decide whether any criminal negligence was involved. Mr. Stover said he would give the jury all the details.

Police took statements from pupils who were less seriously injured. Willard L. Hawkins, superintendent of schools, said the Board of Education would demand that the B. and O. place watchmen on duty at the Loch Lynn crossing and Weber Crossing on route 219 during times they are being used by school buses.

A statement from Otto Droege, 65, Cumberland, engineer of the locomotive, indicated that the speed tape on the diesel engine registered 20 miles an hour when the engine rammed the bus. The tripper on the track that sets off the signal lights and bell is located 2,250 feet from the crossing and at a speed of 50 miles an hour it takes only 30 seconds to travel the distance. The tape revealed the children in the bus had 45 seconds due to the slowing down by the emergency brake system, to get out of the bus.

U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall said he plans a full study to determine if federal legislation is needed in the future.

The National Safety Council listed a three-point program to safe-guard school bus passengers, selection and training of drivers, inspection and preventive maintenance of school buses and establishment of legal standards for the behind-the-wheel performance of bus drivers through licensing. Mr. Campbell was experienced and had never had an accident until last Thursday.

Mr. Droege said that if the bus driver had carried a red flare which could have been tossed on the ground he would have seen it a quarter of a mile farther from the crossing. He believes that requiring bus drivers to carry flares might avert crashes in the future.

"I never felt so helpless," he said. "I knew we were going to hit that bus and just couldn't do a thing about it."

Droege said the track is straight for some distance before the crossing but pointed out the engine was traveling east with the glare of the sun in the cab. "The rolling, pitching motion of the train gave the impression that other objects were moving. It was some seconds after I saw the tail end of the bus on the tracks before I realized it was stopped."

Bryan Blair in a double ring ceremony on Sunday, August 2, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in the Ev. U. B. church at McHenry.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a ballerina length gown of white lace over white satin with a scalloped bateau neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The hillowy skirt had an opening in the back filled with ruffles. Her finger tip veil fell from a headpiece of matching lace as that of the gown. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with pink sweetheart roses. The streamers were knotted with roses in love knots.

Elaine, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of blue nylon with white embroidery over blue satin. Her head piece was a white hat. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and carnations.

Carl Mosser, brother of the groom, served as best man. Edward DeWitt, brother-in-law of the groom, and George Edgar, uncle of the bride, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a grey print dress with white accessories and a white rosebud corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a grey and pink dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was pink rosebuds.

Disaster Fund For Bus Crash Victims Gathers Momentum

Residents of the county have pitched in to help financially the families of the school children who were killed or injured in the tragic school bus-railroad accident last Thursday.

The wheels are in motion for a disaster fund headed by civic leaders and teen-agers to help families of crash victims as well as those of the injured.

Large jars or containers were placed in business houses in Oakland. Teen-agers held two dances last Friday and Saturday and raised over $200. Both Rotary and Lions club officers discussed the matter.

At first it was thought by many persons that the fund would be used to help destitute families in providing food and clothing, but it was explained yesterday that the fund would be used primarily as a rehabilitation program, for special nursing care, and such things where insurance would not cover the expense.

It was pointed out that insurance payments in many cases would not begin to pay for the rehabilitation bills. It was said that in at least one child's case the rehabilitation would take eight months or more. Some of them might have permanent injuries.

The two clubs named C. Melvin Kight, of the Rotary club, Wesley Schaible, of the Lions club, and Henry McComas, hospital administrator, to administer the funds and they stated yesterday they wanted the purpose of the fund clearly understood so that people would not make contributions thinking it would go for food and clothing for the needy. This, they felt, was important too, but should not be confused with the main purpose of the fund.

Mr. Schaible, said the fund on Wednesday had reached a total of $756.68. Persons desiring to contribute to this fund may do so by contacting any of the three administrators.

It was understood people of Loch Lynn had raised over $250 for distribution to the needy families who had been bereaved.

Hospital Disaster Plan Successful; Plenty of Help

The disaster plan which had been set up in Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland proved its worth last Thursday after the B. and O. passenger train had rammed a county school bus, killing seven and injuring some twelve others, creating an emergency unprecedented in the history of the institution.

Henry W. McComas, administrator of the hospital for the past three years, said he had conferred on Tuesday with Roy Harvey, hospital engineer, and informed him a "dry run" would be held in the very near future.

What was thought at first to be a "dry run" last Thursday turned out to be the actual thing. Upon learning that a busload of children were involved in the grade crossing crash Mr. McComas immediately got on the radio and notified local physicians and police on the radio hook-up.

Some fifteen local and area nurses rushed to emergency bases. The seven resident physicians were notified and they appeared almost immediately. Mr. McComas checked with the hospital laboratory and learned there was an ample supply of blood on hand. Many residents came to the hospital to offer blood. City police were summoned and asked to block entrances to the hospital grounds in order to keep the curious from hampering efforts of doctors and ambulance drivers. Mr. McComas notified Broadus hospital in Philippi which responded by sending three doctors and an ambulance. They arrived within an hour and twenty minutes. Also responding were Preston hospital in Kingwood, with an ambulance and three doctors; Terra Alta, with two doctors and an ambulance; Hopemont, Friendsville, with doctors and x-ray equipment. Grantsville, Kitzmiller and Piedmont sent ambulances. Hopemont sanitarium sent additional x-ray equipment.

Homemakers, who had been nurses, reported for duty and were put to work immediately. As each child was received into the hospital a disaster tag was placed on a wrist. The injured were interviewed by the doctors who determined the severity of their injuries.

Mr. McComas had only high praise for the way in which the hospital staff and volunteers carried out their duties. He said he felt the hospital personnel, doctors and nurses and others did "a wonderful job for a small hospital." He was elated over the success of his plan in getting assistance from surrounding area in such a short time.

Patients were "all over" the hospital for a brief period. The third floor solarium into which oxygen can be piped was placed in operation and beds were set up to care for all emergency patients.

The disaster plan adopted by the city, the hospital and the medical staff a few months ago had paid off.

The Highlanders, making their first start under the new coach, Earl Adolphson, held a 7-6 lead going into the final period when the West Virginians made a 19-point rally. Carroll Turner picked up a fumble and galloped 18 yards for the first one. After Keller passed 32 yards to the Southern four Keller ran off tackle for the second score and Sherman plunged the point. Later in the final period Sherman returned a punt from Southern's 45 to 23 and after a first down on the 11 Sherman skirted right end from the four. His placement kick was blocked.

Moorefield's initial touchdown came in the second period when Bar snared a fumble on the Southern 35 and ran 65 yards to score. Southern took the lead in the fourth period when Bill Daring went around right end for 35 yards and a touchdown. Terry Colaw ran the extra point.

In the line up for Southern was Prince, Bergner, G. Terrant, Stemple, Bolyard, R. Colaw, J. Haines, Stuck, Duling, T. Colaw and Butler. Substitutes were Propst, Wine, DiSimone, K. Gank and S. Terrant.

Crash Created A Frightening Scene

"The most frightful thing that has ever happened to our town." That was the exclamation of one woman who witnessed the train-bus tragedy at the Mt. Lake Park crossing last Thursday morning.

The train could not stop, she said, and Leroy Campbell, bus driver, was frantically helping children out of the front door.

One woman who works near the crossing said she saw three or four boys climb from the bus after it had come to rest.

Mrs. Phyllis Paugh, getting her two children ready for school, heard the crash and ran to the window. "It was the most horrible scene I have ever viewed. Children were crying, running around, walking in a daze blood streaming from them, their clothes in tatters."

"Everyone pitched in to give a hand in the rescue work."

Roy Dixon, one of those on the bus, who got out safely said, "Everybody knew the train was going to hit us. And everybody wanted to get out. It seemed everybody rushed to the door of the bus all at once. One girl got stuck. Finally somebody pushed her out. I ran across the road. Then it happened.

Clinton Shrout, station agent, said, "There wasn't anything I could do. I saw the bus stalled on the crossing. I saw the train coming. There wasn't anything I could do but watch. The train plowed into the rear porion of the bus. It turned over and threw it maybe 35 to 50 feet.

"I could hear children screaming. I called state police and the hospital for ambulances. Then I ran down the track as fast as I could. There were about six children laying very still scattered on the ground."

Meyersdale Takes Huskies 20 to 6

Meyersdale High school launched its 1959 grid season Saturday, turning back Northern High Huskies of Coach Denver Mitchell 20 to 6, at Accident.

Meyersdale compiled all its yardage on the ground and struck early in the first period. Northern's touchdown came in the second period.

The Pennsylvanians struck for paydirt once in each the third and fourth periods to bring their earnings to 20. Nedrow booted the extra points after the first and second touchdowns. Meyersdale's first score came on a fumble at the Northern 26. Northern's score came on a march from its own 31 and capped the drive with a pass from Bill Glotfelty to Richard McCurdy, accounting for seven yards and the lone score for the Huskies.

Playing for Northern were Patton, Bittinger, Hutzel Yommer, Durst, Friend, Buckel, McCurdy, McKenzie, George and Glotfelty. Substitutes were Umbel, Walker, Bittner, Smith, Raley, Garlitz, Jenkins, Sisler, Braat.

She'll Never Neglect Him...

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	1 Samuel	1	26-28
Monday	Luke	2	39-40
Tuesday	1 Samuel	3	17-19
Wednesday	Luke	2	41-52
Thursday	1 Corinthians	2	3-5
Friday	Psalms	37	3-6
Saturday	Deuteronomy	7	9

Mrs. Thompson is a "modern" mother. She wouldn't think of neglecting her baby's regular visit to the doctor. She knows that these early check-ups plus proper diet, rest and care, are vital if her child is to grow up into a strong, healthy boy, ready to take his place in tomorrow's world.

Nor will she forget an even more important factor in his development—his spiritual check-ups. When the time comes and baby is old enough, his tiny footsteps will lead him into Church School where another kind of ministry will be given to him. Later still, he will worship with his parents, and the importance of the family unit together at work, at play and in worship will be engrained in his mind.

In tomorrow's world he will be well equipped to take his place physically, mentally . . . and spiritually.

Sermonette By Area Ministers

C. P. ANDERSON Pastor
Deep Creek Baptist Church
THE FIRST BEATITUDE

THE POOR IN SPIRIT

Matt. 5:3, "Blessed are the poor in spirit; for theirs is the kingdom of heaven."

The thought for our consideration for this brief message is, "The Poor In Spirit," which is based upon Matthew the fifth chapter and the third verse, "Blessed are the poor in spirit; for theirs is the kingdom of heaven."

The word blessed may be translated happy. Happiness depends upon what we are, not upon what we have, nor upon what we do. Happiness does not come from the outside, but from within.

There are some positive characteristics which the poor in spirit possess. The first one I mention is humility. The poor in spirit are the humble and the lowly and the meek. It is said that "Lowliness is the base of every virtue, and he who goes the lowest builds the safest." Jesus said it again and again in different ways, "He that humbleth himself shall be exalted."

Humility and greatness always go together. One day when the disciples were having a dispute as to who should be greatest they brought the matter to Jesus. In reply to their question Jesus took a little child and set him in the midst of them and said that the most childlike should be the greatest.

Jesus was the supreme example of true humility. He being in the form of God emptied himself, taking "the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men; and being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross." There is the supreme example of true humility in all history.

Another characteristic which the poor in spirit possess is dependence. The poor in spirit are dependent upon God for every good and perfect gift. They thank him for daily bread, and look to him for guidance and truth and light. They do not rely upon themselves except as they may be empowered by his spirit.

Still another characteristic of the poor in spirit is detachment, detachment from the things of this world. To them money is of use only insofar as it can be made useful in the service of God. They are willing to do with it and they are willing to do without it as it may best please God. They do not rest their hope on anything so uncertain as riches. Their minds are rather set upon good service, and they are grieved only when anything hinders their following Christ.

Such are the people who are citizens of the kingdom of heaven. They are the best citizens of any city or any community or any country. They serve the heavenly King wherever they go. In public life they will be cheerful, humble, devoted, upright. In commercial life they will be industrious and honest, straightforward and honorable in all their business dealings, trusted and trustworthy in every transaction.

If you wish to have a happy life, you must begin where Christ begins his beatitudes, with poverty of spirit, "poverty in self, riches in Christ," is the true sentiment of a child of the King.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 85:8-13.

Promise of Peace

Lesson for September 20, 1959

THINGS HAVE become badly confused when "peace" seems to be a bad word. Believe it or not, there are people in the United States who think that any one interested in peace is a communist. That is not only bad logic, but it plays into the hands of the real communists. Their constant bad word for us is "war - mongers," a people who want war and will do anything to start one. This is not true of us as a nation, and yet people who turn against the notion of peace are certainly giving ammunition to anybody who likes to call us a bloodthirsty nation.

Dr. Foreman

"With a Whirlwind"

The great prophets of the Old Testament did not admire war. They looked on it as something brought on by sin. One passage from Zechariah is a sample (7: 8-12). God had an ideal for his people, a life of justice, kindness and mercy. But the Israelites would not hear, and so God "scattered them with a whirlwind . . ." As we know from the Old Testament histories, this whirlwind, the instrument of God's wrath, his punishment on a nation that would not obey—this was nothing other than the wards which ended the Hebrew kingdoms. And the Hebrews, as the stories show, had chiefly themselves to blame for getting into those wars. Most of the recorded history of the two kingdoms of Judah and Israel is a history of wars, long or short. Very few of them did the Hebrews any good, and in the end it was war which, like a tornado, left their homes in ruins and blew them like straw across the face of the earth.

Ideal City

But the storm of war was not the last word of God to Israel. The prophet Zechariah, preaching in a time when Jerusalem was only just beginning to rise from the ashes of more than half a century of desolation, looks forward and promises in God's name a new and different kind of city. He draws no blueprints; but it is plainly a city of peace. This is not a foreview of heaven; it is a picture of the ideal city right here on this earth. It is to be called "the faithful city," that is, faithful to the laws of God. That covers everything; but Zechariah puts in some particulars.

Old men and old women will be sitting in the streets, and children will be playing there. (Remember the ancient type of city had no parks and no open space except the market-place; and there was no traffic except of very slow animals and people.) This you would not see in war time. In that era the aged and the very young and the weak simply died off in war times; only in times of peace would they be out there in large numbers.

How Peace Comes

Now children and old people do not make peace, they simply enjoy it. It is the middle-aged, the active influential people who do most either for peace or against it. So the prophet Zechariah addresses the great mass of the people about peace and prosperity (8:12). He speaks of "sowing" prosperity, and then goes on to put this figure of speech into very plain words. What are the seeds? He goes on, still in the name of God: "These are the things that you shall do . . ." If we want peace and prosperity, God will not drop them into our laps. He expects us to plan and prepare for peace just as we plan and prepare for a crop of apples. No man can raise an apple without the help of Nature (or, rather, of God).

So while God's ideal for the human world is a world at peace, there are certain conditions to be met. The seeds of peace have to be sown. Zechariah (8:16-17) names some specific things: truth and justice in particular. To say that war is the effect of sin is only half the truth. The other half is that peace is the fruit of public and private goodness. The most enduring peace is not an accident, it is not manna from the sky. It is a crop reaped by those who have worked hard sowing and cultivating the things that "are true and make for peace."

Picture Recalls 1st Labor Day Picnic

This week's old photograph, from the files of The Republican, will take you back nearly 40 years, to a Labor Day when recreation was not centered around Deep Creek Lake—for there was no Deep Creek Lake in 1920 when some unidentified snapshot artist exposed this film.

The scene, on Third Street in Oakland, shows three officers of Garrett Lodge No. 113, Knights of Pythias, leading the first Labor Day parade sponsored by that organization. For many years, this was an outstanding event, ending with a picnic and celebration in Helhig's grove, now the site of the Garrett County Memorial hospital. In later years, the parade was dispensed with, and shortly after World War II the picnic and celebration were also discontinued.

The last old photo, showing construction of the Mt. Lake Park amphitheatre, brought nostalgic memories from many readers who remembered the many religious and semi-religious activities conducted there during the many years such events were the feature attraction in that community.

P.-T. A. Council To Meet

The Garrett County Council of Parents and Teachers will meet Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the Dennett Road school, according to Michael Duda, president of Grantsville.

Other officers this year include Howard Naylor, Oakland, first vice-president; Guy Hardesty, Grantsville, second vice-president; Mrs. Anna K. Beachy, Grantsville, secretary; Mrs. Earl Zepp, Oakland, treasurer; and Miss Viola Broadwater, Grantsville, publicity.

Judge Fraley Gives Grand Jury Charge

The Grand Jurors for the September Term of Court began their deliberations Monday morning after hearing the charge to jurors delivered by Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley in the court room.

Judge Fraley made note of the fact that women were serving on juries for the first time and also called attention to the tragedy of last week in which seven school bus children were killed. In the balance of the charge he points out the specific duties and responsibilities of the members in carrying out their work

The complete charge follows:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE GRAND JURY:

By reason of the passage of an Act of the legislature becoming effective June 1st of this year, for the first time in this County, women have been selected to serve as jurors. Such service by women is optional and one not desiring to serve may be excused by request in writing. Since those on this jury have refrained from a request to be excused, you have evidenced your willingness to perform this important service. I am sure that you will benefit from this experience and that you will be glad you have done your duty in this respect.

Before beginning your deliberation, it is customary for the Court to charge you with reference to your duties and the procedures you are to follow in your work.

The Grand Jury is of ancient origin and comes down to us from the early days in England. Although the institution has been aholished in England and many of the States in this Country, here in Maryland it stands as an important part of the administration of criminal justice.

The Grand Jury has very broad powers of inquiry and may initiate investigation as to the alleged violations of the criminal laws of the State. Your action, that is whether you find an indictment or dismiss a charge, cannot be dictated by anyone. The laws of many foreign countries permit persons suspected of the commission of a crime to be put on trial at the will of the Government or its prosecuting officers. The laws of most jurisdictions in the United States, however, through the Grand Jury system, require that no person shall be tried on a felony charge until a Grand Jury shall have examined the evidence and found that there is sufficient credible evidence to warrant a trial of the charge.

The Grand Jury was designed to be a body of discreet and thinking persons called together, not to act hastily and inadvisedly upon an accusation against a citizen and place him upon trial, but to protect the public interest upon the high ground of indicating the public law.

A Grand Juror's actions should be dictated only by a sense of justice and a desire to reach the guilty and protect the innocent. You will, therefore, realize that there is a responsibility resting upon every Grand Juror to prevent your body from being used for revenge or personal gain. Indeed, the oath which you have taken requires that you "shall diligently inquire and true presentment make of all such matters as may come before you and you shall present no person through envy hatred or malice nor leave anyone unpresented through love, fear, favor or affection, or for any hope or promise of reward." The obligation of the oath is the greater in that tthe Grand Juror himself or herself is the sole judge of his or her good faith. You cannot be questioned for anything that you may say or any vote that you may give relative to any matter legally pending before the Grand Jury, save only for perjury committed in making an accusation or in testifying as a witness before your fellow jurors.

This community, indeed the nation, was saddened and shocked by the tragic accident that occurred last Thursday morning in which seven children were killed and others seriously injured when a school bus was struck by a train at the Loch Lynn—Mt. Lake Park railroad crossing.

This unfortunate accident has been thoroughly investigated by the officers of the County, assisted by the Maryland State Police. The State's Attorney will be prepared to present to you the results of this investigation and you will hear the testimony of witnesses to enable you to determine whether or not there were any violations of the criminal statutes on the part of anyone that caused the tragedy.

Most of the cases that will be brought to your attention will have been investigated by the law enforcement officers of the county. The State's Attorney will present these cases to you and you will hear the testimony of the witnesses that the State intends to use against the accused. It is your duty to decide if the charge is supported by sufficient evidence to warrant the finding of an indictment and that the accused shall stand trial before a Petit Jury or the Court.

Your proceedings must be secret. No disclosures of any kind are to be made concerning your deliberations or how individual members of the jury voted with respect to any charge considered by your body, unless you are directed by the Court to make such disclosures.

While testimony is being produced before you, the only persons allowed in the Grand Jury Room besides your own members are the State's Attorney and the witnesses testifying before you.

If an individual juror has knowledge of the commission of a criminal offense that is not brought to your attention by the enforcement officers, it is the duty of such jurors to disclose such information. Enforcement of the criminal laws is extremely important and it is encumbent upon the enforcement officers to ever be alert in bringing to justice those guilty of violating our criminal statutes and your body plays an important part in maintaining law and order in the community.

Your body consists of twenty-three (23) members, of which twelve (12) constitutes a quorum and no indictment can be found by you unless at least twelve (12) of the members present concur therein.

As a result of recent enactments of the legislature, the work of the Grand Jury has been lessened considerably. Under existing law, a person charged with the commission of a criminal offense may waive his right to a trial by jury and ask that the charge against him be heard promptly by the Court. In such cases, the State's Attorney prepares an information in writing and the accused is brought before the Court and his case disposed of forthwith. This procedure has resulted in considerable savings to the county.

In a criminal case, an accused is presumed innocent until proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt and no one should be called upon to answer an unfounded charge. You must bear in mind, however, that a Grand Jury is an accusing body rather than a judicial tribunal. It is not your function to convict or acquit; you hear but one side of the matter and that is the State's evidence. It is the function of the Petit Jury or Court to determine guilt or innocence after a fair and impartial trial in which the evidence of the State and the accused has been presented.

It is the duty and responsibility of the County Commissioners of the County to see that the public buildings owned by the county are kept in proper repair and that necessary improvements are made. It is the custom of the Grand Jury to inspect these properties and make such recommendations as seem proper and desirable. You will be furnished with a copy of the Grand Jury report of the March Term and you should investigate to see that the recommendations then made have been carried out, and if not, you will want to call before your body the members of the County Commissioners to ascertain why not.

The State's Attorney, the Sheriff, and other enforcement officers will be available at all times during your deliberations to assist you in the performance of your duties.

You will now retire to the Grand Jury Room where you will begin your deliberations.

TRUCKS THAT DO THE NEXT BEST THING TO PAVING EVERY ROAD IN AMERICA!

Imagine a truck ride so smooth and cushioned that fragile loads can travel the worst "washboard" roads with ease. Imagine a truck ride that virtually eliminates shimmy and wheel fight, cuts side sway on curves, makes steering far steadier and easier, keeps drivers far fresher. Imagine a truck ride that permits higher safe cruising speeds, more trips per day with all kinds of cargo over every type of road surface. Imagine a ride that keeps up to 78% of all objectionable road shock and vibration from ever reaching the driver and cargo, a design that sharply reduces twisting and fatigue forces on chassis, cabs and bodies, that keeps trucks young for extra thousands of miles. / Soon you won't have to just imagine such a ride. You can try it for yourself in the trucks that do the next best thing to paving every road in America—new Chevrolet trucks for 1960. You'll see what happens when Chevy's truck engineers design a whole new line of trucks around a whole new kind of torsion-spring suspension. These trucks are new from the ride on up—with wonderfully roomier cabs, brawnier frames, style that's fresh as sixty and more! Don't decide on any new truck till you see the newest of all.

Scientific Progress And Our National Life—Before another session of Congress rolls around, there will be some spectacular advances in the scientific world. The fantastic achievements in flight research over the past few months have whetted the public appetite for more fantasy. But when the Congress is called upon to appropriate large sums of money for space exploration and the President of the United States appoints a special assistant to keep him advised on space-travel progress, it is no longer fantasy. Giant steps of progress are being made. The interested bystander is impatient for more dramatic news—probes to the planets, or word that man himself has entered space. Fine marvels of recent space experimentation have instilled in the layman a sublime confidence in the abilities of the scientific community. It is a confidence entirely justified, but one which should be tempered with knowledge that problems face our scientists. Some of the scientific accomplishments will come with dramatic suddenness; others will take years.

A Good Housing Bill, After All!—I am a member of the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency, and of the Subcommittee on Housing, and in that capacity I have had a special responsibility to the American people in the matter of housing legislation. It was the duty of the members of the Housing Subcommittee to prepare legislation which would permit the uninterrupted operation of Housing program business, particularly that having to do with outstanding Housing loans, and which would bring the program up to date and correct certain flaws. For many weeks we conducted hearings. The bill that was agreed upon by the majority of the subcommittee and in turn by the majority of the full committee was too extravagant. It was vetoed by the President, and I voted to sustain the veto.

More hearings were then conducted, and we drew up a second bill, which took care of the major objections. However, it too was vetoed. I voted to override the veto; I thought that it might well be the last opportunity we would have to pass a Housing measure in this session.

When the Senate failed to override the veto, we who are members of the Housing Subcommittee got together and started work on a third bill. Some of us were in consultation with the White House on certain details in question. The subcommittee, with dispatch, drew up the third bill. We eliminated the provision for direct loans to colleges for class-rooms. We removed the October 1, 1960 cut-off date for 8 billion dollars in new FHA mortgage guarantee authorizations. We split the 650-million-dollar urban renewal program into grants of 350 million for the first year and 300 million for the second year. The bill extends FHA insurance on improvement loans, extends the voluntary home mortgage credit program, and adjusts the statutory interest rate ceilings governing mortgages insured under FHA programs. The bill which we wrote in subcommittee was quickly approved by the full committee, and was ordered to be reported. I like the new bill. It covers the needs of the Housing program without being wasteful.

Final Labor Bill Looked On With Favor—In my own actions with regard to Labor legislation, I have held to the principle that our duty as United States Senators and Representatives is to legislate for the good of all the people and not just special groups or classes. When the Senate passed a Labor Reform bill last April, I reported in the "Senate Cloakroom" that just as I had supported the Senate bill, I would "support any future legislation which promises to benefit the working man—protect his rights to earn a decent income and allow him to participate in the decisions of his representative organization." In line with this, I supported the Conference Report on Labor Reform legislation, which was a compromise between the Senate's Kennedy-Ervin Bill and the House's Landrum-Griffin Bill, the latter having the backing of President Eisenhower.

The Conference Report was adopted by an overwhelming majority in both Houses of Congress. The vote indicates the preponderance of opinion favoring the final draft. In the House the vote was 352 to 52; in the Senate, 95 to 2.

The bill, as passed by the adoption of the Conference Report, is basically in two parts. The first part, consisting of six titles, is commonly referred to as the anti-racketeering section. Under this part, labor union officials would be required to make reports disclosing financial transactions, this to prevent misappropriation and corruption, as exposed by the McClellan Rackets Committee. Labor union officers are now placed under definite responsibility to members whose funds they administer. Bonding of labor union officers is now required as a further protection to union treasuries. In brief, the first six titles were designed to give safeguards to the rank and file of the labor movement.

The second part of the bill, Title VII, aroused the most controversy. It amends the Taft-Hartley Act with respect to secondary boycotts, blackmail picketing, and the so-called "no man's land". The new legislation closes loopholes in the law which had permitted secondary boycotts through coercion of employers as well as of employees, injuring innocent parties who had no dispute with labor methods. Coercive or "blackmail" picketing to force an employer to make payments to a union is now outlawed. Another provision under this title allows the States to take jurisdiction over cases declined for consideration by the National Labor Relations Board, thus eliminating the "no man's land" and providing an effective forum for every labor-management dispute.

I support the Labor Bill because I feel that it benefits our people as a whole, the general public, and will protect them, as well as labor union members, from the operations of the relatively few union officials who are unscrupulous. I believe that my work on the Senate Floor and in private conferences with other Senators for this legislation—and my votes—have been in the best interest of all our citizens.

Gas Tax; Nominations Approved; D. C. Suffrage—Last week the Senate passed, with amendments, the Highway Bill which incorporates a 1-cent-per-gallon increase in the Federal tax on gasoline. The bill then went to conference.

Our Senate Committee on Armed Services approved the President's nomination of J. Vincent Burke to be General Counsel of the Department of Defense and the selection of Major General David M. Shoup to be Commandant of the Marine Corps.

I submitted a statement in support of a resolution for a Constitutional amendment which would give certain suffrage to residents of the District of Columbia.

Government Exposes "Reducing Medicines"—Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Arthur S. Fleming last week released a list of 27 "quick reducing aids" which have been successfully stifled by the Government in court action. The Secretary says that fraudulent reducing aids are stripping American pocketbooks by $100,000,000 a year, and leaving the people who take them as fat as ever. Government scientists say that there is only one known way to reduce, eat less. People who want to lose weight without using will power gulp down all sorts of pills and syrups, sold under false labels or advertising. Promoters of these frauds pray on "intense demand for an article that science has not yet produced", to use the official wording. Vibrator devices advertised for weight reducing are just as fraudulent, the Secretary reports.

Sooner or later the Government will get around to halting the avalanche of "patent medicine" advertising which fills to overflowing our television channels. When I was a boy, you'd read the "patent medicine" ads in the almanac until you'd get sick; now, all you have to do is watch TV.

Many Openings For Mature Women For Part Time

Difficulty in finding mature women between 35 and 60 who would like part time employment in responsible homes where services are really needed, was voiced this week by the Employment Service Office of the Department of Employment Security in Oakland.

The department said these openings are urgent requests from employers who want some "to care for or to be a companion for Mother who is ill," or "for someone to mind the children while I work." It was stressed these were not jobs for "servants" but for dependable persons with a desire to help.

Charles L. Bruner, manager said salaries varied according to needs. Some jobs require the individual to live in; others, light housekeeping duties, and job [illegible] five day a week basis. He said the requests were made almost daily and cannot be filled without the help of responsible women who will take the time to register at the Employment Security office for this type of work. Bruner said he felt certain there were many women who would like this type of service who would not otherwise think of registering with the office. Those desiring to do this are asked to contact the department, Monday through Friday, 8:30 to 4:30.

AFTERMATH OF TRAGEDY—A school bus is no match for a crack passenger train. Just a few minutes before this picture was taken, this bus was carrying 26 pupils from the Deer Park section to Southern High school and Dennett Road Elementary school. It took just a few seconds for the vehicle to stall on the Mt. Lake crossing, to be rammed by the Baltimore and Ohio's "Diplomat," and for seven of the 26 to die in the accident or shortly afterward. Several remain in serious or critical condition in area hospitals.—Photo by Cumberland News.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

A Victory for the People

Amid the tumult and the shouting of a crowd of frenzied lobbyists, the House listened to the firm voice of the American people, and passed a labor bill which is not punitive but which protects the rights of union members and small businessmen from corrupt and self-aggrandizing labor leaders. At present, House and Senate conferees are working to combine the strongest features of the Senate's Kennedy-Ervin bill and the House's Landrum-Griffin bill. In view of the mandate from their constituents, there is little doubt that the result will be a labor reform bill which will go far in preventing the recurrence of the insidious racketeering and corruption so forcefully disclosed by the McClellan committee.

The most disquieting reaction, in the wake of the House struggle, was that of AFL-CIO President George Meany, who called the Landrum-Griffin measure a "killer" bill and its passage a "vote to punish honest labor." Is it possible to justify such language when after two years of hearings the Senate Rackets Committee made it painfully evident that labor needed to be protected from itself? Because of those investigations, phrases like "blackmail picketing," "secondary boycott," "hot cargo deals" and "no man's land" assumed concrete meaning for millions of Americans as they read and heard the pathetic stories of automobile dealers, barbers, truck gardeners and cafe owners who had to do business with certain unprincipled unions or go out of business, which unfortunately many did.

There is nothing in the pending labor legislation before the Congress which honest, law-abiding labor unions need fear. The current cries are reminiscent of 1947 when the Congress was considering the Taft-Hartley proposals and labor bosses howled that if passed they would place "chains and bonds around their (unions') necks and ankles." To the contrary, in the twelve years since, labor successfully avoided all shackles and flourished as never before.

The labor movement is an important part of this country's economic system, but it must be remembered, most of all by labor itself, that it is a part and not the whole. Whenever an imbalance appears in the system, the Congress has the responsibility to correct that inequity, whether by the declaration of a "bill of rights" for union members or the sundering of a big business trust, for the Congress is pledged to protect, not labor or management, but the people. It was the adherence to this philosophy which impelled the House to pass the Landrum-Griffin bill and which will move the Congress to approve a strong labor reform bill.

Corn crop in Maryland was estimated to be 8 percent over record of 1958.

Soil May Be Tested Free

How to Take a Soil Sample

Your soil test can be no better than the soil sample you give your county agent to be analyzed. Here's how to take good soil samples:

1 Divide your farm into areas for sampling, so that no sample represents more than 10 acres. Soils that are distinctly different in color, crop growth or past treatment should be sampled separately.

2 With a spade, dig a hole to plow depth. Shave a 1 inch slice from the side of the hole. Collect at least 15 samples from each field. Avoid dead furrows, back furrows, old manure and lime piles.

3 Collect the slices of soil in a clean bucket. Break them up and mix them before taking your soil sample.

6 Return samples and information sheets to your county agent.

County Agent James McHenry was urging farmers this week to have their soil tested, not to guess. McHenry said a soil test was the only way to accurately determine lime and fertilizer needs and he pointed out that different crops and soil conditions require different lime and fertilizer applications for profitable farming.

Farmers may get a free soil analysis plus lime and fertilizer recommendations based on the test. All that is needed is to obtain a free set of instructions and a soil sample box at the county agent's office in Oakland. Return the samples to his office. He sends them to the University of Maryland Soil Testing laboratory. Results are learned in about two weeks along with recommendations.

McHenry said only 137 farmers sent in samples in 1958. Thirty percent of the samples had a P. H. (soil acidity test) under 5.5. Fifty-five percent had a P. H. under 6.5 while 15 percent had a P. H. over 6.6. McHenry said in Garrett county the soil should show a P. H. of 6.4 to 7. Eighty-five percent of the samples showed a call for additional lime.

In the Matter of the Adoption of John Patrick Wilhelm, an infant

No. 10 Adoptions in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to procure the passage of a decree for the adoption of John Patrick Wilhelm, infant, by Elbert James Hershman and June Bernetta Hershman, his wife, and to change his name to John Patrick Hershman.

The bill states:

That the petitioners, Elbert James Hershman and June Bernetta Hershman, his wife, live at Mountain Lake Park, Maryland, and are gainfully employed; that the person to be adopted is John Patrick Wilhelm, who was born on May 21, 1944, to Leonard Marvin Wilhelm and Virginia Juanita Wilhelm, his wife, whose last known address was Mountain Lake Park, but whose present address is unknown; that the petitioners have had legal and physical care, custody and control of the said infant since he was one year and eight months of age; that the petitioners are able to properly support, educate and maintain said infant and that under the circumstances it would be for the best interest of all concerned that the adoption be granted; that the whereabouts of the natural parents has been unknown for over six years.

The petition then prays for a decree declaring John Patrick Wilhelm to be the legally adopted child of Elbert James Hershman and June Bernetta Hershman, his wife, and to change the name of the infant to John Patrick Hershman.

SHOW CAUSE ORDER

A petition for the adoption of John Patrick Wilhelm, an infant, has been filed in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, the said petition being titled as Number 10 Adoptions in the said Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

Upon the said petition and affidavit attached thereto, it is thereupon this 16th day of September, 1959, ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, that a copy of this show cause order be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 26th day of October, 1959, giving notice to Leonard Marvin Wilhelm and Virginia Juanita Wilhelm, his wife, warning them to be and appear in this Court to show cause to the contrary, if any they have, on or before the 11th day of November, 1959, why the adoption of the said John Patrick Wilhelm, infant, should not be granted as prayed in said petition.

To Discuss Proposed Game Regulations

A public hearing is scheduled for the Alexander hotel in Hagerstown for Saturday, October 3, to discuss proposed changes in the game and fish regulations.

One of the proposed changes concerns prohibiting fishing from the bridge crossing the water of Deep Creek Lake for four months of the year, June, July, August and September.

Harold Smith Kohner, executive secretary of the Game and Inland Fish commission, said the move was made to further clarify and protect the safety and welfare of the public at large and to carry out the purposes of the Acts of the General Assembly.

Another suggested change would make it unlawful to hunt, shoot or kill migratory game birds and wild turkeys by the use or aid of recorded bird calls or sounds.

Another suggested change would be to delete White Rock watershed as a trout stream in this county.

The hearing will get under way at 9 a. m.

Art of Being Judas - - - -

In the controversy over whether Americans should welcome or snub Communist visitors, the argument is often advanced that we should have nothing to do with "butchers."

We should know that Communists don't have to be "butchers" to be dangerous. Edward W. Greenfield, writer of "Pause for Reflection," has this to say: "It is the enemy disguised as a friend, subtly insinuating his poison into the American bloodstream without our knowing it, working underground in public positions of respectability and responsibility, so that we entertain him unaware, who is the real menace. A book, The Pentagon Case, portrays the real character of the enemy—not a screaming monster but a polished gentleman who has made deception and destruction into a fine art. A kiss is still the kiss of death when the gentleman and artist is Judas."

Look well at Khrushchev's methods while on tour this week among Americans. Polite at times, jovial most of the time, yet when he is asked a question about Hungary or similar events, he evades the issue, becomes offended, and turns on his questioners. We believe, as does David Lawrence, editor of U. S. News and World Report, that the man is an international bully and that he's a dangerous man. We must not be lulled into inactivity by his show of wanting total disarmament. If he really wants disarmament he would welcome inspections by neutral nations. If he really believed in God as he has been attempting to make us believe this past week, he would allow freedom of worship in his own country.

The United States of America must never relinquish its position of strength, until it is convinced of the sincerity of Communism. Khrushchev is giving no assurance this week that he is actually sincere.

Girl Injured In Bus Crash Improves

Patty Ann Hinkle, one of the seriously injured school children in the Mt. Lake Park crossing tragedy, was responding to treatment at the Garrett County Memorial hospital during the week.

She had been in a semi-conscious condition for a few days after being unconscious for more than a week. Sunday there was laughter, singing and talking in her hospital room when two of her friends who play the guitar and sing, visited her. She joined in the singing.

Patty suffered a severe internal head injury. A student at Southern High school she was among the most seriously injured on September 10 when the school bus in which she was riding was hit by the Diplomat at the railroad crossing. Seven children were killed and 11 youngsters, including Patty, were hospitalized.

Two of her brothers, Olen, 13, and James, 12, also injured in the Accident, were reported in 'good' condition at Sacred Heart hospital in Cumberland. Another brother, Richard, was among the seven killed. They are children of Mr. and Mrs. Roy O. Hinkle.

Majorie Ann Byers, daughter of Mrs. Edith Byers, Deer Park, who was a patient in Clarksburg hospital was brought to Garrett County Memorial hospital on Wednesday morning, where she will remain for a while.

Sunday to Mark 98th Birthday for "A. D."

Sunday will mark the 98th birthday anniversary of A. D. Naylor, and this week also marks the 75th anniversary of the A. D. Naylor and company in Oakland.

Mr. Naylor almost spent his birthday in Garrett County Memorial hospital, where he was confined for a few days due to a gall bladder ailment, but he had recovered and returned to his home on Fourth street on Tuesday night.

Mr. Naylor remains active in the affairs of the company and in his community. He can be seen winter and summer walking to and from his store. At the present time four generations of Naylors are participating in the business, eighty years separating the eldest from the youngest.

SIGNING THE PAPERS—Alvin H. Wilson, of the George F. Hazelwood company, affixes his signature to the contract that gives his company the go-ahead signal on construction of an earthen dam east of Deer Park on the Little Youghiogheny river. It is one of six proposed impoundments designed to prevent any future floods in Oakland. Looking on are Lenwood Bittinger, chairman of the county's soil conservation committee (center) and Lewis R. Jones, Oakland attorney. Jones was designated as contracting officer. Construction funds will come mainly through the Federal government with Oakland and the county providing land, easements and rights of way. The work must be completed within 350 days with no work December 1 through May 14.

FIRST STOP ON TOUR—Felix Robinson, left, lectures to members of the Garrett County Historical society and others at the first stop on the group's annual tour last Saturday. This scene is at The Anchorage, between Oakland and Deer Park, where are displayed anchors from the vessel of Commodore Roger Perry, a large property owner of the area many years ago. The anchors decorate the lawn of the former Perry estate. Approximately 35 persons made the trip which included stops at historic spots from Oakland to Silver Lake, in West Virginia. Standing on the right, wearing a top coat, is Paul B. Naylor, a past president of the society. Mrs. W. W. Grant, society president, stands in the center of the photo.

Firemen Are Called

Oakland firemen were called twice during the week but neither fire resulted in much damage.

Firemen answered an alarm Sunday morning about 9:50 as the result of a flue fire at the home of Bliss Ream, at Swallow Falls. Firemen estimated about $100 damage to the building and reported the cause as an "improper flue opening too close to wood."

On Friday evening the firemen were called to East Oakland where a pile of burning logs near a railroad siding had spread flames too close to electric and telephone cables. There was no damage here.

A. D. Naylor Gets Contract For Mt. Lake Postoffice

A contract has been signed for the construction and lease to the post office department for a new post office building in Mt. Lake Park. Successful bidder was Alonza D. Naylor, of Oakland, according to Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

Construction of the post office is expected to begin immediately, and completion is expected for early March. The lease will run for ten years, with renewal options. Actual construction will be done by Kitzmiller and Edgar, local building contractors.

Located on the north side of route 135, opposite the intersection of state route 560, the structure will provide 1749 square feet of interior space, an outside loading platform, and ample hardsurfaced space for parking. Specifications call for the latest modern lighting and equipment, including a low, open patron-service counter.

Mr. Summerfield revealed that, under the department's commercial leasing program the department now is awarding contracts for new postal facilities at the rate of three a day.

He pointed out that the postal facility to be built in Mt. Lake Park is typical of others throughout the country. It will contain fluorescent lighting, a separate patron lobby that may be used 24 hours a day. New mechanical equipment and furnishings will be provided.

The Mt. Lake office is one of 1,400 post offices that will be built in fiscal 1960, and will remain under private ownership while leased to the Federal government, and hence will pay local real estate taxes.

Summerfield said that comparative cost studies between government-owned and commercially leased buildings, over a 50-year building life have shown that the leasing program saves between 30 to 40 percent in ultimate costs to the taxpayers.

Killing Frost Hits

The first killing frost struck Garrett county last Friday morning, September 18, when the temperature dropped to 27 degrees. There was a similar reading the following day.

Since then there has been a feeling of fall in the air but this was dispersed yesterday, the first day of autumn, when the temperature got up to 81 degrees. There was still no rain in sight.

Historical Tour Is Well Attended

Ten automobiles made up the cavalcade following the fifth annual tour of the Garrett County Historical society last Saturday. The tour was directed by Felix G. Robinson, who spoke briefly at each stop explaining the events that affected the course of county history.

Dr. Alta Schrock, president of the Historical society at Springs, Pa., spoke briefly on the scope, aims and achievements of the society and its approaching second annual homecoming and folk festival scheduled for October 2nd and 3rd.

Paul B. Naylor discussed the marker to be placed at Hoye Crest, highest spot in Maryland, the spot named in memory of the late Capt. Charles E. Hoye, founder of the Garrett County Historical society.

Mr. Robinson said that increasing interest in the tour had made the use of individual autos cumbersome, creating traffic and parking problems. He said plans were being considered for chartering one or more buses for next year's tour.

Attending the tour were Mrs. William W. Grant, president of the society, and her husband, Dr. Grant; Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Naylor, Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Kahl, Mrs. Robert Ruckert, Mrs. William R. Browning, Mrs. Ernest C. Liller, Misses Edith Brock and Ethel B. Hesser; Mr. Robinson, Walter L. Kahl, F. Herbert Shaffer, Truman C. Bittinger, Dennis T. Rasche, all Oakland; Dr. Schrock, Springs, Pa.; Jack Preble, Steubenville, O.; Mr. and Mrs. George Winslow, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Caleb Winslow, Baltimore; Mark Fortney, Keyser; Nancy Miller, Dianne Baldwin, Janet Fortney, Joyce Ann Wilt, Carolyn Sue Wilt, girl scouts from Luke; Carolyn O'Brien, girl scout, Swanton, scout leaders, Mrs. Henry E. Wilt and Mrs. Carl Fortney, both Westernport.

The tour included a visit to "The Anchors", Deer Park road; Truesdell Heights, site of Fort Ashby, General Kelley's house, site of Rinehart's tavern, Conneway's on Backbone mountain, Fairfax Stone and Kempton. The group lunched at Silver Lake Park.

Plans Being Made For Autumn Glory

Plans for the annual observance of Autumn Glory time in this county have been made by the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce and the Deep Creek Lake Promotion council, in conjunction with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company.

The plans call for a Baltimore and Ohio railroad excursion to leave Baltimore on the morning of Sunday, October 11 and travel to Oakland, arriving about noon. From there the excursionists will travel by bus to Herrington Manor, Swallow Falls, Deep Creek Lake, to a county turkey farm and to the new state park on the Meadow Mountain inlet of the lake.

There will be booths along the way set up by the Turkey Growers and the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce, where soft drinks, coffee, candy and other packaged food will be available.

Turkeys will be given away and it is planned to have a band at the station to welcome the seven hundred or more who are expected to come to Garrett county on that day.

Purpose of the program is to give residents of Maryland an opportunity to see Mother Nature's fall setting in the forest and recreation areas of the county.

Buses will be provided for the tour. In order to eliminate congestion half of the buses will head for Deep Creek Lake first while the other half will head for Swallow Falls. The cost of the round trip will be $8.25 for adults and $5.25 for children. The special train will leave Oakland at 4 p. m. for its return to Baltimore and Washington.

Autumn Glory excursions have proved popular over the past several years and this year is expected to be no exception.

Bus Driver In Fatal Crash Has Resigned

Leroy Campbell, driver of the school bus involved in the recent crash on the Mt. Lake Park crossing in which seven children died and a dozen were injured, tendered his resignation to the Board of Education at a special safety meeting held last Thursday. Mr. Campbell asked to be released from his contract, declaring he "never wanted to drive a school bus again."

Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, said the board members extended their appreciation to Mr. Campbell for his many years of service as a school bus driver. Before accepting his resignation they also expressed their deepest regrets for what had happened.

The school board is now accepting applications for the bus route recently vacated. Applications are to be submitted in writing on or before October 5. Mr. Hawkins said that only applicants with a satisfactory educational background, young enough to remain in service for a reasonable time, good health, good reputation for industry and character, with ability to understand and get along well with children, and financially able to make substantial down payment on a new bus, need apply.

Legislative Council Plans Week-end Here

Members of the Legislative Council of Maryland will be in Garrett County Friday and Saturday.

An open meeting for a general discussion of governmental and civil problems which might involve legislation concerning the county or state, has been arranged for Friday evening at 8 o'clock at Point View motel.

Members of the council are being quartered at the motel and Will O' the Wisp motel, both on Deep Creek Lake.

The group plans to remain here Saturday for a visit to the state parks and other interesting points. They will leave Oakland on train No. 12 Saturday evening at 7.15.

Adult Class To Meet

Those planning to participate in the adult education classes at Southern High school are to meet Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the school, it was announced by W. Kenneth Johns, principal.

At a meeting last week some fifteen persons attended but Mr. Johns said they were hoping to have at least twenty. Typing, bookkeeping and shorthand are to be taught.

MORNING STRETCH—It's the morning stretch for these bus-riding students who must cross the Little Youghiogheny river bridge in order to get to school. Since the bridge has been declared unsafe for weighty vehicles, the bus stops at the bridge's edge, the students climb out and walk across the bridge, then the bus drives across and the driver picks up his passengers on the other side and continues to school. Do the students like it? THEY DO NOT!

Term Bridge Over Little Yough Unsafe

The bridge across the Little Youghiogheny river on South Third street, in Oakland, now has a sign erected at both ends of the roadway, "Bridge unsafe; travel at own risk."

The sign was erected after Al Wilson, an engineer and one of the owners of the George F. Hazelwood company, of Cumberland, made an examination of the bridge, at the request of the town of Oakland, last Thursday afternoon.

BRIDGE CONDEMNED

The bridge over the Little Youghiogheny river was definitely condemned after a consulting engineer and two representatives from the American Marietta Bridge company made an inspection of the structure yesterday. They declared the bridge was unsafe for even one ton.

There was some indication that the bridge would be completely closed to any traffic while plans proceeded for a new structure. Although the responsibility of the town, the County Commissioners are cooperating. They are planning at present an 84-foot span with concrete abutments. They estimated it would take at least six weeks to have a new bridge in place.

Mayor Russell Smith could not be contacted this morning, so it was not known just what action would be taken.

Possible danger spots along the school bus routes are being closely checked since the school bus-train crash on the Mt. Lake Crossing on September 10, and this was one of the points where the safety of the children was questioned.

A previous examination of the bridge was asked this summer from Trail Ways when that company was mapping out a bus route for a summer tourist group, but nothing was done at that time.

In order to double check on the condition of the bridge which apparently has been in use since 1889, the County Commissioners arranged to have two bridge consultants come here and State Senator Bernard Gonder, at the request of the County Commisioners, put in a request from John B. Funk, chairman of the State Roads commission, to send a state engineer here. Senator Gonder said Mr.

Dispute of Mt. Lake Council Is Aired

Nearly one hundred citizens of Mt. Lake Park turned out Tuesday night to hear discussion about payment of a hill over which the Mayor and councilmen were deadlocked.

The controversy arose after Mayor C. C. Mason had presented a hill for use of his bulldozer in grading and leveling several streets in the Park and making a roadway around the lake to make Crystal Spring available to the public.

Councilmen Raymond Welch, Earl Sebold and Ted Wood took exception to part of the itemized bill and deferred payment. Mayor Mason in turn took his case before the people, resulting in the meeting Tuesday night.

After several hours of debate it was felt that agreement was near and cooperation restored between the two units. Several people pointed out that technically it was against statutes to do work for the

Ski Club To Meet

Six Lane Bowling Alley To Open Here

A six-lane bowling alley, known as Oak Lanes Recreation, in the basement of the A. and P. building, corner of Third and Oak streets, will open for business on Saturday, it was announced by Alan Skidmore, native of Friendsville, owner and manager.

There will be an open house Saturday from 11 a. m. to 12 o'clock midnight. Official notice of the opening appears in an advertisement in today's issue.

Along with the announcement of the official opening was the announcement of the formation of a number of bowling leagues that will operate through the winter months. There will be six teams to a league and five players to a team, indicating that at least three hundred persons will be vieing for end of the season awards.

Some 62 five-men teams already have been signed up and others are expected. Bowling for most of the senior leagues will be from 7 to 9 and 9 to 11, on five nights each week. Ladies will howl generally in the afternoons.

There will be family bowling on Saturdays and Sundays and most every day from 11 a. m. to 7 p. m. The cost will be 35 cents per line. A league bowler will bowl three games, and the cost will be $1.

The following have signed up: Oakland senior civic club, 2; Ford Sales, Browning's, 2; Ace Radio, Telephone company, Lions club, 6; A. and P. Store, Kitzmiller men, Sanders Excavating, St. Peter's Catholic church (6); Protestant church league (6), major league (6), Tom Kight's Insurance, Ray Teets men (2), Ray Teets ladies, American Leigion auxiliary (2), Rotary club, H.-P. League leaders will receive trophies at the conclusion of the season and league leaders will also vie for the top championship team.

There is a snack bar in conjunction with the alleys. The lanes have semi-automatic pinsetters. League bowling will begin on Monday evening, September 28.

Feeder Calf Sale Has Been Cancelled

The Baby Beef Club Feeder Calf Sale which was to have been held Saturday, September 26, by the Garrett County Beef Producers' Association has been cancelled, it was announced by Virgil Jones, President. The Board of Directors at a meeting last Friday decided that a sufficient number of calves had not been consigned to justify a sale.

A list of three producers offering to consign calves will be made available to all 4-H and FFA boys who need calves for a baby beef project. This list will make it possible for the boys to arrange private purchase of calves from interested beef producers, according to Barry Carr, assistant county agent.

County Will Return To EST on Sunday

Standard time will return to Garrett County on Sunday morning, September 27, at 2 o'clock, and will remain in effect until the last Sunday in April, 1960.

The Board of Education announced several weeks ago that the schools would return to standard time starting Monday morning, September 28. When the City Council voted last April to go on daylight time, it was recorded in the minutes that the town would return to standard this coming Sunday.

Several other towns in the county which adopted daylight time for the summer months, will also return to standard time. The only exception is Bloomington where the townspeople and the school will remain on fast time until the last Sunday in October, to coincide with Allegany county.

The county officially will remain as it is at present. It never took any official action on the time question and remained on standard time throughout the summer months.

Summer Bows Out

Summer officially bowed out of the picture yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. For the ensuing month below normal temperatures and below normal rainfall are predicted.

Summer officially ends when the sun reaches the halfway point on its semi-annual journey.

The fall schedule for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad will not go into effect for another month.

The office of the Department of Employment Security will continue to operate on daylight time until October 25, to coincide with other state employment offices, it was announced by Charles L. Briner, manager.

Coal Washing Plant And Railroad Spur Under Construction

A coal washing plant by The Central West Coal coal company and a railroad spur to provide an outlet, by the Western Maryland Railway company, are under construction near Davis, W. Va.

A story about the enterprise was published recently in Saward's Journal, a weekly coal trade newspaper, published in New York. The coal washing plant is located in Tucker county near the Grant county line, and has been under construction for several weeks. The railway extension is scheduled for completion in the spring of 1960. Company officials which have offices in Thomas, W. Va., could not be reached for comment.

The story appearing in the Saward's Journal, had the following to say:

"The Central West Coal company has completed plans for the opening of the Blackwater coal field in Northern West Virginia near the Allegheny Front in and around Stoney river. This field represents one of the largest blocks of virgin coal of commercial quality left in the country. To develop this field the Western Maryland Railway company is completing approximately 10 miles of track to the site.

"Central West is now opening this field by the strip mining method but has a 2 000 ton per day deep mine under development. A 250-ton per hour washing plant is expected to be completed by October 1, while the last four miles of trackage will be completed early in 1960. The strip coal now being loaded averages 7 to 8 feet in thickness and is of medium volatile. The coal shows excellent BTU content with relatively low sulphur and high grindability.

"The producers expect this field to be one of the major sources of supply for utility requirements. The initial development is based upon 4,000 tons per day production to be increased as sales contractual arrangements are completed. The development of this field is based on the knowledge that major users of coal need a vast reserve of homogeneous coal with a minimum of 20-year life so as to properly plan their purchases and utilization of burning equipment."

New Dial Telephones Now at Grantsville

The first telephone in the new dial system has been installed in Grantsville. It was placed at the home of Mayor and Mrs. Lee Beachy.

Robert G. Garner, local manager for the C and P Telephone company, said that other telephones are now being installed by a special crew under Frank Rodi, service foreman. The dial system will go into effect at 10 a. m. November 20.

The conversion to dial in Grantsville is being done by the C. and P. at the request of the Springs Mutual Telephone Company of Pennsylvania which now provides phone service. The exchange name will be changed from Grantsville to TWinoak 5. This is necessary in order to make the exchange an eventual part of the nationwide dialing system.

The C. and P. expects to rebuild completely at least 90 percent of the entire exchange area and all present subscribers will be visited to have new phones installed. A new building being constructed by William A. Shirer of Oakland at a cost of $12,000 is part of the overall cost of $255,300 to provide the Grantsville area with dial service.

town when a person is an elected official. Mr. Mason pointed out that the charge for the dozer, at $8 per hour, was $1 less than he would charge anyone else. It was also pointed out that some members of the council receive regular pay for working on the roads. On at least two occasions Tuesday night, Mr. Mason received a vote of confidence for the work he had done.

Some contended that the road work was costing the town too much money. Mayor Mason said his bulldozer had done 90 percent of the grading of the streets, in addition to opening up the Crystal Spring road.

Best Time Of Year For Fishermen Now Approaches At Lake

The best time of the year for fishermen is now approaching at Deep Creek Lake, according to the opinion of Cecil C. Edwards, fish culturist assistant.

Since Labor Day, the majority of the pleasure boats and water skiers have disappeared for the year, leaving the lake pretty much to fishermen. Water temperatures are decreasing too.

A few of the nicer catches during the past two weeks included:

A 22-inch, 6½ pound largemouth bass, caught near Green Glade on an "Abu" spinner, by John Moss, Pittsburgh; a 16-inch, 1½ pound chain pickerel at Red Run by Charles Phillips; a 17-inch, 2½ pound northern pike near Beckman's by Linn Phillips Pittsburgh, both on "Abu" spinners while trolling. Phillips reports the best season ever on the lake with a large one caught every week this summer.

Ray Strickler, summer resident near McHenry, caught a 25½ inch northern pike, thirteen pickerel and two nice bass in the past two weeks while trolling in Marsh Run cove area. Two smallmouth bass were caught near Harvey's peninsula by Ray Purbaugh, Meyersdale, one 19 inches and the other 16 inches. Both were caught with minnows.

Approximately 4,300 brown trout were placed in Deep Creek on Saturday, September 12. They were five to six inches in length and were obtained from the Federal hatchery at Lectown, W. Va.

Mr. Edwards urged fishermen to keep a sharp look-out for tagged fish and to turn in any tags recovered to the Bait House or a representative of the Game and Inland Fish commission.

Term Bridge

held Monday with the Mayor of Oakland, Russell L. Smith, and members of the city council, conferring with members of the County Commissioners, in an attempt to determine where the responsibility lay for the repair of the bridge, if needed.

It was agreed that it was the town's responsibility since it lay within the corporate limits, but the County Commissioners agreed to share some of the cost involved. If a new bridge would be needed, it was estimated the cost would approximate $50,000, and would be similar to the one placed a few years ago on the road leading to the Sterling Processing company.

Apparently the bridge was built about 1889 when D. M. Mason was mayor and Joseph Smithman was president of the Council. Both names are on a plate on the bridge but no date of erection is given. A. G. Sturgiss was thought to have been a member of the council at the time, according to old newspaper clippings kept in a scrap book compiled by Henry Arnold, police chief.

Concrete abutments to the bridge were placed in 1925 by the County Commissioners, according to a bronze marker. At that time George D. Browning was president of the commissioners, with H. P. Miller and C. A. Ashby as members and W. G. Meyers as clerk.

Since the bridge has been declared unsafe all school buses crossing it stop at the south end, unload all children; the children walk across the bridge; then the empty bus comes across, and the children then board the bus and continue on their way. If nothing is done to repair the bridge, there has been some plan for the school bus to start on its journey from the bridge, head south, turn left at Monte Vista road, and come out on U. S. 219 and return to Oakland by the way of the overhead crossing at Weber—when this road is completed.

The Commissioners were of the opinion that any necessary steps would be taken when the bridge consultants and the state engineer had completed their reports.

The bridge remains open for people who don't believe in signs and for those who don't feel there is any likelihood of it falling while they are moving across.

Revival Meeting Set

The Rev. W. Hartman Rice, of Conemaugh, Pa., will be guest minister in the closing revival services at the Maple Grove Church of the Brethren, south of Grantsville, on Sunday, September 27. The Rev. Clarence M. Moyers, is pastor.

Rotarians To Hear Program on Hawaii

"Hawaii—Our Fiftieth State", an illustrated slide program, will be presented to the Oakland Rotary Club, William-James Hotel at its regular meeting on Friday, September 25.

This introduction of the 50th state will be given by E. Rankin Lusby, Assistant County Agent. He spent 16 months in Hawaii in 1956-57, serving with the Army at Fort Shafter, U. S. Army Pacific Command Headquarters. Lusby had the opportunity to see the real life in Hawaii rather than just the tourist concept of it. He visited all six of the main islands, Oahu, Hawaii, Maui, Kauai, Molokai, and Lanai.

On the visit to Lanai, "The Pineapple Island", in addition to seeing the pineapple operation on 13,233 acres, he explored areas which are uninhabited today where the relics of past Hawaii life still exist untouched except by nature. These relics included foundations of homes, temples, stone adzs (heavy stone tools) and petroglyphs (drawings or carvings on rock).

Statehood to Hawaii is a true indication to the Asian world that the United States is a land made up of people of many races, creeds and colors, according to Lusby. This is a great asset, he says, to us as a nation in our international relations with the people of Asia. Hawaii is a melting pot of the world as the largest groups of its population listed according to their percentage is Japanese, Caucasian, part Hawaiian, Filipino, Chinese, pure Hawaiian, Puerto Rican, and Korean.

Top Chamber of Commerce, and owner of the Peters Fuel corporation which distributed petroleum products in the tri-state area, will be the speaker at the opening luncheon meeting of the Oakland Civic club on Tuesday afternoon, September 27, at 1 o'clock, at the William-James hotel in Oakland.

Mr. Peters will speak on "Economic Prospects in Garrett County." He has spoken to a number of county groups in recent months on "A Glimpse at the Constitution." He is a graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute in Civil engineering and the University of Virginia Law School. He is privileged to practice law in three states.

Mrs. Henry W. McComas, recently installed as president of the club, will preside at the business session. Mrs. Mary Bolden, Mrs. Florence Hesen, Mrs. Esther Browning and Miss Emma Caulk have charge of arrangements for the meeting.

Mourns Over Deaths

Miss Margaret Kerns, a nursing student at All Saints hospital, Fort Worth, Texas, glanced over someone's shoulder and read this headline in a Fort Worth newspaper—"School Bus hit by train—7 Die."

It was not until Miss Kerns got home that she learned the school bus tragedy was in the home town she left recently, to go there to study nursing.

She called the newspaper to get the names of the dead, then broke into sobs as the list was read to her. "I knew nearly all of them," she said.

Miss Kerns is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kerns, Rosedale. She is living in Fort Worth with a brother, Lawrence Kerns.

"Phone us if you need us"

A girl's best friend is often her telephone—whether she's twenty-five or five.

When you're twenty-five, the mother of a five-year-old, and going out for the evening—it means a lot to know that your favorite baby sitter can call you by phone should anything unusual occur to worry her.

That silent phone says, as clearly as words, that all's well at home.

Sometimes the calls that aren't made (because they aren't needed) add as much to living as those we like to make. Perhaps that's what makes a phone worth so much more than it costs.

Protect Corn Crop From Insects, Rats

Maryland farmers are harvesting the largest crop of record, but insects and rats will be right on hand to lower profits by taking their usual share of the crop stored in bins. They damage or destroy hundreds of thousands of bushels every year.

Insects infest newly stored corn in most cases after it is brought from the field, according to Ted Bissell, University of Maryland Extension entomologist. Moths and weevils are the main trouble makers, and they are nearly always present in old corn and corn refuse. So the first thing to do for protection against insects is to get rid of old corn and refuse, and clean the storage place.

A good cleaning job includes sweeping down the walls and ledges with a broom or using a vacuum cleaner, cleaning out the cracks in the floor and cleaning old feed bags as soon as they are empty or disposing of them. For additional protection, spray the cleaned crib with an insecticide such as DDT or methoxychlor.

Among recommended fumigants is the 3 to 1 mixture of ethylene dichloride and carbon tetrachloride. Dosages vary according to the tightness of the crib or bin. In wooden cribs that have been lined to make them tight, for instance, a dosage of 6 gallons per 1,000 bushels of corn will give control. Another way to fumigate is to cover the whole building with plastic sheets and introduce the gas under the edge.

Rat Control

Sanitation and cleaniness about the crib and the farm is also the first defense against rats, according to Bissell. Then, for further protection ratproof the building and use poisons.

To ratproof a corn crib, he says, first install an 18-inch band of sheet metal around the base of the building, including the door. A sheet metal covering on the floor gives additional protection. The crib should also rest on piers, about 2½ feet off the ground. If the crib is part of another building that is not ratproof, a lining of ¼ inch mesh hardware cloth on the ceiling and interior walls will stop both rats and mice.

Poisons should also be brought into the fight against rats and mice.

League Officers Installed

Officers of St. Mark's Luther league were installed at a special service last Sunday evening. Installing officers were Mrs. Robert T. Hoffman and L. J. Sacher, league sponsors, and the Rev. Wm. Ernest Fox, pastor.

Installed were Tom Forman, president; Jane Hanst, vice-president; Cindy White, secretary; Willard Ann Glotfelty, treasurer, Patty Sacher, evangelism secretary; Sue Yutzy, missions; Carolyn Leighton, Christian vocations; Bob Nordeck, social action; John Sharps and Ruth Fox, recreation.

A fellowship dinner preceded the evening service. A fantasy, "In This Sign Conquer," was presented at the evening service.

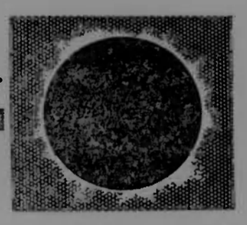
SAFE ECLIPSE VIEWING



- Breast Development
- Bifocals

Q. Is it harmful to view an eclipse through smoked glass?

A. Yes. Tinted glass, glass coated with soot, and photographic film, contrary to popular opinion, do not afford adequate protection for eclipse viewers. Searing rays get through such devices and may burn the inner eye. The safest way to observe an eclipse is to allow sunlight to pass through a pinhole in a piece of cardboard, focusing the image on another piece of black cardboard. A somewhat clearer image of the sun is produced by using one arm of a pair of binoculars in place of the pinhole cardboard. An eclipse can be observed without harm and much more clearly in this indirect way than by direct viewing through smoked glasses.

Q. Your views about breast development were interesting but what about the stories of men who work in drug laboratories developing large breasts? Why not let us ladies in on this secret?

A. Men employed in laboratories where female hormones are manufactured may conceivably absorb enough hormones to cause breast swelling and other unwanted (for men) effects. Something of the same thing is true in women. Female hormones do play a part in breast development but you can't flood the body (male or female) with these substances and not produce undesirable effects. Perhaps as you say, something should be done to help flat-chested women but as yet there is no completely safe and effective way to give nature a boost.

Q. Is there any way to hide the tell-tale line that shows up in bifocals?

A. At least one optical manufacturer supplies seamless bifocals. The usual dividing line between the far- and near-vision part of the lens is smoothed out so that there is no visible difference between the upper and lower part of the lens. Although the in-between area isn't corrective, neither does it create a disturbing factor in the wearer's vision.

Safety Is Stressed By Education Board

The Garrett County Board of Education has voted to establish a county-wide bus safety council, create a full-time position of transportation supervisor and require a fourth inspection of all county school buses each year.

Superintendent of Schools Willard L. Hawkins said these decisions were made at a board meeting here, last Thursday. Ordinarily the board meets on the second Tuesday of each month and had held its regular meeting September 8, two days before the tragic accident in which seven pupils were killed at Mt. Lake Park.

At the meetings, the school board first reviewed the various school bus safety recommendations which had been made the previous day in the report of the Garrett county grand jury.

Supervisor Named

Hawkins explained that the board wants Robert Martin, shop teacher at Southern High school, to serve as the first full-time supervisor of transportation. The problems is to get a teaching replacement for Mr. Martin. In August, another shop teacher resigned to accept employment in Montgomery county so that there already is one vacancy.

The new county-wide bus safety council will hold its first meeting Wednesday, September 30. It will include representatives from all parent-teacher associations, civic groups and service clubs, one of the three county commissioners, one of the three school board members, one of the county's representatives in the Maryland General Assembly and a state trooper.

Inspection Added

Present state law requires three inspections of every school bus each school year. The school board now is adding a fourth inspection. The bus which stalled on the B. & O. crossing to precipitate the recent tragic accident had been inspected just before school started.

Greater emphasis on driver training for school bus operators also was recommended by the school board. Martin will implement this proposal when he assumes duties as supervisor of transportation.

Review Other Recommendations

The Board members reviewed other recommendations of the grand jury relative to school transportation.

It was indicated that flasher lights to be installed on the top of each school bus would be a $12,000 item which would have to be financed by the County Commissioners.

Mr. Hawkins said the Department of Motor Vehicles had been asked to supply assistance for surprise periodic spot checks of buses for mechanical defects. Bus evacuation drills are already planned and steps taken to eliminate overloading of buses. He said principals were notified the first few days of school urging them to report overcrowded conditions.

Every extra bus put on the road means a budget item of approximately $4,000 annually, it was explained. Campbell's bus had a capacity of 36 passengers but was carrying only 27 pupils.

It was pointed out in respect to recommendation of avoiding grade crossings that everything practical already had been done until such time as the overpass at the Weber crossing was completed.

In studying further aspects of the safety program the board approved more rigid requirements in selection of drivers; approved a policy of refusing further extensions of bus routes on side dirt roads to pick up one or two children; requested the railroad to place a watchman at the Loch Lynn and Weber crossings during hours when school buses cross; to retire all buses that have been in service for ten years if inspectors so recommend; study the need for possible changes in safety devices for buses; approved a program for several "abandon the bus" drills on school grounds during year; recommended to bus drivers that consideration be given to "School Bus patrols"; directed maintenance supervisor to carry out at least three day long safety meetings with school custodians dealing with fire, playground and school hazards.

Mr. Hawkins said his request to place a traffic officer at the Center street school when school buses load and unload had received full support from Mayor and Council of Oakland.

Before adjourning board members gave a unanimous vote of confidence to the many "loyal and faithful" school bus drivers and extended fullest sympathy to bereaved families.

Dr. Ralph Calandrella, of Kitzmiller, is president of the Garrett County Board of Education. Other members are George Edwards, of Grantsville, and Maurice Brookhart, of Oakland.

Meanwhile, Maryland Commissioner of Motor Vehicles John R. Jewell said that he wants his department given the responsibility of inspecting all school buses and licensing their drivers in a special classification.

To Conduct Revival

The Friendsville chapel will be conducting a series of revival meetings, it was announced by Rev. R. A. Temple, pastor. The services began Tuesday evening and will continue until further announcement, at 8 p. m. The speaker is F. B. Pernell, from Canton, Ohio.

WE FORD DEALERS HAVE JUST COME BACK FROM DETROIT AND WE'RE TELLING YOU...

"We've seen the Falcon and OH BOY!"

GET READY . . . for the nicest surprise of a motoring lifetime. We have seen and driven the New-size Ford—the Ford Falcon —and we're really excited. What's it like? Listen—

1. An altogether "new look" for the American road. This New-size Ford will be the easiest car in the world to earn. But is it "economy" looking? Stubby looking? Not on your life!

2. More head room, leg room and hip room than you can imagine! You get full-width, full-cushion seats. Texas-size people will be completely at ease, with hats on. And if six of you want to go places with luggage, no one will be left standing on the corner. The ride? Just plain wonderful!

3. No jut-out as you enter. The "dog-leg," that projecting windshield pillar in the doorway, is gone. Door openings are generously wide in both 2- and 4-door models.

4. The finest visibility you ever had from an automobile. The Falcon lets you see the whole world up front, all the cars behind you and the traffic light above. Yet you're out of the sun, front seat and back.

5. Steers, parks, stops so effortlessly, no power assists necessary. This is the nimblest car you ever drove. It shoehorns into "impossible" parking spots, corners curves like a sportster. You don't need power brakes or steering. But you can have the Falcon's own 2-speed Fordomatic Drive.

6. Single-unit construction, like the Thunderbird's. Body and frame are one rock-solid unit, virtually immune to rattles. The front fenders are bolted on for inexpensive replacement. The grille is non-rusting aluminum. Large areas of the Falcon understructure are zinc-coated to prevent rust. Everything's designed to cut motoring costs. Your tires . . . insurance . . . everything.

7. Built in the U.S. for U.S. roads—the world's most experienced new car. Tested for 3 years and 3 million miles, a whole fleet of new Falcons is now on a final Experience Run traveling every mile of numbered U.S. highway, to show you exactly what the Falcon will do, what it will save, in your area!

8. Amazing new gas records! The new Falcons are averaging up to 30 miles a gallon of regular gas, with oil consumption zero.

9. The engine is up front where the engine belongs. And what an engine it is! It's Ford's newest, short-stroke "6." Yet there is not one thing experimental or untried about it—and it's mounted up front for greater safety and stability. Because it's water-cooled, you get safe, sure hot-water heating that never "steals" from your gas economy.

10. The purchase price is your first big saving! We can tell you this much now—the new Ford Falcon will be priced so low that you'll always wonder how Ford ever packed so much car into so few dollars! And you get the benefit of service everywhere, from every Ford Dealer in the world.

We have ordered our Falcon stock to the limit, so we hope to have enough to go around. And we're taking orders now. Come in! We will give you the latest facts about the Falcon.

Fred spends about 1,000 hours each year in school. When he graduates from high school he will have sat in classrooms for 12,000 hours.

Plus homework Miss Harkins assigned nine pages of science today. Mr. Brent expects a book report tomorrow. And so it goes every school day—every year.

Don't let Fred's crowded school roster worry you. He is getting an education—the fine education every American child is entitled to. Let Fred's empty spiritual roster worry you. He is spending ZERO hours in Church School. He is getting NO religious education. And his tragedy is shared by MILLIONS OF AMERICAN YOUTH.

A new kind of homework is needed. By friendly encouragement, by sincere interest, by the example of our own families in faithful church life—we must inspire the Freds and their parents to take advantage of the spiritual opportunities that America's churches offer.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a stronghouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of the community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH I. FOREMAN

Bible Material: Malachi.
Devotional Reading: I John 1:5-9.

The Long Pull

Lesson for September 27, 1959

THE SAME thing never happens twice. But the same kind of thing happens over and over in the history of mankind. Man is the same sort of creature everywhere you find him, and all the gadgets and inventions of the past 300 years have not changed him very much. So you might expect the same kind of situation or problem to turn up again and again in the long story of man on this planet.

Dr. Foreman

One of these might be called the Run-Down Situation. We could call it the Problem of the Rut. It is the state of things when nothing of great importance is happening as far as we can see, when one day is about like most other days. In fact, it's the way life looks to many people over 40. The great thrills are over, death is nowhere yet in sight, there is nothing to do but to keep on plodding as patiently as possible.

For the Long Pull

The prophet Malachi lived in such times. This last book of the Old Testament comes from a time of disillusionment, weariness and tedium. The great thrill of coming home from exile was over long since—more than one hundred years, in fact. Nobody had seen a miracle, no Moses was in sight. The Jews in Palestine, where Malachi preached, had once been all excited about being able to come back in peace to Jerusalem to build a temple and to worship the true God. But as time went on people became tired of the endless series of sacrifices, even the priests became bored with the whole thing. People stopped coming to the temple. The priests did not think of carrying religion to the people, and the country was sinking deeper and deeper into religious indifference and moral decay. There were many religious observances, but not much heart-religion.

In this situation Malachi preached. He did not have the dramatic power of Amos nor the tenderness of Hosea nor the majestic world-vision of Isaiah . . . and this very day Malachi is nobodys' favorite prophet. Nevertheless what he said then seems to fit our day remarkably well. For he was giving his people hints for what we might call "Religion for the Long Pull."

Do Better

Malachi's recipe for doing God's will, as a nation, was simple and will always work. He did not propose anything new or startling. What he recommended, in a nutshell, was doing the good things better—the good things they were already doing in a half-hearted, discouraged sort of way. They had priests, men of God they were called. BE men of God! was Malachi's word for them. Take your responsibilities, get out there and teach the people, don't live selfish secluded lives. (This in modern terms would be a plea both for better ministers and for better schools.)

Then Malachi spoke of supporting the law. The expression "law-abiding" is not exactly thrilling, even to law-abiding people; but Malachi laid it on the line: You will never make any progress so long as you keep breaking the laws that you know. A nation of law-breakers is headed for a breakdown itself.

Further, Malachi did not fail to mention those two institutions, the church and the home. Put him into modern language, and we can hear him saying, better churches make better homes! Better homes make better churches! What was happening to homes in those days, this prophet says, grieved God himself.

No Short-Cuts

Quack medicines always sell, because people want to get well of their troubles right away, they can't wait. Quack religion "sells," too, and for the same reason. People would be glad for God to "pass a miracle" and bring that better world right down from the clouds. They wish the "day of the Lord" would come. Anything at all to save themselves trouble. Malachi has no comfort for such persons. He believed there could be a better Jerusalem; but it would come only if God's people wanted it enough to work for it.

ETERNAL PEACE

This subject of peace certainly is not a foreign term to the world today. Almost everyone seems to be anticipating the peace that will come to the earth when Jesus Christ sets up His temporal Kingdom officiated by the Jews However the majority of mankind do not seem to realize that the world is not headed for peace, in fact it is headed for serious trouble, a direct result of sin. The truth is that the world is about to plunge into the dark caverns of the tribulation period—a terrible time of sorrow, referred to in both the Old and New Testament. This will be the worst time the world has ever known. No world war could ever compare with the devastating judgment of this period.

However, even in the face of all the imminent calamities and impending judgments, Jesus gives us the promise of peace. Not world-wide peace, but peace of mind and soul. The consolation of knowing that regardless of what may take place on this old terra firma, we have made ourselves ready for his coming. In the 14th chapter of John, verse 27, Jesus speaks these words. Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you, not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. Here Jesus compares the peace he gives with that which the world gives. You do not have to be a student of history to know that down through the ages. Time and time again men have cried peace, but there was no peace. Any peace that the world has to offer is only of a temporary nature and soon passes into oblivion when the storm clouds of a war ominously gather above and threaten the world once more.

The peace that Jesus gives, on the other hand, is eternal peace. When an individual receives that peace and consolation in his soul, he ceases to fret and worry about the world conditions. This deep settled peace from God not only gives us and individual rest of soul in this short hour of life, but also grants us peace throughout eternity. Anyone will admit that man is not the condition of the world today. It is full of fears about war fears about the financial conditions of our country, and fearsome omens of what tomorrow may bring to this world filled with anxiety. Jesus can still send peace to those hungry souls that will receive it. No one can have this peace of soul unless he has received the spirit of Christ and unless its influence causes him to have the implicit trust in Jesus Christ.
